School Bullying and The Legacy of Dan Olweus Vasiliki Artinopoulou, Peter K. Smith, Susan P. Limber, Kyrre Breivik, 2025-01-31 The intellectual and personal history of the late Dan Olweus a pioneer in the field of bullying management and prevention School Bullying and the Legacy of Dan Olweus honours the work and legacy of Dan Olweus a man generally seen as the founding father in the field of bullying management and prevention who initiated a shift in how society educators parents and professionals handle and keep track of the hostility that some children display This book explores how Olweus developed the first widely used questionnaire to survey the issue of bullying and victimisation the Olweus Bullying Questionnaire or OBQ was instrumental in designing the first intervention campaign against school bullying in Norway in the 1980s and developed a multi layered program of intervention the Olweus Bullying Prevention Program OBPP which is used in many countries around the world This book also provides constructive criticisms of his work as well as ways to build on his legacy to reduce the impact of bullying on children and young people Delivering a summative view of his contribution to this research area School Bullying and the Legacy of Dan Olweus discusses topics including Olweus research and practical achievements over three main stages first in Sweden then in Norway and then in later years Uses strengths and limitations of the OBQ and OBPP the views of Olweus on cyberbullying and his influence in Japan and China The definition of bullying bias based bullying and research challenges around the assessment of interventions The view of the school as a complex adaptive system and the contribution of civil society and of laws and policies against bullying Providing an expansive intellectual and personal history of a leader in the field School Bullying and the Legacy of Dan Olweus is an essential read for all parents educators administrators researchers and professionals seeking to understand and prevent bullying in schools around the world

Youth Suicide and Bullying Peter Goldblum, Dorothy L. Espelage, Joyce Chu, Bruce Bongar, 2014-10-15 High profile media reports of young people committing suicide after experiencing bullying have propelled a national conversation about the nature and scope of this problem and the means to address it Specialists have long known that involvement in bullying in any capacity as the victim or as the perpetrator is associated with higher rates of suicidal ideation and behaviors but evidence about which bullying subtype is at greatest risk is more mixed For instance some studies have shown that the association between suicidal ideation and bullying is stronger for targets of bullying than perpetrators However another study found that after controlling for depression the association was strongest for perpetrators Similar disagreement persists with regard to gender disparities relating to bullying and self harm for instance Youth Suicide and Bullying presents an authoritative review of the science demonstrating the links between these two major public health concerns alongside informed discussion and evidence based recommendations The volume provides sound scientifically grounded and effective advice about bullying and suicide at every level national state and community Chapters provide details on models of interpersonal aggression groups at risk for both bullying and suicide such as sexual minorities the role of stigma family school and community based youth bullying and suicide prevention programs and more Each chapter concludes with recommendations for mental health providers educators and policymakers Compiling knowledge from the most informed experts and providing authoritative research based information this volume supports efforts to better understand and thereby reduce the prevalence of victimization and suicide
