English for academic purposes : learning english through the web Barahona Fuentes, Claudia; Arnó Macià, Elisabet;, 2001 This is a virtual elective course for university students who need to use English in their academic work This means that this subject is not related to a particular degree course engineering biology law etc but it aims to help students develop their language learning skills and at the same time to foster extensive practice in language use with the Internet as the basic learning tool Therefore this is an instrumental course which is essentially practical and emphasizes communication rather than language study. It differs from a traditional language course in that it has been designed basically as a tool to help students learn to learn English. That is to say the syllabus is not based on specific language content graded in terms of difficulty but it is composed of a series of practical activities to encourage students to learn English effectively and independently by choosing materials suited to their level of English and to their learning style. For this reason this course can be taken by students with different levels of English as long as they are familiar with the basic structures of the language and can more or less communicate in English.

Perspectives on Language Learning Materials Development Freda Mishan, Angela Chambers, 2010 Language learning materials development remains a surprisingly under supported aspect of language teaching. This book constitutes a much needed resource in the area aiming to support and advance the craft of materials design. The volume offers a snapshot of the contemporary influences on language learning materials development from diverse perspectives around the globe. These influences include the demands of teaching ESOL in Britain and Ireland, the impact of Corpus Linguistics, the needs of young learners and of diverse worldwide audiences, the development of intercultural competence as well as the integration of L2 acquisition research. Contributors to the volume are drawn from a broad range of teaching research and materials development backgrounds. The book includes some chapters based on papers given at the MATSDA Materials Development Association 2008 conference.

Task-Based Instruction in Foreign Language Education Betty Lou Leaver, Jane R. Willis, 2004-12-30 Task based language instruction has proven to be highly effective but surprisingly underutilized. Theory can only go so far and hands on experience can greatly speed and enhance the learning of a second language. Nineteen talented instructors who have successfully implemented task based programs explain the principles behind the programs, discuss how problems were resolved and share details on class activities and program design. Each chapter takes the reader through the different stages in designing and setting up such programs, adjusting them and appraising and testing them in normal classroom conditions. This book covers TBI syllabus and program design and is based on actual classroom experience. Any one of the courses or programs discussed can serve as models for others. Many of the contributors are highly respected practitioners who are presenting their programs for the first time while others are regular participants in today's ongoing dialogue about teaching methods. Full of concrete adaptable models of task based language teaching drawn from a number of countries and eleven different languages including Arabic, Chinese, Czech, English, French, German, Korean, Spanish and Ukrainian. Task Based Instruction in Foreign Language Education presents proven real world practical courses and programs and includes web based activities. It demonstrates useful and practical ways to engage students far beyond what can be learned from reading textbook dialogue TBI involves the student directly with the language being taught via cognitively engaging activities that reflect authentic and purposeful use of language resulting in language learning experiences that are pleasurable and effective For all instructors seeking to help their learners enhance their understanding and grasp of the foreign language they are learning Task Based Instruction in Foreign Language Education is a rich and rewarding hands on guide to effective and transformative learning

RELC Journal ,1989 Collins Cobuild Student's Grammar ,1997 Doing Task-Based Teaching - Oxford Handbooks for Language Teachers Jane Willis,David Willis,2013-04-02 Task based teaching has created enormous interest among teachers in recent years But how does the idea of designing tasks e g discussions problems games that encourage learners to use real language work in practice This book explains the basic principles behind task based learning and teaching and gives practical examples of how to make it work in different teaching situations
