secondary legislation that are likely to impact the most on the provision of professional services. However, the book goes beyond a mere inventory to ask how EU Internal Market policy could contribute to the optimal legal environment for professional services. A law and economics analysis is employed to investigate the need for specific professional rules, the preferred type of regulator (self or government regulation) and the level (national and/or European) at which regulation should be adopted. As becomes clear, the story of the market for professional services is one of market and government failure; the author is thus left to compare imperfect situations where market failures compete with rent-seeking efforts, the tendency towards over-centralisation and national protectionism. This book offers both an in-depth legal analysis of the EU framework as it applies to professional services as well as a more normative evaluation of this framework based on insights from law and economics scholarship. It will therefore be a valuable resource for all practitioners, policy makers and academics dealing with professional services as well as more generally with questions of quality and self-regulation.

Professional Memoirs, Corps of Engineers, United States Army and Engineer Department at Large, 2003 Revamping Architectural Education

Rajesh Sharma, 2018-06-08 The book that you hold in your hands is a treasure trove of ideas to set into motion a new generation of learning for architects. As the author is a practitioner of this technology called architecture, he has often felt that globally it is the last field of knowledge that still displays vestiges of a holistic renaissance attitude of mind. It has not fallen victim to our global love for economic development above all other considerations and is not always a handmaiden of consumerist culture. Architects are somewhat obsessed with form. Despite this or in spite of it, they combine and harmonize the field of applied arts with the sciences, the attitudes of engineering optimization with the expression of the visual arts, covering subjects as diverse as chemistry and history. India is possibly the world's largest future market for private sector architects today. If we do not adapt our architectural practice, starting with our architectural teaching practices, we run the clear and present danger of becoming extinct in the race for economic development and urbanization which is truly sustainable, resilient, sufficient and equitable. In reading this little gem of a book, the author would urge the reader to look beyond formulae and descriptions and generate an agenda for reform beyond just the curriculum and towards transformation. As Indian society struggles to understand its architects, the profession owes a duty to itself to remain relevant to social needs and aspirations to create a nation of our dreams. And the author hopes that the beginning of that agenda can be found in the pages of this book, interpreted by every reader individually.
