The Computer Supported Collaborative Learning (CSCL) Conference 2013, Volume 1 ISLS,2014-04-23 The Computer Supported Collaborative Learning CSCL Conference 2013 proceedings Volume 1 Education in Singapore Yew-Jin Lee,2022-04-06 This edited book is a comprehensive resource for understanding the history as well as the current status of educational practices in Singapore It is a one stop reference guide to education and educational issues concerns here There are three sections Part 1 provides a sectorial overview of how education has been organized in this country such as preschool special needs primary and secondary and adult education divisions In Part 2 contributors critically delve into issues and policies that are pertinent to understanding education here such as underachievement leadership language education assessment and meritocracy to question what Part 1 might have taken for granted Part 3 contains the largest number of contributors because it offers a scholarly examination into specific subject histories This section stands out because of the comparative rarity of its subject matter history of Physical Education Art Music Geography Education etc in Singapore

Toward a Better Future Fredriksen Birger,Sing Kong Lee,Chor Boon Goh,2008-04-18 Toward a Better Future provides a comprehensive analysis of education development in Singapore since 1965 giving particular attention to the strategic management that has enabled Singapore to transform its education and training system from one similar to that of many Sub Saharan African countries four decades ago into one of the world s best performing systems It is one of a pair of concurrently published books presenting materials originally developed for a 2006 study tour to Singapore and Vietnam for senior education officials from Cameroon Ethiopia Ghana Lesotho Madagascar and Mozambique The second book An African Exploration of the East Asian Education Experience presents five country studies as well as regional comparative analyses highlighting insights gained during the study tour and putting them in the context of Sub Saharan Africa Together the two books aim to foster knowledge exchange between Sub Saharan African and East Asian countries on good practices in the design and implementation of education policies and programs By facilitating the cross country fertilization of ideas between two regions with relatively limited contact in the past these books fill a clear gap in the current literature on development practice in education RELC Research in Language, 1968-1981 Regional Language Centre,1982 Brookings Papers on Education Policy: 2003 Diane Ravitch,2010-12-01 In 1983 the seminal report issued by the National Commission on Excellence in Education A Nation at Risk charged that most American high schoolers were following a general course of instruction choosing neither the college preparatory track nor the vocational option This pattern the report complained had fostered low expectations and a curricular hodge podge of classes that failed to prepare students for college or work. The commission called on states to implement academic requirements for all students regardless of background including four years of English and three years each of science, mathematics, and social studies. Students should not be sorted by their presumed future destinations; the commission reasoned but should be offered an equal opportunity to get a high quality education to fit them either for postsecondary education or the modern workplace. Two decades after the commission called on states to reform the high school environment and raise graduation requirements, the Brown Center on Education Policy at the Brookings Institution convened a group of prominent scholars to explore the current state of America's high schools, focusing on new research about reforming these institutions that are so important in the lives of the nation's adolescents. The questions considered reflected the diversity of the participants and covered a variety of areas: historical, international, sociological, and practical. Data gathered by the U.S. Department of Education show students today are taking many more advanced courses in mathematics and the sciences while at the same time test scores do not reflect the increases in enrollments in academic courses. In addition, large score gaps remain among students from different social groups. Reform of the high schools must take into account the elementary and middle schools that prepare students and the postsecondary institutions to which students aspire. Adolescent culture and students' views about school and academic work play important roles in student achievement, as do the family and contemporary society in shaping of adolescent behavior. No matter their background, all participants agreed that the key to a successful high school rests with the extent to which it recognizes and strengthens its commitment to the intellectual growth of its students.

Putting Higher Education to Work Emanuela di Gropello, Prateek Tandon, Shahid Yusuf, 2011-11-03. This book assesses whether East Asian higher education is providing research and innovation for growth and delivering its graduates with the skills necessary for productivity in the labor market. It also seeks to determine how higher education systems could be improved in order to deliver these outcomes. It features new data and diagnostic material to better understand labor markets: what skills firms want and what skills graduates have; shows how countries can become more innovative and describes in detail the key areas of reform needed for higher education to be a larger engine of East Asian growth. It will be of interest to policymakers, governments, academia, donors, NGOs, students, researchers, and lower and middle income countries looking to break the middle income trap.

International Guide to Student Achievement John Hattie, Eric M. Anderman, 2013-01-17. The International Guide to Student Achievement brings together and critically examines the major influences shaping student achievement today. There are many often competing claims about how to enhance student achievement, raising the questions of What works and What works best. World renowned bestselling authors John Hattie and Eric M. Anderman have invited an international group of scholars to write brief empirically supported articles that examine predictors of academic achievement across a variety of topics and domains. Rather than telling people what to do in their schools and classrooms, this guide simply provides the first ever compendium of research that summarizes what is known about the major influences shaping students academic achievement around the world Readers can apply this knowledge base to their own school and classroom settings The 150 entries serve as intellectual building blocks to creatively mix into new or existing educational arrangements and aim for quick easy reference Chapter authors follow a common format that allows readers to more seamlessly compare and contrast information across entries guiding readers to apply this knowledge to their own classrooms their curriculums and teaching strategies and their teacher training programs

Engaging in Educational Research Raqib Chowdhury, Mahbub Sarkar, Foez Mojumder, M Moninoor Roshid, 2018-10-01 This book reflects the paradigm shift now manifesting in Bangladesh s education system by highlighting recent empirical research It shares essential insights by presenting research conducted on diverse aspects of current day education in Bangladesh including policy and governance equity access and participation curriculum and pedagogy assessment and education programs and projects run by NGOs Further it offers a platform for these unique studies to be showcased and disseminated to scholars and researchers from developing and developed countries alike and represents a unique reference resource for the education research community in Bangladesh Asia and all over the world With Foreword from Professor Serajul Islam Choudhury Singapore Bulletin ,2000-06

Comparative Sociology of Examinations Fumiya Onaka, 2019-03-28 Contemporary societies are constructed constricted and constrained by various series of examinations Governments of both Western and non Western countries tend to conduct detailed multi layered and continuous systems of tests or examinations International tests such as PISA and TIMSS have also been introduced to compare the relative performances of learners within diverse educational institutions across different countries Examinations therefore provide a methodological pivot for comparing a range of societies They enable us to contrast the West and the East the North and the South tribal and mass society ancient and postmodern civilization and so on Comparing parallel societies from across Asia the Middle East Europe and North America this book proposes fundamental transitions in sociological research from system to process and from communication to composition through intensive studies on examinations It uses ethnographies interviews questionnaires documents statistics and big data analyses to make comparisons on broad scales of time and space In so doing it suggests hypotheses encompassing different kinds of societies in human history including those in the Axial Age and the Modern Ages Learning from Singapore Pak Tee Ng, 2017-01-12 Learning from Singapore tells the inside story of the country s journey in transforming its education system from a struggling one to one that is hailed internationally as effective and successful It is a story not of the glory of international test results but of the hard work and tenacity of a few generations of policy makers practitioners and teacher trainers Despite its success Singapore continues to reform its education system and is willing to deal with difficult issues and challenges of change Citing Singapore s transformation author Pak Tee Ng highlights how context and culture affect education policy formulation and implementation Showing how difficult education reform can be when a system needs to negotiate between competing philosophies significant trade offs or paradoxical positions this book explores the successes and struggles of the Singapore system and examines its future direction and areas of tension The book also explores how national education systems can be strengthened by embracing the creative tensions generated by paradoxes such as the co existence of timely change and timeless constants centralisation and decentralisation meritocracy and compassion and teaching less and learning more Learning from Singapore brings to the world the learning from Singapore what Singapore has learned from half a century of educational change and encourages every education system to bring hope to and secure a future for the next generation New Sci Discovery Lower Sec Tb 2 E/na ,2008 PISA 2015 Results (Volume I) Excellence and Equity in Education

OECD,2016-12-06 The OECD Programme for International Student Assessment PISA examines not just what students know in science reading and mathematics but what they can do with what they know Results from PISA show educators and policy makers the quality and equity of learning outcomes achieved elsewhere Developing Deep Knowledge in Middle School Mathematics Sergei Abramovich,Michael L. Connell,2021-05-10 This textbook is for prospective teachers of middle school mathematics It reflects on the authors experience in offering various mathematics education courses to prospective teachers in the US and Canada In particular the content can support one or more of 24 semester hour courses recommended by the Conference Board of the Mathematical Sciences 2012 for the mathematical preparation of middle school teachers The textbook integrates grade appropriate content on all major topics in the middle school mathematics curriculum with international recommendations for teaching the content making it relevant for a global readership The textbook emphasizes the inherent connections between mathematics and real life since many mathematical concepts and procedures stem from common sense something that schoolchildren intuitively possess This focus on teaching formal mathematics with reference to real life and common sense is essential to its pedagogical approach In addition the textbook stresses the importance of being able to use technology as an exploratory tool and being familiar with its strengths and weaknesses In keeping with this emphasis on the use of technology both physical manipulatives and digital commonly available educational software it also explores e g the use of computer graphing software for digital fabrication In closing the textbook addresses the issue of creativity as a crucial aspect of education in the digital age in general and in mathematics education in particular
