Simians Cyborgs And Women The Reinvention Of Nature Donna J Haraway:

Simians, Cyborgs, and Women Donna Haraway, 2013-05-13 Simians Cyborgs and Women is a powerful collection of ten essays written between 1978 and 1989. Although on the surface simians, cyborgs, and women may seem an odd threesome, Haraway describes their profound link as creatures which have had a great destabilizing place in Western evolutionary technology and biology. Throughout this book, Haraway analyzes accounts, narratives, and stories of the creation of nature, living organisms, and cyborgs. At once a social reality and a science fiction, the cyborg, a hybrid of organism and machine, represents transgressed boundaries and intense fusions of the nature/culture split. By providing an escape from rigid dualisms, the cyborg exists in a post-gender world and, as such, holds immense possibilities for modern feminists. Haraway's recent book Primate Visions has been called outstanding, original, and brilliant by leading scholars in the field. First published in 1991.

Informatics of Domination Zach Blas, Melody Jue, Jennifer Rhee, 2025-03-07 Informatics of Domination is an experimental collection addressing formations of power that manifest through technical systems and white capitalist patriarchy in the twenty-first century. The volume takes its name from a chart in Donna J. Haraway's canonical 1985 essay A Manifesto for Cyborgs. Haraway theorizes the informatics of domination as a feminist diagrammatic concept for situating power and a world system from which the figure of the cyborg emerges. Informatics of Domination builds on Haraway's chart as an open structure for thought, inviting fifty scholars, artists, and creative writers to unfold new perspectives. Their writings take on a variety of forms such as essays on artificial intelligence, disability, and protest; and transpacific imaginaries, conversations with an AI trained on Black oral history, a three-dimensional response to Mexico-US border tensions, hand-drawn images on queer autotheory, ecological fictions about gut microbiomes and wet markets, and more. Together, the writings take up the unfinished structure of the chart in order to proliferate critiques of white capitalist patriarchal power with the study of information systems, networks, and computation today. This volume includes an afterword by Haraway. Contributors: Dalida Mar, Benfield Zach Blas, Ama Josephine Budge, Johnstone.

Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff, 2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history showing how women s actions desires and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented experienced and consumed their world Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries from mountaintop to marketplace they focus on historical representations of humans and nature on questions about consumption on environmental politics and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly often with dire consequences for other people and organisms Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd s masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth century expedition of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters own gendered identities Some are playful as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred bobbies Others are dead serious as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disrupters are reinventing humans animals and water systems from the cellular level out Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we've engraved on ourselves and on the planet

Reinventing Nature? Michael E. Soulé, Gary Lease, 1995 Reinventing Nature is an interdisciplinary investigation of how perceptions and conceptions of nature affect both the individual experience and society's management of nature Leading thinkers from a variety of fields philosophy sociology zoology history ethnobiology and others address the conflict between the perception and reality of nature each from a different perspective

Rendering Life Molecular Natasha Myers, 2015-08-27 What are living bodies made of Protein modelers tell us that our cells are composed of millions of proteins intricately folded molecular structures on the scale of nanoparticles Proteins twist and wriggle as they carry out the activities that keep cells alive Figuring out how to make these unruly substances visible tangible and workable is a challenging task one that is not readily automated even by the fastest computers Natasha Myers explores what protein modelers must do to render three dimensional atomic resolution models of these lively materials Rendering Life Molecular shows that protein models are not just informed by scientific data model building entangles a modeler's entire sensorium and modelers must learn to feel their way through the data in order to interpret molecular forms Myers takes us into protein modeling laboratories and classrooms tracking how gesture affect imagination and intuition shape practices of objectivity Asking What is life becoming in modelers hands she tunes into the ways they animate molecules through their moving bodies and other media In the process she amplifies an otherwise muted liveliness inflecting mechanistic accounts of the stuff of life and students finally have a reference work documenting the foundations of the digital revolution. Were it not the only reference book to cover this emergent field, Jones's encyclopedia would still likely be the best CHOICE. The articles are interesting, entertaining, well written, and reasonably long. Highly recommended as a worthwhile and valuable addition to both science and technology and social science reference collections. REFERENCE USER SERVICES QUARTERLY, AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION. From Amazon.com to virtual communities, this single volume encyclopedia presents more than 250 entries that explain communication technology, multimedia, entertainment, and e-commerce within their social context. Edited by Steve Jones, one of the leading scholars and founders of this emerging field, and with contributions from an international group of scholars as well as science and technology writers and editors, the Encyclopedia of New Media widens the boundaries of today's information society through interdisciplinary, historical, and international coverage. With such topics as broadband, content filtering, cyberculture, cyberethics, digital divide, freenet, MP3, privacy, telemedicine, viruses, and wireless networks, the Encyclopedia will be an indispensable resource for anyone interested or working in this field. Unlike many encyclopedias that provide short, fragmented entries, the Encyclopedia of New Media examines each subject in depth in a single, coherent article. Many articles span several pages and are presented in a large, double-column format for easy reading. Each article also includes the following: A bibliography; Suggestions for further reading; Links to related topics in the Encyclopedia; Selected works where applicable. Entries include: Pioneers such as Marc Andreessen, Marshall McLuhan, and Steve Jobs; Terms from Access to Netiquette to Web cam; Technologies including Bluetooth, MP3, and Linux; Businesses such as Amazon.com; Key labs, research centers, and foundations; Associations; Laws and much more. The Encyclopedia of New Media includes a comprehensive index as well as a reader's guide that facilitates browsing and easy access to information.

Recommended Libraries: Public, academic, government, special, and private, corporate. Local Places in the Age of the Global City Roger Keil, Gerda R. Wekerle, David V. J. Bell, 1996. The ugly grey heap of cement and asphalt that makes up much of the urban sprawl is something most of us wish would just go away. And yet more than half the world's population will live in urban centres by the turn of the millennium, and most will be exposed to degraded urban environments. The contributors to Local Places look at the complex social, economic, and political contexts of cities in the 1990s and suggest that cities and urbanity while part of the problem, also need to be considered as part of the solution. This volume brings together clear and critical analyses and practical proposals that bring us closer to that reality. A primer for urban ecologists who seek to sustain the local places but in the larger political context, Local Places provides planners, community activists, students, and the general reader with a cross-section of current debates and proposals surrounding urban sustainability. Anthropology UCLA, 1993. Bodies in Commotion Carrie Sandahl, Philip Auslander, 2005. Contesting the Oedipal Legacy Stevie Meriel Schmiedel, 2004. Psychoanalytic feminism is stuck in the feminist dilemma; it seems to constantly reiterate the constitutive binarism of the gender war. This book suggests we turn to a Deleuzian feminism and methodology in order to be able to describe the sexes beyond the binary Deleuze's becoming woman is based on an ontology of desire which refutes the Lacanian tyranny of the past that dictates a constitutive lack at the base of the subject which has its origin in the mother. Through Deleuzian readings of cultural texts its potential to describe new gender identities or non identities will be shown.

Impure Science Steven Gary Epstein, 1993 Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 1994 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences. The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1,800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books, book chapters, dissertations, and conference papers. Tracing Cultures Whitney Museum of American Art, 1994 The New Poetry in Wales Ian Gregson, 2007 By evolving new techniques to explore today's most pressing issues, environmental destruction and the damage inflicted on the third world by global capitalism, contemporary Welsh poets are making some of the most exciting poetry in Britain. In addition to investigating these new methods of poetic inquiry, Ian Gregson in The New Poetry of Wales explores the issue of language, a particularly urgent concern for these poets who must choose between writing in English or Welsh. With penetrating analyses of a range of new poets, including Robert Minhinnick and Gwyneth Lewis, the former Welsh poet laureate, Gregson's book is an invaluable introduction to a robust field. Writing the Environment Richard Kerridge, Neil Sammells, 1998-03-15 The contributors to this critique of the modern world write about a range of environment-related issues and assess the impact of a variety of groups on popular culture. They see the environmental crisis as the limit of postmodernism. Uncanny Congruencies, 2013 Uncanny Congruencies investigates elliptical collisions of association and meaning and offers a nuanced dialogue with its audiences through the seemingly contradictory processes of 18 remarkable alumni of Penn State's School of Visual Arts. The works of these artists intersect, reverse, and overlap one another in surprising and satisfying ways.
