How to End a Story Helen Garner, 2025-03-11 For the first time ever collected here are all three volumes of the diaries of Helen Garner inviting readers into the world behind the novels and nonfiction of a literary force The name Helen Garner commands near universal acclaim A master of many literary forms Garner is best known for her frank unsparing and intricate portraits of ordinary people in difficult times New York Times But the inspiration for it all was her extensive collection of diaries fastidiously kept intricately written and delightfully dishy unspooling the inner lives of her insular world in bohemian Melbourne Now for the first time all three volumes of Garner's inimitable diaries are collected into one book Spanning more than two decades each finely etched volume reveals Garner like never before a fledgling author publishing her lightning rod debut novel in the late 70s in the throes of a consuming affair in the late 80s and clinging to a disintegrating marriage in the late 90s And all the while they bear witness to one of the world's great writers hard at work Devastatingly honest and disarmingly funny How to End a Story is a portrait of loss betrayal and the sheer force of a woman's anger but also of resilience quotidian moments of joy the immutable ties of motherhood and the regenerative power of a room of one's own

Monkey grip. [DVD] , Everyday Revolutions Michelle Arrow, Angela Woollacott, 2019-08-30 The 1970s was a decade when matters previously considered private and personal became public and political These shifts not only transformed Australian politics they engendered far reaching cultural and social changes Feminists challenged man made norms and sought to recover lost histories of female achievement and cultural endeavour They made films picked up spanners and established printing presses The notion that the personal was political began to transform long held ideas about masculinity and femininity both in public and private life In the spaces between official discourses and everyday experience many sought to revolutionise the lives of Australian men and women Everyday Revolutions brings together new research on the cultural and social impact of the feminist and sexual revolutions of the 1970s in Australia Gay Liberation and Women's Liberation movements erupted challenging almost every aspect of Australian life The pill became widely available and sexuality was both celebrated and flaunted Campaigns to decriminalise abortion and homosexuality emerged across the country Activists set up women's refuges rape crisis centres and counselling services Governments responded to new demands for representation and rights appointing women's advisors and funding new services Everyday Revolutions is unique in its focus not on the activist or legislative achievements of the women's and gay and lesbian movements but on their cultural and social dimensions It is a diverse and rich collection of essays that reminds us that women's and gay liberation were revolutionary movements

True Stories Helen Garner, 2008-09-29 Helen Garner visits the morgue and goes cruising on a Russian ship She sees women giving birth and gets the sack for teaching her students about sex She attends a school dance and a gun show She writes about dreaming about turning fifty and the storm caused by The First Stone Her story on the murder of the two year old Daniel Valerio wins her a Walkley Award Garner looks at the world with a shrewd and sympathetic eye Her non fiction with its many voices is always passionate and compelling True Stories is an extraordinary book spanning twenty five years of work by one of Australia s great writers

The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel Nicholas Birns,Louis Klee,2023-03-02 The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel provides a clear lively and accessible account of the novel in Australia The chapters of this book survey significant issues and developments in the Australian novel offer historical and conceptual frameworks and demonstrate what reading an Australian novel looks like in practice The book begins with novels by literary visitors to Australia and concludes with those by refugees In between the reader encounters the Australian novel in its splendid contradictoriness from nineteenth century settler fiction by women writers through to literary images of the Anthropocene from sexuality in the novels of Patrick White to Waanyi writer Alexis Wright s call for a sovereign First Nations literature This book is an invitation to students instructors and researchers alike to expand and broaden their knowledge of the complex histories and crucial present of the Australian novel

Australian Mothering Carla Pascoe Leahy,Petra Bueskens,2020-01-28 This collection defines the field of maternal studies in Australia for the first time Leading motherhood researchers explore how mothering has evolved across Australian history as well as the joys and challenges of being a mother today The contributors cover pregnancy birth relationships childcare domestic violence time use work welfare policy and psychology from a diverse range of maternal perspectives Utilising a matricentric feminist framework Australian Mothering foregrounds the experiences emotions and perspectives of mothers to better understand how Australian motherhood has developed historically and contemporaneously Drawing upon their combined sociological and historical expertise Bueskens and Pascoe Leahy have carefully curated a collection that presents compelling research on past and present perspectives on maternity in Australia which will be relevant to researchers advocates and policy makers interested in the changing role of mothers in Australian society

APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information service , Feminism and the Making of a Child Rights Revolution Isobelle Barrett Meyering,2022-02-01 When Australian women s liberationists challenged prevailing expectations of female domesticity they were accused of being anti mother and anti child Feminism and the Making of a Child Rights Revolution provides a much needed reassessment of this stereotype Drawing on extensive archival research and personal accounts it places feminists at the forefront of a new wave of children s rights activism that went beyond calls for basic protections for children instead demanding their liberation Historian Isobelle Barrett Meyering revisits this revolutionary approach and charts the debates it sparked within the women s movement Her examination of feminists ground breaking campaigns on major social issues of the 1970s from childcare to sex education to family violence also reveals women s concerted efforts to apply this ideal in their personal lives and to support children's own activism Feminism and the Making of a Child Rights Revolution sheds light on the movement's expansive vision for social change and its lasting impact on the way we view the rights of women and children

The First Murderer I Ever Met Mark Dapin, 2025-08-26 For more than thirty years Mark Dapin has been hanging out with crooks and both types of cop In this gripping often funny and always surprising book he sorts the tall stories from the truth about true crime showing us what some of Australia's most famous felons are really like Mark Dapin was still in school when he met his first murderer a boy called Ian In reporting the murder Ian eventually committed newspapers used the cliché that it shocked even those who knew him best But it didn't shock Dapin because he knew Ian in real life not in clichés Criminals are sensationalised in the press and mythologised in their own stories In describing criminals police and prison officers he's spent time with Dapin searches for the real characters and events How many of Chopper Read's stories were actually true What's it like at home with former murder cop Gary Jubelin Was the biggest art heist in Australian history carried out by one of Dapin's neighbours the mysterious Sky Blue And what happens when you go to visit a prison with celebrated escapee John Killick These encounters are better than a ring side seat to the underworld Dapin gets in the ring The First Murderer I Ever Met is the truest true crime it's what actually happened

Time, Space and the Human Body: An Interdisciplinary Look Rafael F. Narváez, Leslie R. Malland, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 Concerns about the human body and soul and their relationship to the world around us are as old as Western Culture itself Beyond philosophy and theology these sorts of preoccupations have also marked the arts literature and poetry and to be sure they have influenced Western culture and have marked westerners imaginations and our everyday understanding of human nature This book considers various ways in which the body is and has been addressed and depicted over time and it is also a reflection on the ways in which the very spaces that we design and inhabit likewise reflect perceived ideas and misconceptions about the human body My Hard Heart Helen Garner, 2000 First published in 1998 this collection of short stories includes Postcards from Surfers and The Life of Art Deals with relationships and issues of grief loss and acceptance The author's other publications include Monkey Grip The Children's Bach and The First Stone Literature and Sensation Anthony Uhlmann, 2008-12-18 I never travel without my diary One should always have something sensational to read in the train Oscar Wilde Literature has always treated the sensational crime passion violence trauma catastrophe It has frequently caused or been at the centre of scandal censorship and moral outrage But literature is also intricately connected with sensation in ways that are less well understood It mediates between the sensory world perception and cognition through rich modes of thought allied with perceptions and emotions and makes sense of profound questions that transcend the merely rational And at its boundaries literature engages with the uncanny realm in which knowledge presentiment or feeling is prior to articulation in words This book reviews the sensational dimension of literature according to themes that have too often been left to one side Literary theory has often privileged perception over sensation cognition over raw experience in focusing on semantics rather than sense The essays in this volume cover literature and sensation in all its facets drawing upon a range of approaches from evolutionary theory theories of mind perception philosophy and aesthetics The works considered are drawn from various literary periods and genres from the nineteenth century to contemporary prose and poetry including experiments in new media Literature and Sensation offers detailed and subtle readings of literature according to the sensations they represent incite or evoke in us and will be of interest to readers of literary theory ethics and aesthetics and theorists of new media art Love and the Novel Christina Lupton, 2022-06-02 It is a clever well written book and I often found myself underlining whole paragraphs as I read wonderfully insightful I've never read accounts of any of these texts that manage to be at once so searching and so wondrously concise and Lupton made me want to go back to them all Rachel Cooke Observer Incandescent Lara Feigel Guardian A subversive brilliant and beautifully written book about love play and power in fiction and in the well read life Sarah Moss author of Summerwater A delicious combination of critical thought and passionate personal experience Tanya Shadrack author of The Cure for Sleep Romantic love was born alongside the novel and books have been shaping how we experience and think about our most intimate stories ever since But what do novels give us when our own lives diverge from the usual narrative paths Christina is a professor used to examining stories with a critical eye until one day in middle age she finds herself falling in love and leaving her marriage for a romance with another woman This involves a familiar enough tale but when her new partner suffers a stroke Tina begins to reflect on the sorts of love that novels rarely capture A heady mix of memoir criticism and storytelling that draws on novels ranging from Pride and Prejudice to Price of Salt Anna Karenina to Conversations with Friends to illuminate the ways love and novels work and show how some types of love which don't race to a narrative end point might be the most important of all The Children's Bach Helen Garner, 2023-10-10 The New York Times Book Review Editors Choice Now in a new edition with a foreword by Rumaan Alam a modern classic from one of Australia's greatest writers It's high time American readers knew her generous category defying imagination New York Times The Children's Bach is Garner's masterpiece Public Books Set in suburban Melbourne in the early 1980s The Children's Bach centers on Dexter and Athena Fox their two sons and the insulated world they've built together Despite the routine challenges of domestic life they are largely happy But when a friend from Dexter's past resurfaces and introduces the couple to the city's bohemian underground unbound by routine and driven by desire Athena begins to wonder if life might hold more for her and the tenuous bonds that tie the Foxes together start to fray A literary institution in Australia Helen Garner's perfectly formed novels embody the tumultuous 1970s and 1980s Drawn on a small canvas and with a subtle musical backdrop The Children's Bach is a jewel Ben Lerner within Garner's revered catalogue a beloved work that solidified her place among the masters of modern letters a finely etched masterpiece that weighs the burdens of commitment against the costs of liberation The Season Helen Garner, 2025-09-02 From the beloved master of Australian letters Helen Garner comes a brand new work of nonfiction exploring boyhood football and the quotidian joys of family life Helen Garner is one of the most prodigiously gifted writers of our time The New York Times Book Review best known for her intricate portraits of ordinary people in difficult times New York Times In The Season she trains her keen journalistic eye on the most difficult time of all adolescence Garner and her grandson Amby are deep in the throes of a shared obsession with Australian football or footy as Amby advances into his local club's Under 16s From her trademark remove Garner documents the camaraderie and the competition on the field the bracing nights of training the endurance of pain the growth of a gaggle of laughing boys into a formidable focused team The Season is part dispatch on boyhood chronicling the tenderness between young men that so often scurries away under too bright a spotlight and part love letter to parenthood and family as Garner becomes enmeshed in the community that gathers to watch their boys do battle The Season finds Garner rejoicing in the later years of her life surprised to discover their riches a bright generously funny exuberant book from one of our great living writers
