Silencing The Past Power And The Production Of History 20th Anniversary Edition:

Silencing the Past Michel-Rolph Trouillot, 2015-03-17 Now part of the HBO docuseries Exterminate All the Brutes written and directed by Raoul Peck The 20th anniversary edition of a pioneering classic that explores the contexts in which history is produced now with a new foreword by renowned scholar Hazel Carby Placing the West's failure to acknowledge the Haitian Revolution the most successful slave revolt in history alongside denials of the Holocaust and the debate over the Alamo Michel Rolph Trouillot offers a stunning meditation on how power operates in the making and recording of history This modern classic resides at the intersection of history anthropology Caribbean African American and post colonial studies and has become a staple in college classrooms around the country In a new foreword Hazel Carby explains the book's enduring importance to these fields of study and introduces a new generation of readers to Trouillot's brilliant analysis of power and history's silences

Haiti's Literary Legacies Kir Kuiken, Deborah Elise White, 2021-11-04 The essays gathered in Haiti's Literary Legacies unpack the theoretical historical and political resonance of the Haitian revolution across a multiplicity of European and American Romanticisms and include discussion of Haitian British French German and U.S. American traditions Often referred to as the only successful slave revolt in history the revolution that forged Haiti at once fulfilled challenged and ultimately surpassed Enlightenment conceptions of freedom and universality in ways that became crucial to transnational Romanticism yet scholars and historians of Romanticism are only beginning to take the measure of its impact This collection works at the intersection of Romantic and Caribbean studies to move that project forward showing the myriad ways that literatures of the Romantic period respond to and are transformed by the Revolution in Haiti Demonstrating the Revolution's centrality to romantic writing Haiti's Literary Legacies urges an enlarged understanding of Romanticism and of its implications for the political historical and ecological genealogies of the present

Debating Contemporary Approaches to the History of Science Lukas M. Verburgt, 2024-01-11 Debating Contemporary Approaches to the History of Science explores the main themes problems and challenges currently at the top of the discipline's methodological agenda In its chapters established and emerging scholars introduce and discuss new approaches to the history of science and revisit older perspectives which remain crucial Each chapter is followed by a critical commentary from another scholar in the field and the author's response The volume looks at such topics as the importance of the global digital environmental and posthumanist turns for the history of science and the possibilities for the field of moving beyond a focus on ideas and texts towards active engagement with materials and practices It also addresses important issues about the relationship between history of science on the one hand and philosophy of science history of knowledge and ignorance studies on the other With its innovative format this volume provides an up to date authoritative overview of the field and also explores how and why the history of science is practiced It is essential reading for students and scholars eager to keep a finger on the pulse of what is happening in the history of science today and to contribute to where it might go next

Introduction to Public History

Cherstin M. Lyon, Elizabeth M. Nix, Rebecca K. Shrum, 2017-03-06 Introduction to Public History Interpreting the Past Engaging Audiences is a brief foundational textbook for public history It is organized around the questions and ethical dilemmas that drive public history in a variety of settings from local community based projects to international case studies This book is designed for use in undergraduate and graduate classrooms with future public historians teachers and consumers of history in mind The authors are practicing public historians who teach history and public history to a mix of undergraduate and graduate students at universities across the United States and in international contexts This book is based on original research and the authors first hand experiences offering a fresh perspective on the dynamic field of public history based on a decade of consultation with public history educators about what they needed in an introductory textbook Each chapter introduces a concept or common practice to students highlighting key terms for student review and for instructor assessment of student learning The body of each chapter introduces theories and basic conceptual building blocks intermixed with case studies to illustrate these points Footnotes credit sources but also serve as breadcrumbs for instructors who might like to assign more in depth reading for more advanced students or for the purposes of lecture development Each chapter ends with suggestions for activities that the authors have tried with their own students and suggested readings books and websites that can deepen student exposure to the topic

The Darker Angels of Our Nature Philip Dwyer, Mark Micale, 2021-08-12 In The Better Angels of Our Nature Harvard psychologist Steven Pinker argued that modern history has witnessed a dramatic decline in human violence of every kind and that in the present we are experiencing the most peaceful time in human history But what do top historians think about Pinker's reading of the past Does his argument stand up to historical analysis In The Darker Angels of our Nature seventeen scholars of international stature evaluate Pinker's arguments and find them lacking Studying the history of violence from Japan and Russia to Native America Medieval England and the Imperial Middle East these scholars debunk the myth of non violent modernity Asserting that the real story of human violence is richer more interesting and incomparably more complex than Pinker's sweeping simplified narrative this book

Thompson, 2024-01-31 This book introduces a more collaborative and reflexive way of producing news that incorporates concepts of cultural identity and cultural positioning of both journalists and sources using a feminist approach to inclusion of all voices and perspectives This text proposes a feminist collaborative model of journalism that incorporates critical reflexivity requiring journalists not only to be aware of their own cultural positionality but also that of their sources as a means of producing more authentic and balanced news coverage The model is intended for use by journalists as well as journalism education programs to educate future journalists on how to effectively serve audiences with scrupulously investigated reported and crafted stories Chapters explore journalism during the Obama and Trump years current journalistic trends and alternative media and feature topics such as fake news racism sexism in news production and content and immigration and media Thompson addresses issues of power and privilege amongst journalists and marginalized groups and how these implicate power dynamics of journalism practice and reinforce social inequality particularly relating to race and gender This book is ideal for advanced undergraduate and graduate students of journalism and media studies as well as scholars journalists and media practitioners Archives , 2023-11-23 Chapter 23 is published open access under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 license and is free to read or download from Oxford Academic Archives have never been more complex expansive or ubiquitous Gargantuan in scale and conception yet never sufficient or complete the archive is on the one hand a space for empowerment and expression and on the other an instrument of constraint and repression The way in which the archive is structured made available and developed plays a central role in how societies define their values and ethics Archives Power Truth and Fiction is a wide ranging and innovative volume which highlights the vibrancy and urgency of the field by bringing together contributors from many different disciplines and backgrounds including archivists historians literary scholars digital researchers and creative practitioners The archive of the twenty first century is a fluid and multi vocal space that challenges at every point the hegemonic and positivistic assumptions which shaped traditional ideas of the archive The massive growth of digital archives further complicates the picture Archives Power Truth and Fiction is designed to help the reader draw threads through the rapidly changing and shifting multiverse of archives The interdisciplinary and international contributors use a wide range of examples from the Middle Ages to the Windrush scandal to unsettle preconceptions encourage debate and draw out issues generated by the perpetual motion of the archive The Permanence of Anti-Roma Racism Margareta Matache, 2025-12-29 Anti Roma racism one of Europe's oldest and most enduring racisms has been neglected in mainstream theories and discourse This book situates anti Roma racism within national and intra continental histories and global scholarship exploring its specific and universal underpinnings and manifestations and its interconnectedness with other systems of oppression The Permanence of Anti Roma Racism offers a theoretical perspective on the roots of anti Roma racism tracing its genesis in the system of racialized slavery in the principalities of Moldavia and Wallachia and the politics of killings expulsions and entry bans across Europe in the late Middle Ages Furthermore employing theoretical frameworks of structural oppressions anti colonial and decolonial thought racialization and intersectionality this book analyzes how deep historical legacies continue to shape anti Roma racism as an enduring structural form of oppression This scholarly work is essential for policymakers practitioners scholars and students working on the sociology of racialization global race and structural racisms and European history It defines categorizes and unpacks the processes and mechanisms of racialization and anti Roma racism shedding light on a system of oppression too often left unspoken Steeped in the Blood of Racism Professor Nancy K. Bristow, 2020-04-01 Minutes after midnight on

May 15 1970 white members of the Jackson city police and the Mississippi Highway Patrol opened fire on young people in front of a women's dormitory at Jackson State College a historically black college in Jackson Mississippi discharging buckshot rifle slugs a submachine gun carbines with military ammunition and two 30 06 rifles loaded with armor piercing bullets Twenty eight seconds later two young people lay dead another 12 injured Taking place just ten days after the killings at Kent State the attack at Jackson State never garnered the same level of national attention and was chronically misunderstood as similar in cause This book reclaims this story and situates it in the broader history of the struggle for African American freedom in the civil rights and black power eras The book explores the essential role of white supremacy in causing the shootings and shaping the aftermath By 1970 even historically conservative campuses such as Jackson State where an all white Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning had long exercised its power to control student behavior were beginning to feel the impact of the movements for African American freedom Though most of the students at Jackson State remained focused not on activism but their education's racial consciousness was taking hold It was this campus police attacked Acting on racial animus and with impunity the shootings reflected both traditional patterns of repression and the new logic and rhetoric of law and order with its thinly veiled racial coding In the aftermath the victims and their survivors struggled unsuccessfully to find justice Despite multiple investigative commissions two grand juries and a civil suit brought by students and the families of the dead the law and order narrative proved too powerful No officers were charged no restitution was paid and no apologies were offered The shootings were soon largely forgotten except among the local African American community the injured victimized once more by historical amnesia born of the unwillingness to acknowledge the essential role of race in causing the violence

The Author as Cannibal Felisa Vergara Reynolds, 2022 In the first decades after the end of French rule Francophone authors engaged in an exercise of rewriting narratives from the colonial literary canon In The Author as Cannibal Felisa Vergara Reynolds presents these textual revisions as figurative acts of cannibalism and examines how these literary cannibalizations critique colonialism and its legacy in each author's homeland Reynolds focuses on four representative texts Une tempête 1969 by Aimé Césaire Le temps de Tamango 1981 by Boubacar Boris Diop L'amour la fantasia 1985 by Assia Djebar and La migration des coeurs 1995 by Maryse Condé Though written independently in Africa and the Caribbean these texts all combine critical adaptation with creative destruction in an attempt to eradicate the social political cultural and linguistic remnants of colonization long after independence The Author as Cannibal situates these works within Francophone studies showing that the extent of their postcolonial critique is better understood when they are considered collectively Crucial to the book are two interviews with Maryse Condé which provide great insight on literary cannibalism By foregrounding thematic concerns and writing strategies in these texts Reynolds shows how these rewritings are an underappreciated collective form of protest and resistance for Francophone authors

Beyond Racial Capitalism Caroline Shenaz Hossein, Sharon D. Wright Austin, Kevin Edmonds, 2023-02-28 Knowledge making in the field of alternative economies has limited the inclusion of Black and racialized people's experience In Beyond Racial Capitalism the goal is close that gap in development through a detailed analysis of cases in about a dozen countries where Black people live and turn to co-operatives to manage systemic exclusion Most cases focus on how people use group methodology for social finance However financing is not the sole objective for many of the Black people who engage in collective business forms it is about the collective and the making of a Black social economy Systemic racism and anti Black exclusion create an environment where pooling resources in kind and money becomes a way to cope and to resist an oppressive system This book examines co-operatives in the context of racial capitalism a concept of political scientist Cedric J Robinson's that has meaning for the African diaspora who must navigate often secretly and in groups the landmines in business and society Understanding business exclusion in the various cases enables appreciation of the civic contributions carried out by excluded racial minorities These social innovations by Black people living outside of Africa who build co-operative economies go largely unnoticed If they are noted they are demoted to an informal activity and rationalized as having limited potential to bring about social change The sheer determination of Black diaspora people to organize and build co-operatives that are explicitly anti racist and rooted in mutual aid and the collective is an important lesson in making business ethical and inclusive

Media Literacy, Equity, and Justice Belinha S. De Abreu, 2022-07-20 Offering a new and thought provoking look at media literacy education this book brings together a range of perspectives that address the past present and future of media literacy equity and justice Straddling media studies literacy education and social justice education this book comes at a time when the media's role as well as our media intake and perceptions are being disrupted As a result questions of censorship free speech accountability abound and nuance is often lost This book is an antidote to the challenges facing media literacy education chapters offer a careful examination of important and hot topics including AI authenticity representation climate change activism and more Addressing the continually evolving role of media and its impact on our society and shared knowledge base the volume is organized around five themes Misinformation and Disinformation Media Representation Civic Media Politics and Policy Eco Media Literacy Education and Equity Ethical Quandaries and Ideologies and Emerging Technologies Ideal for courses on media literacy and new literacies this book furthers the conversation on the ways literacy and social justice are connected to educational communities in local and global contexts

Collateral Damages Nadia El-Shaarawi, 2025-04-29 More than twenty years after the US led invasion and occupation of Iraq there has yet to be a meaningful public reckoning with the war Collateral Damages brings Iraqi stories which have been systematically excluded from dominant Western narratives of the war to the fore Drawing on a decade of ethnographic fieldwork Nadia El Shaarawi traces Iraqis' experiences of the 2003 invasion and the violence and displacement that followed from urban exile in Cairo to efforts to rebuild by pursuing third country resettlement often in the very country responsible for them becoming refugees Iraqis' theorizations of war and displacement illuminate how prevailing histories and memories of both the Iraq War and the larger Global War on Terror can be understood as imperial unknowing epistemological and relational practices by which imperial power produces conditions of ignorance hubris obfuscation and a willful turning away Iraqis' accounts draw attention to that which empire prefers to keep hidden and offer possibilities for knowing the social and political effects of war differently

Public History Thomas Cauvin, 2022-05-18 The second edition of Public History: A Textbook of Practice offers an updated guide to the many opportunities and challenges that public history practitioners can encounter in the field Historians can play a dynamic and essential role in contributing to public understanding of the past and those who work in historic preservation in museums and archives in government agencies as consultants as oral historians or who manage crowdsourcing projects need very specific skills This book links theory and practice and provides students and practitioners with the tools to do public history in a wide range of settings This new edition reflects how much the field of public history has changed in the past few years with public history now being more established and international New chapters have therefore been added on the definition history and international scope of public history as well as on specific practices and theories such as historical fictions digital public history and shared authority Split into four sections this textbook provides approaches methodologies and tools for historians and other public history practitioners to play a bigger role in public debates and public productions of historical interpretations Part I focuses on the past present and future of public history Part II explores public history sources and offers an overview of the creation collection management and preservation of materials archives material culture oral history or historical sites Part III deals with the different ways in which public history practitioners can produce historical narratives through different media including texts fictions audio visual productions exhibitions and performances Part IV discusses the opportunities and challenges that public history practitioners encounter when working with different collaborators Whether in public history methods courses or as a resource for practicing public historians this book lays the groundwork for making meaningful connections between historical sources and popular audiences

.....And the Dogs Were Silent/.....Et les chiens se taisaient Aimé Césaire, 2024-06-28 Available to readers for the first time Aim C saire s three act drama And the Dogs Were Silent written during the Vichy regime in Martinique in 1943 and lost until 2008 dramatizes the Haitian Revolution and the rise and fall of Toussaint Louverture as its heroic leader This bilingual English and French edition stands apart from C saire s more widely known 1946 closet drama Following the slave revolts that sparked the revolution Louverture arrives as both prophet and poet general and visionary With striking dramatic technique C saire retells the revolution in poignant encounters between rebels and colonial forces guided by a prophetic chorus and Louverture s steady ethical and political vision In the last act we reach the hero s betrayal his imprisonment and his last stand against the lures of compromise C saire s masterwork is a strikingly beautiful and brutal indictment of colonial cruelty and an unabashed celebration of Black rebellion and victory

Expression in Contested Public Spaces Spoma Jovanovic, 2021-08-06 Expression in Contested Public Spaces Free Speech and Civic Engagement addresses how people express themselves and their differences in ways that amplify the many voices central to the mission of democracy This book investigates in what ways and in what discursive forms people interrupt the status quo or unjust practices to advance positive social change The chapters feature research activity engaged scholarship and creative expression to boldly frame the issues of free speech amid attempts to chill and silence expressions of dissent in order to demonstrate how community organizers activists and scholars use their voices to advance peace and justice befitting the human condition Scholars and students of communication and the social sciences will find this book particularly interesting

Technologies for Intuition Alaina Lemon, 2018 Cold War paranoia can only partly describe or explain the 20th century dreams of telepathy The nightmare shades of mind control and crowd frenzy have long alternated with the pastels of love and collective effervescence Both extremes materialized over time along tangled circuits of wars events and interactions staged across borders since at least the 19th century The Cold War and its fences fed fascination with the workings and the failures of contact and communication Opposed sides accused each other of jamming media and spinning propaganda even while they mirrored fantasies of connection This book contrasts and connects Russian and American channels and means to check channels with special attention to intersections of the telepathic with the theatrical It theorizes links between historically layered struggles over technologies for intuition and dominant models of communication commonsense or theoretical It demonstrates that theories resting on models of individual sincerity and of dyadic communication warp understandings of the

USSR and Russia and thus of the USA as well It proposes that attention to the means of making and checking contact that is to the phatic functions in language offers a way out of the impasses and paradoxes of paranoia Provided by publisher

Forced Migrants in Nordic Histories Johanna Leinonen, Miika Tervonen, Hans Otto Frøland, Christhard Hoffmann, Seija Jalagin, Heidi Vad Jønsson, Malin Thor Tureby, 2025-06-23 Forced Migrants in Nordic Histories sheds light on the often overlooked histories of forced migrants in Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden during the 20th and 21st centuries It offers the first comparative region wide volume focused specifically on the histories of refugees and other groups of forced migrants across the Nordic countries Nordic historiographies have long tended to marginalise or omit the presence of these migrants producing a perception of forced migration as something new or exceptional This volume challenges that notion by uncovering the long and varied histories of forced migration within between to and from the Nordic region In doing so it repositions forced migrants as integral to the shaping of Nordic societies The volume includes contributions from and about all the five Nordic countries It examines both national specificities and shared regional patterns offering insights into how forced migration has been regulated remembered and represented in public discourses across borders The chapters engage with a wide range of forced migrant groups such as wartime evacuees refugees deportees Holocaust survivors and more recent asylum seekers Central to the volume is the recognition of forced migrants as historical actors Drawing on oral histories personal testimonies and archival research the book foregrounds the agency of forced migrants themselves countering their frequent portrayal as passive or voiceless By tracing historiographical trends and shifting discourses regulatory frameworks and memory practices Forced Migrants in Nordic Histories contributes a vital historical dimension to contemporary debates on forced migration
