

Math 7 Honors Common Core

Mathematics

Prince George's County Public Schools

2015 - 2016

Course Code:

Prerequisites: Successful completion of Math 6 Honors Common Core

This course is the complement to Math 6 Honors. It is the second half of the middle school math program. It continues with the remaining Grade 7 standards not taught in Math 6 Honors and all of the Grade 8 standards. It provides the trajectory toward a more formalized understanding of mathematics that occurs at the high school level that began in Math 6 Common Core. Students draw, construct, describe, and analyze geometrical figures and the relationships between them; apply understandings of statistical variability and distributions by using random sampling, making inferences, and investigating chance processes and probability models. In addition to this, students in Math 7 Honors extend their understanding of rational numbers to develop an understanding of irrational numbers; connect ratio and proportional reasoning to lines and linear functions; define, evaluate, compare, and model with functions; build understanding of congruence and similarity; understand and apply the Pythagorean Theorem; and extend their understanding of statistics and probability by investigating patterns of association in bivariate data. Students in Math 7 Honors will have assignments that reflect the inherent rigor of honors level courses. Included will be long-term projects and problem-based assignments that offer students the opportunity to directly apply mathematics at a more complex level.

In all mathematics courses, the Mathematical Practice Standards apply throughout each course and, together with the content standards, prescribe that students experience mathematics as a coherent, useful, and logical subject that makes use of their ability to make sense of problem situations.

INTRODUCTION:

Typically in a Math class, to understand the majority of the information it is necessary to continuously practice your skills. This requires a tremendous amount of effort on the student's part. Each student should expect to dedicate 1 - 2 hours of studying for every hour in class. Some hints for success in a Math class include: attending class daily, asking questions in class, and thoroughly completing all homework problems with detailed solutions as soon as possible after each class session.
