Buyers' Remedies in International Sales Law Reza Beheshti, 2024-02-22 An authoritative in depth examination of remedies in international sales of manufactured goods this book provides a detailed analysis of the remedies available to a commercial buyer The book concentrates on four prominent legal regimes namely the UK sales law the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods 1980 CISG the American Uniform Commercial Code UCC and the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts 2016 UPICC It surveys the remedies available to commercial buyers in the event that a seller fails to fulfil the contractual obligations stipulated by an international sales transaction of manufactured goods The remedies investigated are self help remedies including suspension of performance and termination monetary remedies including damages and price reduction and performance remedies including specific performance and the right to cure Providing access to and analysis of cases and arbitral decisions from all over the world the book scrutinises the strengths and weaknesses of buyers remedies through comparative and normative examination Ex Aequo et Bono as a Response to the 'Over-Judicialisation' of International Commercial Arbitration Nobumichi Teramura, 2020-05-12 Despite its many distinguished proponents over time ex aequo et bono the idea of deciding disputes on the basis of what an adjudicator regards as fair and equitable has failed to take hold in international commercial arbitration ICA Formalisation and fossilisation of arbitral procedure as manifested in the increasing use of litigation style practice unfortunately reign instead This bold and challenging book argues that parties to an arbitration should be more willing for their cross border disputes to be decided and arbitrators should be more prepared to decide those disputes in accordance with broad principles of equity and fairness rather than by strict adherence to technical rules of law Putting forward suggestions based on extensive research and doctrinal considerations this book invites us to confront what ICA was supposed to be what it now is and what it can be In particular Dr Teramura discusses how by resorting to ex aequo et bono arbitrators can construe contractual terms including the limits apply trade usages deal with mandatory rules of a given forum or place of performance minimise the cost and length of time that arbitration takes avoid the abuse of discretion and ensure predictable results The book examines significant differences in the way that ex aequo et bono arbitration is understood among various state and international institutions It attempts to identify a common core of universally accepted concepts underlying those different understandings The book argues that ex aequo et bono has the potential to reform ICA without undermining its positive aspects Along the way it discusses the implications of ex aequo et bono arbitration on the now widely used UNCITRAL Model Law on ICA It should thus appeal to lay business persons and commercial law practitioners who are looking for an economical and efficient way to solve business disputes within a globalised arbitration framework including environmental law human rights law and commercial law It maps out the contours of legitimacy today with an emphasis on the reactions of central actors like states and courts to transnational tendencies The book thereby provides a conceptually powerful structure within which to further debate the complexity of transnational tendencies in law and proposes innovative approaches to problem solving while designing pathways for further reflection on the development of law in a transnational context
