12) Suggest an enquiry question or hypothesis that the students might have proposed for their investigation.

(3)

How ~~are~~ effective is coastal management in protecting the coastline from erosion?

The first part of this response is unclear although there is a basic idea of 'trouble to drive there', which could be developed to make the point clear and garner a second mark for the point. The second part of this response is explicit about the rocks and the subsequent risks involved, 2 marks.

The most serious things emphasised by using vague terms such as 'troubles' or 'trouble' - why might it be 'troubles'?

This answer uses the material at the top of the page and presents it as a legitimate question, 3 marks.

Always use the resource.

13) Suggest two problems that the students' choice of locations may have caused.

(4)

1. It's quite a long way to the beach and the 1st location is a bit more difficult to get to. Location B is more accessible. There may be more rocks at the beach.

2. Location B seems to be a bit more difficult to get to. There is a rocky coastline which looks dangerous. Like A looks a bit easier to get to as it is more accessible.

The most serious things emphasised by using vague terms such as 'troubles' or 'trouble' - why might it be 'troubles'?

14) Explain how the use of Ordnance Survey (OS) maps might have helped the students choose their two beach locations and the three sites on each of those beaches to carry out the profiles.

(4)

OS maps allow you to see the profile of the land and so that you can choose a location where there is a water point in the sea. You can get a small beach profile and choose a point in the sea. You can also see the profile of the land and so that you can choose a location where there is a water point in the sea. You can also see the profile of the land and so that you can choose a location where there is a water point in the sea.

There is obviously some familiarity with OS maps and several points are made, although some of these are slightly unclear. The answer is rather quiet by the previous references to water when, certainly in some cases, rocks probably needed to be seen. As with many candidates, the distinction between site and location is not made clear in this.
