Atlas of American Military History James C. Bradford, 2003 From the Battle of Bunker Hill to the Battle of Midway from Vietnam to the Persian Gulf from George Washington to Douglas MacArthur The Atlas of American Military History covers the full span of America at war exploring the personalities methods strategies and historical contexts of each conflict

Following a loose chronological framework this book examines every significant military campaign and war in which the United States has been engaged both domestically and internationally from the Revolutionary War to the present. Written by trusted military historians each section combines analysis with a strong narrative account and an assessment of major campaigns and battle, taking up the American viewpoint as well as those of its allies and opponents. Military methods, weaponry and communication technology receive detailed treatment in the text and in the maps. The center point of the book is its stunning color maps including historical military cartography, specially commissioned maps and graphic reconstructions. These maps show troop, ship and aircraft movements of major campaigns and battles, the theaters of fighting, the balance of forces and the wider strategic picture. It also features hundreds of illustrations, appendixes and a glossary and information on military commanders, events, treaties, code names and civilian personalities. Edited by noted historian James Bradford. The Atlas of American Military History is a beautiful and informative volume for history buff and general reader alike.

Social Policy in a Developing World Rebecca Surender, Robert Walker, 2013-01-01. This volume makes a valuable contribution to the dynamic and expanding field of scholarship on social policy in developing countries. In combining analytical frameworks used in comparative social policy analysis with an examination of key areas of policy and provision in selected countries, it will be a key resource for anyone interested in current debates in international social policy and welfare. Nicola Yeates, Open University, UK. There is increasing interest in the significance of social policy in the management of welfare and risk in the developing world. This volume provides a critical analysis of the challenges and opportunities facing social protection systems in the global south and examines current strategies for addressing poverty and welfare needs in the region. In particular, the text explores the extent to which the analytic models and concepts for the study of social policy in the industrialised North are relevant in a developing country context. The volume analyses the various institutions, actors, instruments and mechanisms involved in the welfare arrangements of developing countries and provides a study of the contexts, development and future trajectory of social policy in the global South. The book's comparative and interdisciplinary approach will be of interest to anyone involved in social policy research and analysis and current welfare debates.

Freeing God's Children Allen D. Hertzke, 2006. With the dawning of the 21st Century a new human rights movement burst unexpectedly onto the global stage. Initially motivated by concern for persecuted Christians around the world, unlikely alliances emerged and the movement grew to encompass a broader quest for human rights. Now American evangelicals provide grassroots muscle for causes joined by a wide array of activists from Jews to Catholics, feminists to Pentecostals, African American leaders to Tibetan Buddhists in the most important human rights movement since the end of the Cold War. Given unprecedented insider access, author Allen D. Hertzke charts the rise of this faith-based movement for global human rights and tells the compelling story of the personalities and forces, clashes and compromises, strategies and protests that shape it. In doing so, Hertzke shows that by bringing attention to issues like religious persecution, Sudanese atrocities, North Korean gulags and sex trafficking, the movement is shaping American foreign policy and international relations in ways unimaginable a decade ago Working Together with God to Shape the New Millennium Gary Corwin, Kenneth B. Mulholland, 2000-06-01 This collection of presentations from the 1999 IFMA EFMA EMS Triennial Conference explores the incredibly ambitious purpose and challenging task of Working Together with God to Shape the New Millennium Topics include Biblical Foundations for the New Millennium Working Together Strategically and Leadership Needed for the New Millennium Shaping the Future of Power Lina Benabdallah, 2020-07-20 China's rise to power is one of the biggest questions in International Relations theory IRT and foreign policy circles Although power has been a core concept of IRT for a long time the faces and mechanisms of power as it relates to Chinese foreign policymaking has changed the contours of that debate The rise of China and other powers across the global political arena sparks a new visibility for different kinds of encounters between states particularly between China and other Global South states These encounters are more visible to IR scholars because of the increasing influence that rising powers have in the international system This book shows that foreign policy encounters between rising powers and Global South states do not necessarily exhibit the same logics behaviors or investment strategies of Euro American hegemony Instead they have distinctive features that require new theoretical frameworks for analysis Shaping the Future of Power probes the types of power mechanisms that build diffuse and project China's power in Africa One must take into account the processes of knowledge production social capital formation and skills transfers that Chinese foreign policy directs toward African states to fully understand China's power building mechanisms The relational power framework requires these elements to capture both the material aspects and ideational people centered aspects to power By examining China's investments in human resource development programs for Africa the book reveals a vital yet undertheorized aspect of China's foreign policy making Wealth, Health, and Hope in African Christian Religion Stan Chu Ilo, 2017-11-22 Wealth Health and Hope in African Christian Religion offers a portrait of how contending narratives of modernity in both church and society play out in Africa today through the agency of African Christian religion It explores the identity and features of African Christian religion and the cultural forces driving the momentum of Christian expansion in Africa as well as how these factors are shaping a new African social imagination especially in providing answers to the most challenging questions about poverty wealth health human and cosmic flourishing It offers the academy a good road map for interpreting African Christian religious beliefs and practices today and into the future Globalization and the Politics of Resistance B. Gills, 2000-04-07 The paradox of globalization is that it both weakens and activates social forces of resistance This book establishes the centrality of the political in our understanding of globalization and explores the new strategies of resistance emerging on local national regional and global scales Its impressively wide ranging set of contributors engage in re thinking what practices now constitute viable political strategies in the world economy focusing on popular responses to neoliberal globalization and the rearticulation of society politics and the state NHS Next Stage Review Great Britain.
