Packaged Pleasures Gary S. Cross, Robert Proctor, 2014-09-30 From the candy bar to the cigarette records to roller coasters a technological revolution during the last quarter of the nineteenth century precipitated a colossal shift in human consumption and sensual experience Food drink and many other consumer goods came to be mass produced bottled canned condensed and distilled unleashing new and intensified surges of pleasure delight thrill and addiction In Packaged Pleasures Gary S Cross and Robert N Proctor delve into an uncharted chapter of American history shedding new light on the origins of modern consumer culture and how technologies have transformed human sensory experience In the space of only a few decades junk foods cigarettes movies recorded sound and thrill rides brought about a revolution in what it means to taste smell see hear and touch New techniques of boxing labeling and tubing gave consumers virtually unlimited access to pleasures they could simply unwrap and enjoy Manufacturers generated a seemingly endless stream of sugar filled high fat foods that were delicious but detrimental to health Mechanically rolled cigarettes entered the market and quickly addicted millions And many other packaged pleasures dulled or displaced natural and social delights Yet many of these same new technologies also offered convenient and effective medicines unprecedented opportunities to enjoy music and the visual arts and more hygienic varied and nutritious food and drink For better or for worse sensation became mechanized commercialized and to a large extent democratized by being made cheap and accessible Cross and Proctor have delivered an ingeniously constructed history of consumerism and consumer technology that will make us all rethink some of our favorite things
