Functions Of Newspaper Headlines:

Truth to Tell John Morley, 1998-01-01 Phraseological Substitutions in Newspaper Headlines Sylvia Jaki, 2014-07-15

The major purpose of newspaper headlines is to trigger the reader's interest. A popular way to achieve this goal is the use of phraseological modifications. Based on previous findings from various linguistic disciplines, this book provides an interdisciplinary approach to shed light on the reception of substitutions like More than Meats the Eye. It develops an empirical methodology for investigating the complex cognitive processes involved using a large sample of authentic examples for illustration. Along these lines, this volume not only shows what associations readers make when they encounter a lexical substitution and what factors facilitate the recognition of the canonical form. It also addresses the question of how meaning is constructed in terms of Conceptual Integration Theory and establishes an experimentally supported model of interpretation. This multifaceted perspective renders Phraseological Substitutions in Newspaper Headlines More than Meats the Eye relevant to scholars and advanced students from a wide range of linguistic areas such as phraseology, cognitive linguistics, psycholinguistics, and humour research, but also to interested journalists.

Civics and Government James Dick, Jeffrey Blais, Peter Moore, 1996. Is economic freedom a necessary condition for political freedom? What can the government do about unemployment? Why would governments limit international trade? Students use questions such as these to help them make essential connections between economics and civics government.

Memory and Attitudes as a Function of Headline Types Williams B. Milbrath, 1992 Editing the Day's News George C. Bastian, 1923 Language and Linguistics in a Complex World Beatrix Busse, Nina Dumrukci, Ingo Kleiber, 2023-03-06. This book is a collection of the ICAME41 conference proceedings covering a range of topics in corpus linguistics. Busse et al. Explore contemporary trends and new directions in the field. Papers focusing on historical linguistics include Bohmann et al.'s study on the passive alternation in 19th and 20th century American English, whilst Iyeiri and Fukunaga investigate negation in 19th century American missionary documents. Bohmann's emphasis is on the Contrastive usage profiling method to represent online discourse data. Empirical studies on discourse analysis include Brooks' analysis of how the UK press portrays obesity, Coats' generating ASR transcripts to look at dialect data from YouTube, and Gonzalez Cruz's pragmatic considerations of Anglicisms entering Canarian Spanish digital headlines. Schneider uses statistical models to look at language comprehension in an eye tracking corpus.

Newspaper World, 1929 Fourth Estate, 1923 Agricultural Lime News Bulletin, 1920 Introduction to the Smart Court System-of-Systems Engineering Project of China Jianfeng Xu, Fuhui Sun, Qiwei Chen, 2022-06-30. This book discusses the overall development and use of smart courts from the perspective of system of systems engineering (SoSE) and its methodology. It analyzes the relationships between the components, structures, environments, and functions of various systems and illustrates the basic approaches to system design, specification, integration, operation, and management. As the general introductory book of the China Smart Court Development Series, this book provides an overview of the development.

of Chinese people's courts in the application of information technology over the past two decades and outlines the key areas of exploration in the Smart Court SoSe project centered on the development practices during the 13th Five Year Plan period. It also forecasts the future development and evolution of the smart court information system. The key topics introduced in the book including the overall design of complex information systems, integrated interconnection networks, based system integration, judicial big data, quality control and analytics services, various types of AI enabled judicial services, quality and efficiency oriented operation and maintenance services for large scale information systems etc. all came from the basic research of information science and theories as well as the systems engineering practices of the Smart Court SoSe project. They not only reflect the latest findings on systems engineering and architecture methods in China and overseas but also reveal many innovative approaches to SoSE methods and paradigms which can be used for the design and continued development of smart courts at a new and higher starting point. It is believed that they can also serve as good examples and reference points for the development in IT application and complex information systems engineering in other sectors.
