Should There Be Zoos? Tony Stead, 2011-08 Opposing viewpoints on zoos Reality Checks Tony Stead, 2023-10-10

Teaching comprehension with informational texts is a critical component of any reading program and one that many children struggle with as they progress through their schooling. Nonfiction can be overwhelming to young readers presenting them with complex vocabulary and a new density of information that may combine text, diagrams, pictures, captions, and other devices. Reality Checks: Teaching Reading Comprehension with Non Fiction K-5 offers insights into why children struggle when faced with informational reading and practical concepts, skills, and strategies that help them navigate nonfiction successfully. In this book, Tony Stead provides wonderful ways to enhance children's understanding and engagement when reading for information. He outlines practical approaches to ensure all children can become confident and competent readers of nonfiction. Part one examines effective ways to teach children how to extract the information that is explicitly stated in a text. Covered are strategies such as using prior knowledge, retelling, locating specific information, and the role of nonfiction read alouds. Part two explores interpreting information, including making connections between the text, the reader, and the outside world, making inferences, and making revisions to inferences based on reflection. Part three looks at evaluating information, assisting children in developing critical reading skills, differentiating fact from opinion, locating author bias, and identifying techniques writers use to persuade readers. Part four offers an array of practical ways to reinforce and extend children's nonfiction reading skills, including working with visual information such as maps and diagrams. It also provides pre and post assessment strategies, procedures for monitoring progress, curriculum planning ideas, and instruction on guided reading.

Nonfiction Writing Power Adrienne Gear, 2014-02-17 Writing nonfiction is a key skill that students will need throughout their school lives and beyond. This remarkable book is designed to help teachers develop a writing program that will enable their students to harness all of their Nonfiction Writing Powers: to Describe, to Instruct, to Compare, to Persuade, to Explain, and to Report. It illustrates ways to encourage students to write because they have something to say and to recognize that writing well means considering intent and purpose and choosing the best form of expression. Ideal for teaching writing in the content areas, the book includes guidance on linking writing forms to Science, Social Studies, and other subject areas.

The Common Core Companion: Booster Lessons, Grades K-2 Janiel Wagstaff, 2015-09-02 You can find hundreds of literacy lessons in hundreds of places, but none of them will do for students what the ones in this book do. What's the magic bullet? Potent integration. Divided into five weeklong learning sequences, the 50 lessons span the ELA standards, bringing a Monday-through-Friday clarity to the sometimes mysterious process of skill building through demonstrations and practice. Follow each sequence, and week by week, you'll build the instructional potency to help students achieve a year's worth of growth as you integrate Writing Narratives with Identifying Sensory Words in Text, Research with Identifying Topic and Details, Opinion Writing with Close Reading for Text Evidence, Comparing and Contrasting with Publishing, Using Digital Tools Informative Writing with Use of Text Features Each of the 50 lessons is eminently dipppable But if you want to do more extended instructional planning there are lots of additional tools including lists of mentor texts and If Then and Extending the Work charts within the book and on the companion website www.corwin.com/commoncorecompanion A Close Look At Close Reading Diane Lapp, Barbara Moss, Maria Grant, Kelly Johnson, 2015-01-29 The Common Core State Standards have put close reading in the spotlight as never before While elementary school teachers are certainly willing to teach students to closely read both literary and informational text many are wondering what exactly this involves Is there a process to follow How is close reading different from guided reading or other common literacy practices How do you prepare students to have their ability to analyze complex texts measured by Common Core assessments Is it even possible for students in grades K 5 to read to learn when they re only just learning to read Literacy experts Diane Lapp Barbara Moss Maria Grant and Kelly Johnson answer these questions and more as they explain how to teach young learners to be close readers and how to make close reading a habit of practice in the elementary classroom Informed by the authors extensive field experience and enriched by dozens of real life scenarios and downloadable tools and templates this book explores Text complexity and how to determine if a particular text is a right for your learning purposes and your students The process and purpose of close reading in the elementary grades with an emphasis on its role in developing the 21st century thinking speaking and writing skills essential for academic communication and required by the Common Core How to plan teach and manage close reading sessions across the academic disciplines including the kinds of questions to ask and the kinds of support to provide How to assess close reading and help all students regardless of linguistic cultural or academic background connect deeply with what they read and derive meaning from a complex text Equipping students with the tools and process of close reading sets them on the road to becoming analytical and critical thinkers and empowered and independent learners In this comprehensive resource you ll find everything you need to start their journey Is That a Fact? Tony Stead, 2023-10-11 The book you are about to read is destined to be the first middle and maybe even the last word on nonfiction writing for young young children It is certainly a text that you will return to over and over again as you do with a beloved cookbook from the Foreword by Tomie dePaola Over eighty five percent of the reading and writing we do as adults is nonfiction yet most of the reading and writing in K 3 classrooms is fiction or personal narrative In Is That a Fact Teaching Nonfiction Writing K 3 Tony Stead shows you how to open the door to the rich world of nonfiction writing that goes beyond what I did narratives and animal reports And he convincingly demonstrates the importance of introducing nonfiction writing in the primary grades Nonfiction inspires enthusiasm in young children because they can choose topics that are of interest to them personally Is That a Fact explores a variety of authentic purposes for writing nonfiction such as describing explaining instructing persuading retelling and exploring relationships with others You will learn how to introduce each purpose using a variety of forms including letters reports poetry captions directions and interviews Part One provides a complete overview of teaching nonfiction writing in the primary grades and includes practical ways for organizing nonfiction resources within the classroom how to assist children in collecting information for research ideas for helping children keep their sense of voice when writing nonfiction a chapter on spelling with examples of how to guide students at each stage of spelling development strategies for assessment and evaluation that guide teaching and learning engagements Part Two provides five different explorations that were implemented in actual K 3 classrooms Each focuses on a specific purpose for writing nonfiction and features examples of whole class small group and independent instructional engagements a comprehensive assessment rubric that will help teachers tailor instruction to the needs of all learners an extensive resource section that includes lists of books in the exploration grouped by readability levels answers to the most commonly asked questions about teaching nonfiction writing The appendixes include a self assessment questionnaire reproducible pages for exploring specific writing forms and letters to parents Children need to be introduced to the different purposes of nonfiction writing They need to know how to plan compose revise and publish nonfiction beyond narrative Is That a Fact guides you in achieving these goals with your students

Heimburge,2007-08-17 How to Reach and Teach All Children Through Balanced Literacy offers you a handbook for teaching literacy to diverse students in grades 3-8. The balanced literacy method combines the best practices of phonics and other skill-based language instruction with the holistic literature-based approach in order to help you teach reading, writing, and speaking in a clear and approachable format. This dynamic resource offers an easily accessible research-based approach to balanced literacy that is grounded in the innovative ideas developed by authors Sandra F. Rief and Julie A. Heimburge. The book includes detailed descriptions of what a balanced literacy classroom looks like and shows how to create a program from the ground up or give your existing program a boost. The book can be used across content areas and is filled with reproducible worksheets, activities, and other handy classroom tools. Some topics covered include Shared book experiences, Reading aloud, Oral language and vocabulary development, Guided reading for comprehension, Modeled writing, Reading and writing conferences, Book clubs, Content area reading and writing, Ongoing assessments, Enhancing literacy through technology.

Starting Strong Katrin Blamey, Katherine A. Beauchat, 2023-10-10 Starting Strong: Evidence-Based Early Literacy Practices shows teachers how to use four proven instructional approaches: standards-based, evidenced-based, assessment-based, and student-based to improve their teaching practice in all areas of early literacy. Authors Katrin Blamey and Katherine Beauchat draw on their years of experience and early literacy expertise to guide you in figuring out what to teach and how to find the most instructionally sound method to teach it. They help you determine the instructional needs of your classroom and take full advantage of what you know about your students so you can engage them in learning. With chapters on oral language, vocabulary, phonological awareness, word recognition, comprehension, and writing skills, this comprehensive book explains each skill and provides research-based strategies for targeting each area. Supported by evidence-based research and aligned to key tenets of the Common Core, the book also includes classroom-tested activities and children's literature suggestions for each area of literacy. Starting Strong is an essential resource that any early literacy teacher or coach using a balanced literacy approach can use to build a solid foundation for their students.

Write This Way Kelly Boswell, 2015-02-20 Modeling is one of the most effective of all teaching strategies, and yet many teachers overlook this powerful tool in writing instruction. When teachers think aloud and then craft a piece of writing in front of their students, they give student writers a peek into what is possible in their own writing. In this book, Kelly Boswell shows you how to transform student writers by infusing short bursts of purposeful teacher modeling. As students watch an adult writer think, talk, and write, they can develop the skills needed in order to create writing that is both polished and purposeful. Tony Stead, educator, internationally known literacy specialist, and author says, "Finally! Not just another book about how to teach writing, but one that targets the power of modeled writing. What a delight it is to read this professional resource that highlights the importance of this strategy as the cornerstone to successful teaching and learning of the writing process."

Models for Teaching Writing-Craft Target Skills Marcia Sheehan Freeman, 2005 Writing is best taught through models. Showing K-8 students how other authors apply the writing craft skills that you teach is a vital part of writing instruction This innovative resource matches 24 fundamental writing craft Target Skills to a wide selection of fiction and non fiction books providing a solid set of strong models for writing craft instruction Both trade books and texts available only from educational publishers are included Most of these are picture books which are particularly engaging for young readers A Target Skill cross index helps you reference models and multiple craft skills
