Global health and the new world order Jean-Paul Gaudillière,Claire Beaudevin,Christoph Gradmann,Anne M.

Lovell,Laurent Pordié,2020-10-06 The phrase global health appears ubiquitously in contemporary medical spheres from academic research programs to websites of pharmaceutical companies In its most visible manifestation global health refers to strategies addressing major epidemics and endemic conditions through philanthropy and multilateral private public partnerships This book explores the origins of global health a new regime of health intervention in countries of the global South born around 1990 examining its assemblages of knowledge practices and policies The volume proposes an encompassing view of the transition from international public health to global health bringing together historians and anthropologists to analyse why new modes of interventions on the life of others recently appeared and how they blur the classical divides between North and South The contributors argue that not only does the global health enterprise signal a significant departure from the postwar targets and modes of operations typical of international public health but that new configurations of action have moved global health beyond concerns with infectious diseases and state based programs The book will appeal to academics students and health professionals interested in new discussions about the transnational circulation of drugs bugs therapies biomedical technologies and people in the context of the neo liberal turn in development practices

Mastering Discourse Paul A. Bové, 1992 Mastering Discourse gathers and elaborates more than a decade of thought on the problems of the intellectual in contemporary society by one of the most distinguished critics writing on these issues today From Derrida and Foucault to Kristeva and Irigaray Paul A Bov looks at the practices of literary and cultural theory and discusses the way theorists have produced their institutional positions and politics Examining some of the major theories developed out of and in relation to the problems of discourse Bov analyzes the limited successes and failures of these efforts Mastering Discourses offers an account of why theory fails to deal adequately with the politics of discursive cultures and warns that unless critics take much more seriously their own disciplinary inscriptions they will always reproduce structures of power and knowledge that they claim to oppose Moreover Bov argues they will not fulfill the main role of the post enlightenment intellectual namely to respond effectively to the present through new theoretical and historical formulations that address the changing world of transnational capitalism and its neoliberal ideologies

R.D. Laing: His Work and its Relevance for Sociology (RLE Social Theory) Martin Howarth-Williams, 2014-08-07 This study by a sociologist provides the most rigorous and comprehensive review to appear so far of R D Laing s work and theoretical development Martin Howarth Williams considers that Laing s insights into such controversial issues as the divided self and the politics of the family are of an importance that transcends their basis in clinical psychiatry and that they have a special significance for sociology Using the Progressive Regressive Method of Jean Paul Sartre the author illuminates the internal coherence of Laing s aims through the various stages of his work and shows how his ideas are shaped by consistent philosophic presuppositions and influences underlying his work To give as complete an account as possible of Laing s interests and to relate them to the broad stream of his thought the author explores Laing s involvement in other non psychiatric realms especially politics religion and eastern mysticism Material has been secured from a wide variety of recent sources which include interviews films TV appearances and the author s own personal recollections of informal talks given by Laing In the final section of the book Martin Howarth Williams isolates the concept of Intelligibility which he demonstrates to be the unifying theme central to Laing s theory and shows how this can be used as the basis for a critique of recent developments in sociological theory as well as a starting point towards a genuinely dialectical sociology

Religion and the Discourse on Modernity Paul-François Tremlett, 2009-01-08 The point of departure for this book is the debate about whether religious studies should privilege explanation or understanding Engaging with contemporary scholarship in the field Tremlett argues that the study of religions has always involved the conflation of facts and values and indeed has been structured in advance by the value saturated discourse on disenchanted modernity He argues that phenomenological and post modern approaches to religions lack both theoretical and methodological coherence and in their stead proposes a Marxist approach to religions that is at once empirical and informed by values pertaining to social justice freedom and autonomy
