large body of work suggesting that the deductive and object oriented paradigms complement each other The object oriented paradigm is characterized by its view of the data whereby information is grouped around objects with complex internal structure accessed via methods The declarative paradigm is centered around the idea that data manipulation must be done through a declarative logic based language It is hoped that these two aspects brought together in one system will provide an integrated framework for a new database technology The DOOD conference brings together researchers and developers in the fields of deductive and object oriented databases to stimulate technical discussion and accelerate the integration of the two technologies This volume contains 28 contributed papers selected from 98 submissions and two invited papers by world renowned researchers
