Historiographies of Game Studies Alisha Karabinus, 2025-07-25 Historiographies of Game Studies offers a first of its kind reflection on how game studies as an academic field has been shaped and sustained Today game studies is a thriving field with many dedicated national and international conferences journals professional societies and a strong presence at conferences in disciplines like computer science communication media studies theater visual arts popular culture and others But when did game studies start And what and who is at the core or center of game studies Fields are defined as much by what they are not as by what they are and their borderlands can be hotly contested spaces In this anthology scholars from across the field consider how the boundaries of game studies have been established codified contested and protected raising critical questions about who and what gets left out of the field Over more than two dozen chapters and interviews with leading figures including Espen Aarseth Kishonna Gray Henry Jenkins Lisa Nakamura Kentaro Matsumoto Ken McAllister and Janet Murray the contributors offer a dazzling array of insightful provocations that address the formation propagation and cultivation of game studies interrogating not only the field's pasts but its potential futures and asking us to think deliberately about how academic fields are collectively built die Kinder allein auf McKenzie erlangte einen Bachelorabschluss der Macquarie University einen Masterabschluss der University of Technology in Sydney und er erhielt einen Doktor der Philosophie in Communications der Murdoch University. Derzeit ist er Professor für Media and Cultural Studies an der The New School in New York City. Bekannt ist Wark für seine Abhandlungen im Bereich der Medientheorie, der Critical Theory der Neuen Medien und der Situationistischen Internationale. Seine populärsten Werke sind A Hacker Manifesto und Gamer Theory. Granta 97 Ian Jack, 2007. This issue features new work by the 20 writers that Granta's judges including novelists Edmund White and A.M. Homes have selected as the most interesting new young voices in American fiction. Choice, 2008. 50 Years of Recuperation of the Situationist International McKenzie Wark, 2012-11-28. From Occupy Wall Street activists and corporate adbusters to online hackers and guerilla street artists, the influence of the Situationist International (SI) is written large across our contemporary cultural landscape. Formed in 1957 as a merger of four European avantgarde groups with backgrounds in Marxism and Lettrism, the SI would over the next decade introduce many key intellectual and artistic concepts to us. In 50 Years of Recuperation, critically acclaimed author McKenzie Wark explores how our contemporary understanding of art, politics, and even reality itself has been shaped by these original culture jammers. Freedom of Culture Jorinde Seijdel, 2007. The contemporary public domain, the free space where culture is produced and exchanged, is under pressure. The exchange and distribution of cultural products, content in the form of music, image, or text, is easier in digital society but increasingly hemmed in by corresponding moves towards greater regulation and control: new copyright laws and intellectual property policy. Instead of enjoying a free culture, we are watching the emergence of what Lawrence Lessig calls a permission culture. Simultaneously, as an aspect of broader privatization and regulation processes, private entities are appropriating more and more of public culture and deciding what is made available or publicly accessible. This issue of the Dutch architectural journal Open investigates the root causes of these developments, how they interrelate, and what the implications are for the free production and practice of culture, as well as for the internal dynamics and balance of power in the public domain. I Read where I Am Mieke Gerritzen, Geert Lovink, Minke Kampman, 2011. I read where I am compiles 82 reflections on future forms of reading. New Left Review, 2012. Sensoria McKenzie Wark, 2020-08-18. As we face the compounded crises of late capitalism, environmental catastrophe, and technological transformation, who are the thinkers and the ideas who will allow us to understand the world we live in? McKenzie Wark surveys three areas at the cutting edge of current critical thinking: design, environment, technology, and introduces us to the thinking of nineteen major writers. Each chapter is a concise account of an individual thinker, providing useful context and connections to the work of the others. The authors include Sianne Ngai, Kodwo Eshun, Lisa Nakamura, Hito Steyerl, Yves Citton, Randy Martin, Jackie Wang, Anna Lowenhaupt Tsing, Achille Mbembe, Deborah Danowich, and Eduardo Viveiros de Castro. Eyal Weizman, Cory Doctorow, Benjamin Bratton, Tiziana Terranova, Keller Easterling, Jussi Parikka. Wark argues that we are too often told that expertise is obtained by specialisation. Sensoria connects the themes and arguments across intellectual silos They explore the edges of disciplines to show how we might know the world through the study of culture the different notions of how we create such things and the impact that the machines that we devise have had upon us The book is a vital and timely introduction to the future both as a warning but also as a road map on how we might find our way out of the current crisis
