Gender and Education in Kenya Esther Mukewa Lisanza, 2021-04-28 Gender and Education in Kenya explores the intersections of curriculum pedagogy policy and gender The contributors study depictions of gender in textbooks the presence and roles of girls and women within classrooms in Kenya and female leadership in education arguing that despite recent policies put in place by the Kenyan government to ensure gender parity in education there is still a need to make curriculum more gender responsive Gender and Education in Kenya examines the disparity between male and female representation in education and advocate for more training for teachers about gender related educational policies and implementing gender responsive objectives in classrooms

The collection concludes with a study of the intersection of gender and disability with a chapter that explores the additional challenges for a blind girl in school and the lack of policies in place to help disabled students Risking All Elle Westoby, 2023-03-24
John Thorne is proud of his blue helmeted peacekeeping force but he has a dream With his financial backers he is about to buy a very large piece of land in Botswana and create a game reserve To fulfil his dream he wants his two best men with him but he also needs a medic and a veterinary surgeon After much research he finds the very men and a remarkable brotherhood is born However the reserve harbours a secret that will put them all at risk If Thorne had known the journey they were all about to embark upon and the cost to themselves he may have thought again They are not the only ones interested in the land Is their dream worth their lives

Enjoying the Beat of Phrase: An Psychological Symphony within Siku Njema
