assets finance and profit situations of a company true and fair view fair presentation principle These basic principles could be reflected in several key points of the both accounting standards whose differences are clarified in this study Furthermore an essential key point of CFS namely the basis of consolidation contains enterprises included in the consolidation and capital consolidation methods is illuminated with a concrete example Hereby the relation between the control influence of the parent enterprise on its sub entities and the correspondent capital consolidation methods are studied Voluntary Implementation of IFRS in German Non-Listed Companies Nadine Wiese, 2009-11 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2008 in the subject Business economics Accounting and Taxes grade 1.0 University of the West of England Bristol Bristol Business School course Accounting in Context language English abstract This report addresses the question whether unlisted German companies should voluntarily adopt IFRS Benefits for internal as well as external users are discovered including facilitated international comparability and higher quality of financial reports Furthermore a comparison reveals that equity figures and volatility are higher under IFRS than under German GAAP It is discovered that national economic and political circumstances significantly influence reporting practices and thus quality and comparability Combined with fair value accounting which is of lower reliability as there are no active markets from which values can be derived IFRS not necessarily seems to be a better alternative compared to German GAAP Moreover because IFRS is primarily intended for listed companies and investors needs IFRS only appears to be an alternative for non listed companies that plan a listing In general the complex and costly implementation process must be outweighed thoroughly If costs prevail other possibilities represent IFRS for SMEs or the continuation of German GAAP Similarities and Differences: IFRS and German GAAP Rüdiger Loitz, Guido Fladt, Björn Seidel, Thorsten Seidel, 2018 Comparative International Accounting, 14th Edition Christopher Nobes, Robert B. Empirical Value Relevance of German Gaap and IFRS. Alexander Schiebel,2008 It seems logical to assume that GAAP aimed at informing investors show a higher association with share prices value relevance than GAAP aimed at protecting creditors The majority of empirical studies support this assumption This paper examines the value relevance of IFRS and German GAAP Regression analyses are applied to companies listing on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and publishing exclusively either IFRS or German GAAP consolidated financial reports over the period 2000 2004 As a result of Regulation EC No 1606 2002 comparative research becomes impossible after 2004 German GAAP will no longer exist on European stock exchanges The paper s study is restricted to a single capital market in order to eliminate pricing differences between capital markets based in different countries that has already been done in earlier research Improved circumstances for investigating value relevance compared with earlier research are however the selection criteria for the listed companies emphasis on international transparency requirements free float and free float market capitalisation and the share prices used average price around the end of the business year when the financial reporting data is not yet published The results of the study show that German GAAP is significantly more value relevant statistically than IFRS These results have to be interpreted in the light of the selection criteria It is an unexpected outcome calling for further research Financial Accounting Robert Nothhelfer, 2017-09-25 Every German student of business administration needs to have a basic understanding of accounting according to German GAAP and thanks to globalization many courses about German accounting are nowadays held in English to improve the language skills of the students In addition many foreign subsidiaries of German companies have to prepare their part of consolidated financial statements according to German GAAP So far these professionals can rely on German literature only The first part of the book offers a compact introduction to financial statements according to German GAAP the second part comprises exercises on individual topics with solutions and case studies for in depth and effective learning This introduction provides ideal support for German speaking students taking Englishspeaking lectures in the field and is furthermore valuable for professionals looking for explanations when preparing the data for consolidated financial statements Includes exercises and case studies for practice Ideal textbook for students of German Universities attending English speaking lectures in financial management Ideal introduction for professionals with a succinct explanation and additional support with a glossary and vocabulary Review of Practical Implementation Issues of International Financial Reporting Standards, 2006 Presents Jamaica s financial reporting infrastructure including the regulatory framework enforcement capacity building issues and lessons learned International Accounting Timothy S. Douppnik, Hector Perera, 2007 Douppnik and Perera sInternational Accountingtakes in the whole realm of international accounting while paying particular focus on the accounting issues related to international business activities and foreign operations International Accounting and Reporting Issues United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, 2007-10-02 This volume of the 2006 Review of International Accounting and Reporting Issues contains the proceedings of the twenty third session of the Intergovernmental Working Group of Experts on International Standards of Accounting and Reporting The two main agenda items the session dealt with were a review of practical implementation issues of International Financial Reporting Standards and comparability and relevance of existing indicators on corporate responsibility The CPA Journal, 2006 Interpreting and Analyzing Financial Statements Karen P. Schoenebeck, Mark P. Holtzman, 2012 The text and activities format allow the instructor to use this book as a stand alone text for the first accounting course This text helps students analyze real company financial statement information Each activity in the book concentrates on only one aspect of the analysis and uses data from well known corporations to pique students interest and add relevancy Value Relevance of German Gaap and IFRS Consolidated Financial Reporting Alexander Schiebel, 2007 It seems logical to assume that GAAP aimed at informing investors shows a higher association with share prices value relevance than GAAP aimed at protecting creditors The majority of empirical studies support this assumption This paper examines the value relevance of IFRS and German GAAP Regression analyses are applied to companies listing on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and publishing exclusively either IFRS or German GAAP consolidated financial reports over the period 2000 2004 As a result of Regulation EC No 1606 2002 comparative research becomes impossible after 2004 German GAAP will no longer exist on European stock exchanges The paper s study is restricted to a single capital market in order to eliminate pricing differences between capital markets based in different countries that has already been done in earlier research Improved circumstances for investigating value relevance compared with prior research are however the selection criteria for the listed companies emphasis on international transparency requirements free float and free float market capitalisation and the share prices used average price around the end of the business year when the financial reporting data is not yet published The results of the study show that German GAAP is significantly more value relevant statistically than IFRS These results have to be interpreted in the light of the selection criteria It is an unexpected outcome calling for further research
