Jenlink, 2020-08-24 Teacher Preparation and Practice Reconsideration of Assessment for Learning introduces the reader to a collection of thoughtful research based works by authors that represent current thinking about assessment What we know is that assessments are designed and implemented in educational settings both university based teacher preparation and school based teacher practice in school classrooms that serve to inform and guide teaching and learning We also know that there is a dichotomy between assessment of learning summative and assessment for learning formative that is recognized on a global level in teacher preparation. Importantly, the reported research examines assessment and the application of professional judgment guided by assessment for learning in contrast to the more normalizing assessment of learning that currently pervades the nature of assessment in teacher preparation and practice. There is a need in the work of teaching for assessments that focus on cultural competence and relational sensitivity, communication skills, and the combination of rigor and imagination fundamental to the teaching and learning practices in classrooms. Each chapter focuses on assessment and the preparation and practice of teachers who will enter classrooms to instruct the next generation of students. Chapter One opens the book with a focus on assessment and its relationship to teaching and learning in the classroom, providing the reader with an introduction to the book and an understanding of the role assessment plays in teacher preparation and practice. The authors of Chapters Two Nine present field-based research that examines assessment in teacher preparation and practice. Each chapter offers the reader an examination of assessment in teacher preparation and practice based on formal research that provides the reader with insight into how the research study was conducted, as well as equally important, the findings and conclusions drawn with respect to assessment and teacher preparation and practice. Finally, Chapter Ten presents an epilogue that focuses on the future of assessment in teacher preparation and practice.

Using Grading to Support Student Learning Matt Townsley, 2022-06-22. Using Grading to Support Student Learning offers an accessible foundation for using grading practices to support student learning through classroom assessment. Purposeful, defensible grading and reporting mechanisms cannot be neglected in today's reform climate, and new approaches are needed to understand and refine the roles of homework, formative and summative assessments, and standards across grade levels. Evidence-based and full of illustrative examples, this book bridges research and theory on grading and assessment with classroom practices for pre-service and in-service teachers and fresh perspectives for educational researchers studying grading practices.

Curriculum Leadership by Middle Leaders Kelvin Heng Kiat Tan, Mary Anne Heng, Christina Lim-Ratnam, 2016-08-12. Curriculum Leadership by Middle Leaders focusses on major issues relating to the continuing national and international discourse on curriculum leadership and highlights the vital role of middle leaders in schools. School leadership has focused primarily on first-order change involving school leaders or principals. This book seeks to put the spotlight on second-order change that involves curriculum leadership and professional development support on the part of middle leaders for more sustainable and long-term change in teaching and learning that will influence what happens in classrooms. With timely and thought-provoking contribution from authors who pursue a range of scholarly interests in multiple educational settings, the book is guided by several underlying questions: How might we re-envision curriculum leadership so that it addresses both local and global concerns and aspirations? How might we better grasp how middle leaders understand and respond to the pressures of educational reform initiatives? How might middle leaders transform pressures into possibilities This book will appeal to current teachers those currently undertaking teacher training and students or academics carrying out research in the field of educational leadership

Developing Teachers' Assessment Capacity Christopher DeLuca, Sandra Johnson, 2019-12-13 Given the academic benefits of assessment driven teaching and the growing accountability context of educational systems around the world there is a rapidly developing need to educate teachers in effectively using assessments to promote monitor and report on student learning However assessment has historically been a neglected area in teacher education programmes and empirical research has consistently shown assessment as an area of challenge for many teachers While there is an increased focus across teacher education and professional literature on enhancing the assessment capacity of educators there remains little empirical research on innovative and data based strategies to effectively achieve this goal The purpose of this text is to consolidate existing research on assessment education and to provoke innovative and effective approaches to educating teachers and teachers in training about assessment Given the dearth of relevant research this text also considers the matter of retention and extension of initial assessment learning into teaching careers Combined the articles in this text provide a foundation for novel thinking about developing teachers assessment capacity from pre service to in service contexts This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education O W. James Popham,2013-04-17 When teacher evaluations are fair everyone wins Poor evaluation systems don t just hurt teachers they hurt students too That s why America can t afford to wait for the teacher evaluation problem to be solved To provide balanced accurate and rigorous evaluations that take into account each teacher s particular circumstances only one system can work evidence governed collegial judgment As states and schools scramble to find workable responses to accountability mandates well informed educators can make key contributions Start here with A discussion of common evaluation systems including testing value added models and observations Analysis of federal guidelines and state responses Action steps teachers and school leaders can take to influence policy A clear rationale and strategies for implementing a teacher evaluation model based on human judgment Evaluating America s Teachers demonstrates that the vision is possible effective teacher evaluations that benefit schools as a whole Teachers administrators and policy makers rejoice Here is a single book from a nationally recognized scholar that makes sense of the issues involved with the evaluation of teachers David C Berliner Regents Professor Emeritus Arizona State University Once again Jim Popham has brought insight and clarity to a complex topic that only a person of his stature and expertise could provide Robert J Marzano CEO Marzano Research Laboratory In an effective and diplomatic manner Jim suggests concrete ways policymakers along with local school leaders and teachers can make sure our students are protected from summative teacher evaluation systems that do more harm than good No one should make policy at any level or strive to build a defensible teacher evaluation system without studying this book Rick Stiggins Retired Executive Director Assessment Training Institute
