The Perfect Score Project Debbie Stier, 2014-02-25 The Perfect Score Project is an indispensable guide to acing the SAT as well as the affecting story of a single mom's quest to light a fire under her teenage son. It all began as an attempt by Debbie Stier to help her high school age son Ethan who would shortly be studying for the SAT. Aware that Ethan was a typical teenager i.e. completely uninterested in any test and that a mind boggling menu of test prep options existed she decided on his behalf to sample as many as she could to create the perfect SAT test prep recipe. Debbie's quest turned out to be an exercise in both hilarity and heartbreak as she took the SAT seven times in one year and in between went to school on standardized testing. Here she reveals why the SAT has become so important the cottage industries it has spawned what really works in preparing for the test and what is a waste of time. Both a toolbox of fresh tips and an amusing snapshot of parental love and wisdom colliding with teenage apathy. The Perfect Score Project rivets. In the book Debbie does it all wrestles with Kaplan and Princeton Review enrolls in Kumon navigates khanacademy.org meets regularly with a premier grammar coach takes a battery of intelligence tests and even cadges free lessons from the world's most prestigious and expensive test prep company. Along the way she answers the questions that plague every test prep rookie including When do I start? Do the brand name test prep services really deliver? Which should I go with a tutor an SAT class or self study? Does test location really matter? How do I find the right tutor? How do SAT scores affect merit aid and What's the one thing I need to know? The Perfect Score Project's combination of charm authority and unexpected poignancy makes it one of the most compulsively readable guides to SAT test prep ever and a book that will make you think hard about what really matters.

Every Child an Achiever David W. Russell, 2002 Motherhood, Education and Migration Taghreed Jamal Al-deen, 2019-09-19 This book draws together analysis of class gender ethnicity and processes of migration in the context of family school relationships. It provides an original analysis of the role of class as gendered and ethnicised in the explanation of the reproduction of educational inequalities. This book's analysis of class is developed through insights into how class gender ethnicity and religion are interrelated and connected to patterns of advantages and disadvantages in transnational flows. It explores parental involvement in children's education in the migratory context as a key site for the analysis of social class positioning and repositioning focusing on a group of migrant Muslim mothers living in Australia. This book sheds lights on the interconnection of class gender ethnicity and religion embedded in migrant mothers' lives and the roles of these facets in regard to the education of their children. Delving into Muslim migrant mothers' practices and beliefs concerning their involvement provides new understanding of how support of children's education is shaped by the process of migration along with the neoliberal reforms of education systems and in particular repositioning of social class. Sources, 2003
