period in film history between the regimentation of the Edison Trust and the vertical integration of the Studio System roughly 1916 through 1920 was a time of structural and artistic experimentation for the American film industry As the nature of the industry was evolving society around it was changing as well arts politics and society were in a state of flux between old and new Before the major studios dominated the industry droves of smaller companies competed for the attention of the independent exhibitor their gateway to the movie goer Their arena was in the pages of the trade press and their weapons were their advertisements often bold and eye catching The reporting of the trade journals as they witnessed the evolution of the industry from its infancy towards the future is the basis of this history Pulled from the pages of the journals themselves as archived by the Media History Digital Library the observations of the trade press writers are accompanied by cleaned and restored advertisements used in the battle among the young film companies They offer a unique and vital look at this formative period of film history Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism Jonas E. courageous individual is not to take part in the lie One word of truth outweighs the world Alexander Solzhenitsyn In this penetrating and provocative work Jonas E Alexis challenges common assumptions about the relationship between Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism and provides compelling evidence from history and theology that demonstrates the extent to which modern Judaism has been defined by the Pharisaic and Rabbinic schools of thought As Alexis meticulously documents there has been a constant struggle between Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism since the time of Christ a struggle that will define the destiny of the West Islam according to Christianity is a historically and theologically false religion since it denies both Jesus's deity and His work of salvation at the Cross But Rabbinic Judaism Alexis argues is equally false and in many respects more dangerous to Christianity and the West than Islam since at its root Rabbinic Judaism wages war against the Logos the system of order in the world embodied by Christ In this painstakingly scholarly yet readable work Alexis maintains that Rabbinic Judaism defined by the Pharisaic teachings now codified in the Talmud that Jesus sought to correct is a categorical and metaphysical rejection of Christianity a rejection that has had and will continue to have severe implications for Western culture intellectual history and theological exegesis

Cry of the Elephant Man Erik L. Strandness MD MATH, 2016-06-30 We are in danger of losing our identities as unique beings created in the image of God Our culture not wanting to answer to a higher authority tries to expel God from the planet but in the process strips off the very image that makes us human If we officiate at the death of God we will also be forced to preside over the funeral of man The good news is that despite the loud voices declaring that we are just evolved animals the vast majority of us behave as if we are special Since the characteristics that make humans unique are found nowhere else on the planet we are compelled to look to the heavens We have a choice we can find significance running with the pack or in becoming children of God We can howl at the moon or offer prayers to our Father but either way we will end up worshipping our maker Dr Strandness explores what it means to be created in the image of God by examining those qualities that are universally recognized as unique to humankind He makes the case that these characteristics have a heavenly origin and can only be adequately explained by a Biblical understanding of humans as Gods image bearers
