Law and Development in Asia Gerald Paul McAlinn, Caslav Pejovic, 2012-03-15 This book fills a gap in the literature by presenting a comprehensive overview of the key issues relating to law and development in Asia Over recent decades experts in law and development have produced multiple theories on law and development none of which were derived from close study of Asian countries and none of which fit very well with the existing evidence of how law actually functioned in these countries during periods of rapid economic development The book discusses the different models of law and development including both the developmental state model of the 1960s and the neo liberal model of the 1980s and shows how development has worked out in practice in relation to these models in a range of Asian countries including Japan Korea China Thailand Singapore India and Mongolia Particular themes examined include constitutionalism judicial and legal reform labour law the growing importance of private rights foreign investment and the international law of development Reflecting the complexity of Asian law and society both those who believe in an Asian Way which is radically different from law and development in other parts of the world as well as those who believe the arc of law and development is essentially universal will find support in this book

Lecture Notes In International Trade: An Undergraduate Course Priyaranjan Jha,2020-09-21 This book provides a comprehensive discussion of the economics of International Trade Key questions related to why countries trade how they gain from trade and how international trade can produce winners and losers are answered The last of these questions is related to the connection of trade to inequality in the distribution of income The book uses both theoretical models and empirical evidence to answer these questions It also provides a discussion of the economics of labor migration and international capital mobility The book also provides a detailed discussion of the welfare implications of various trade policy instruments such as tariffs quotas export subsidies etc This is followed by a discussion of the process of actual policymaking in democratic societies which goes into the realm of political economy The focus here is on the political economy of trade policy It also provides a discussion of the economics of preferential trading agreements and a history of multilateral trading agreements under the aegis of GATT General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and its evolution into the World Trade Organization WTO

The Exceptional Manager Rick Delbridge,Lynda Gratton,Gerry Johnson,The AIM Fellows,2006-03-30 Most businesses face the choice of either competing on the low road of cost or the high road of innovation and value Much the same goes for national economies and the UK is no exception But how do businesses and the people who manage them go beyond the policy prescription and the easy exhortation to make that shift to manage change and go well beyond business as usual This ground breaking book the combined insight of some of the best minds in management grouped together in the Advanced Institute of Management Research does just that It presents a clear and crisp analysis of the context and the challenge and offers managers a range of ideas on how to develop the competences practices and values that can make a difference It is essential reading for policy makers analysts academics and managers to be who want to make a different future
