Media Management Bernd W. Wirtz, 2020-09-11 Digitalization significantly changes the media To cope with this change and to exploit new market opportunities is a major challenge for media corporations Bernd Wirtz provides a valuable guideline for this new world combining theory facts and practice Dr Hubert Burda German publisher and Managing Corporate Partner of Hubert Burda Media Holding KG The media business is subject to substantial change while differences between distinctive media areas are fading away This is due to technical innovation in areas like transmittance of content bearer of content and recording devices but also due to new formats trends and constant change of consumer behavior The textbook Media and Internet Management stays abreast of changes and covers this topic on a well founded and comprehensive basis It makes a valuable contribution to theory and practice in media management and is highly recommendable to media managers Christoph Mohn Chairman of the Supervisory Board Bertelsmann AG The world of media is full of challenges and dynamic conditions for its field The dynamic of this market is accelerated even more by new digital technologies and ongoing globalization This book is an absolute must have for everyone who wants to know more about the basics conditions and requirements of modern media management The analytical clearness and structure make this publication highly relevant for students but also for managers Urs Rohner Chairman of the Board of Directors Credit Suisse Group AG Media Management is a textbook but a very welcome newcomer for students and teachers as it fills a market gap for good educational material in this rapidly evolving field. It is concise, simple but not simplistic and contains a contemporary overview of concepts and tools for media managers. Prof. Dr. Bożena I. Mierzejewska, Editor of The International Journal on Media Management, Fordham University, New York, summed up with his second edition: Wirtz managed to strengthen the outstanding position of his publication Media Management. His textbook shines because of its content, analytical clearness and the high relevance for business practice without losing its academic background. With the second edition, this book has established its position in the field of media business as the leading standard reference book in Germany. It is suitable for business students, lectures as well as managers who can gain magnificent information from it. Prof. Dr. Wolfgang Fritz, Director of the Institute of Marketing, Braunschweig University of Technology, Germany, Honorary Professor at the Institute of Business Administration, University of Vienna, Austria.

Digital Business Models Bernd W. Wirtz, 2019-04-02. The spread of the Internet into all areas of business activities has put a particular focus on business models. The digitalization of business processes is the driver of changes in company strategies and management practices alike. This textbook provides a structured and conceptual approach allowing students and other readers to understand the commonalities and specifics of the respective business models. The book begins with an overview of the business model concept in general by presenting the development of business models, analyzing definitions of business models and discussing the significance of the success of business model management. In turn, Chapter 2 offers insights into and explanations of the business model concept and provides the underlying approaches and ideas behind business models. Building on these foundations, Chapter 3 outlines the fundamental aspects of the digital economy. In the following chapters, the book examines various core models in the business-to-consumer (B2C) context. The chapters follow a 4 C approach that divides the digital B2C businesses into models focusing on content, commerce, context and connection. Each chapter describes one of the four models and provides information on the respective business model types, the value chain, core assets and competencies as well as a case study. Based on the example of Google, Chapter 8 merges these approaches and describes the development of a hybrid digital business model. Chapter 9 is dedicated to business-to-business (B2B) digital business models. It shows how companies focus on business solutions such as online provision of sourcing, sales, supportive collaboration and broker services. Chapter 10 shares insight into the innovation aspect of digital business models, presenting structures and processes of digital business model innovation. The book is rounded out by a comprehensive case study on Google Alphabet that combines all aspects of digital business models. Conceived as a textbook for students in advanced undergraduate courses, the book will also be useful for professionals and practitioners involved in business model innovation and applied researchers.

Planning for Community-based Disaster Resilience Worldwide Adenrele Awotona, 2016-10-14. We are witnessing an ever increasing level and intensity of disasters from Ecuador to Ethiopia and beyond, devastating millions of ordinary lives and causing long term misery for vulnerable populations. Bringing together 26

case studies from six continents this volume provides a unique resource that discusses in considerable depth the multifaceted matrix of natural and human made disasters It examines their bearing on the loss of human and productive capital the conduct of national policies and the setting of national development priorities and on the nature of international aid and bilateral assistance strategies and programs of donor countries In order to ensure the efficacy and appropriateness of their support for disaster survivors international agencies humanitarian and disaster relief organizations scholars non governmental organizations and members of the global emergency management community need to have insight into best practices and lessons learned from various disasters across national and cultural boundaries The evidence obtained from the numerous case studies in this volume serves to build a worldwide community that is better informed about the cultural and traditional contexts of such disasters and better enabled to prepare for respond to and finally rebuild sustainable communities after disasters in different environments The main themes of the case studies include the need for community planning and emergency management to unite in order to achieve the mutual aim of creating a sustainable disaster resilient community coupled with the necessity to enact and implement appropriate laws policies and development regulations for disaster risk reduction the need to develop a clear set of urban planning and urban design principles for improving the built environment s capacities for disaster risk management through the integration of disaster risk reduction education into the curricula of colleges and universities the need to engage the whole community to build inclusive governance structures as prerequisites for addressing climate change vulnerability and fostering resilience and sustainability Furthermore the case studies explore the need to link the existence and value of scientific knowledge accumulated in various countries with decision making in disaster risk management and the relevance and transferability from one cultural context to another of the lessons learned in building institutional frameworks for whole community partnerships

The School Leadership Triangle Paul L. Kimmelman, 2010-03-30 Paul Kimmelman's book is full of interesting thoughts on how to generate successful educational innovations in a policy environment that demands accountability. His blend of on-the-ground experience as a teacher and school administrator coupled with his understanding of change practices in business leads to many fresh insights. Robert C. Granger, President, William T. Grant Foundation. This book provides a rare insightful analysis of the ideas and concerns of national leaders who shaped legislation. Kimmelman's work encourages individuals to embrace a new form of leadership and redesign schools that reflect the economic and social realities of the present and future. Kenneth Arndt, Superintendent, Community Unit School District 300, Carpentersville, IL. Position your school or district for continuous improvement in the 21st century. While educational leaders must be responsive to federal policy mandates, compliance alone will not guarantee continuous school improvement. Leaders must create conditions that foster innovative solutions to perennial problems and engage all educators in systemic reform. Paul L. Kimmelman creates a triangular framework for improving education based on federal policy, compliance, effective leadership, and innovation. With practical examples from business and education, this remarkable book provides a rare glimpse into the thought processes of legislators and policy makers who wrote the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB). Includes contemporary thinking on how leaders can distribute leadership throughout a school or district. Focuses on the critical role of innovation in creating successful reform efforts. The School Leadership Triangle provides leadership teams with a solid foundation for discussing key issues that can lead to substantive improvements in schools and districts while addressing the challenges of federal laws.
