Karl, 2002-04-22 An historical analysis of how the Chinese constructed their understandings of their place in the world in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The Political Ecology of Drylands Sören Köpke, 2018 As climate change is becoming more severe drought is threatening to disrupt agrarian societies This book investigates the connections between drought and social conflict over land and water It is a comparative study of eight dryland regions in Sub saharan Africa South and East Asia and South America S ren K pke looks at different agricultural production systems and analyses environmental conflicts linked to drought Through the political ecology approach the author highlights the power imbalances underpinning these conflicts A central finding Development strategies decide if a conflict escalates or not The book contributes to the on going debate on the link between climate change and conflict New Left Review, 2011 Beijing from Below Harriet Evans, 2020-05-01 Between the early 1950s and the accelerated demolition and construction of Beijing's old city in preparation for the 2008 Olympics the residents of Dashalar one of the capital city's poorest neighborhoods and only a stone's throw from Tian anmen Square lived in dilapidated conditions without sanitation Few had stable employment Today most of Dashalar's original inhabitants have been relocated displaced by gentrification In Beijing from Below Harriet Evans captures the last gasps of subaltern life in Dashalar Drawing on oral histories that reveal memories and experiences of several neighborhood families she reflects on the relationships between individual family neighborhood and the state poverty and precarity gender politics and ethical living and resistance to and accommodation of party state authority Evans contends that residents' assertion of belonging to their neighborhood signifies not a nostalgic clinging to the past but a rejection of their marginalization and a desire for recognition Foregrounding the experiences of the last of Dashalar's older denizens as key to understanding Beijing's recent history Evans complicates official narratives of China's economic success while raising crucial questions about the place of the subaltern in history The Class and Gender Politics of Chinese Online Discourse Yanning Huang, 2024-06-07 This book offers an in depth study of the quasi political self deprecating and parodic buzzwords and memes prevalent in Chinese online discourse Combining discourse analysis with in depth audience research among the young internet users who deploy these buzzwords in on and offline contexts the book explores the historical and social implications of online wordplay for sustaining or challenging the contemporary social order in China Yanning Huang adopts a combination of media and communications social anthropology and socio linguistic perspectives to shed light on various forms of agency enacted by different social groups in their embracing negotiation of or disengagement from online buzzwords before addressing how the discourses of online wordplay have been co opted by corporations and party media

Offering a rigorous and panoramic analysis of the politics and logics of online wordplay in contemporary China and providing a critical and nuanced analytical framework for studying digital culture and participation in China and elsewhere this book will be an important resource for scholars and students of media and communication studies Internet and digital media studies discourse analysis Asian studies and social anthropology Exhibiting the Past Kirk A. Denton, 2013-12-31 During the Mao era China's museums served an explicit and uniform propaganda function underlining official Party history eulogizing revolutionary heroes and contributing to nation building and socialist construction With the implementation of the post Mao modernization program in the late 1970s and 1980s and the advent of globalization and market reforms in the 1990s China underwent a radical social and economic transformation that has led to a vastly more heterogeneous culture and polity Yet China is dominated by a single Leninist party that continues to rely heavily on its revolutionary heritage to generate political legitimacy With its messages of collectivism self sacrifice and class struggle that heritage is increasingly at odds with Chinese society and with the state's own neoliberal ideology of rapid paced development glorification of the market and entrepreneurship In this ambiguous political environment museums and their curators must negotiate between revolutionary ideology and new kinds of historical narratives that reflect and highlight a neoliberal present In Exhibiting the Past Kirk Denton analyzes types of museums and exhibitionary spaces from revolutionary history museums military museums and memorials to martyrs to museums dedicated to literature ethnic minorities and local history He discusses red tourism a state sponsored program developed in 2003 as a new form of patriotic education designed to make revolutionary history come alive and urban planning exhibition halls which project utopian visions of China's future that are rooted in new conceptions of the past Denton's method is narratological in the sense that he analyzes the stories museums tell about the past and the political and ideological implications of those stories Focusing on official exhibitionary culture rather than alternative or counter memory Denton reinserts the state back into the discussion of postsocialist culture because of its centrality to that culture and to show that state discourse in China is neither monolithic nor unchanging The book considers the variety of ways state museums are responding to the dramatic social technological and cultural changes China has experienced over the past three decades 中国博物馆的变迁, 2018-11-06 G2 The China Order Qin Han Polity Mandate of Heaven Westphalia System 19 1958 1962 3000 4500 5 10 1 2 3 1949 960 1279 kleptocracy CFR 2005 Al Jazeera AP BBC CNN The Financial Times The New York Times The Wall Street Journal fw gatech.edu Historical Abstracts Eric H.
