

KELLOGG ON BRANDING

CREATING, BUILDING AND REJUVENATING YOUR BRAND

MAY 15-20, 2016

OCTOBER 23-28, 2016 // $10,300

Kellogg School of Management, Evanston, Illinois, USA

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This program will help you create and build strong brands. Taught by the people who wrote the book on branding, it combines the latest academic thinking and practical tools. This highly interactive program uses cases, exercises and a simulation to inspire and empower you to elevate your brand.

In this fast-paced, collaborative program, Kellogg faculty members – the acknowledged thought leaders in branding – discuss cutting-edge theories and their practical application. You'll learn how to use marketing and branding to build a strong and enduring business, and you'll gain new insights into the importance and value of a strongly differentiated brand. You'll come away with knowledge and skills you can apply immediately to leverage your brand for increased customer loyalty, competitive advantage and profitability.

"The program offers an overview of branding fundamentals, but is so much more than what I've experienced in other programs – largely because of the number of instructors who've actually managed brands and lead marketing organizations. The advice from multiple seasoned professionals on dealing with executive apathy and budget constraint was unmatched, as was the inclusion of b2b product and service examples."

Kotler, Waldemar Pfoertsch, 2010-05-17 An Ingredient Brand is exactly what the name implies an ingredient or component of a product that has its own brand identity This is the first comprehensive book that explains how Ingredient Branding works and how brand managers can successfully improve the performance of component marketing The authors have examined more than one hundred examples analyzed four industries and developed nine detailed case studies to demonstrate the viability of this marketing innovation The new concepts and principles can easily be applied by professionals In the light of the success stories of Intel GoreTex Dolby TetraPak Shimano and Teflon it can be expected that component suppliers will increasingly use Ingredient Branding strategies in the future Ingredient Branding Philip Kotler, Waldemar Pfoertsch, 2010-09-10

Bel Brand Derek D. Rucker, 2012 The case features Bel Brand's efforts to position its flagship brand The Laughing Cow in the US The challenges in this case are twofold First choose a viable position for a brand after a period of high growth following the South Beach Craze The difficulty here is that the initial driver of the brand's position the South Beach Craze an environmental factor is dwindling and is not sustainable Second the brand was receiving pressure from global stakeholders to try to unify the positioning in the US with the global brand positioning These are both challenges that were faced by the marketing team and raised in the case BRANDING FOR DUMMIES Bill Chiaravalle & Barbara Findlay Schenck, 2007-01-16

Branding the process of building a positive impression of a product or company by linking its name or logo with images or feelings is an essential tool for all businesses Branding For Dummies demystifies the process by which brands are created managed differentiated leveraged and licensed Branding For Dummies shows readers how to apply a dynamic brand creation system that includes templates tools and time tested processes in order to successfully meet business related objectives Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Branding Building a Brand Step by Step Launching Your New Brand The Care and Feeding of Your Brand Protecting Your Brand Unilever's Mission for Vitality David Austen-Smith, 2017 Dove and Axe were two highly successful brands owned by Unilever a portfolio company Dove was a female oriented beauty product brand that exhorted real beauty and not the unachievable standards that the media portrayed In contrast Axe was a brand that purportedly gives men the edge in the mating game Their risqu commercials always portrayed the supermodel type beauty ideal that Dove was trying to change Unilever had always been a company of brands where the consumer knew the brands but not the company but recently there had been the idea to unify the company with an umbrella mission for all of its brands This would turn Unilever into a company with brands potentially increasing consumer awareness and encourage cross purchases between the different brands However this raised questions about the conflicting messages between the brands marketing campaigns most notably between Unilever's two powerhouse brands Dove and Axe The case begins with COO Alan Joje anticipating an upcoming press meeting in New York City to discuss Unilever's current 2005 performance and announce Unilever's decision to create an umbrella mission statement for the company This case focuses on the central question of whether or not consistency between brand messages is necessary or inherently problematic The Unilever s Mission for Vitality case was created to help students and managers develop an appreciation for how the values underlying a marketing campaign can affect and alter an organization s culture The case focuses on how two products and marketing campaigns that express conflicting underlying values as reflected in the Dove Real Beauty and the Axe Effect campaigns within the same corporation can give rise to a number of unintended organizational and marketing complications
