Interpersonal Relationships Felix Bermejo, 2025-07-15
 Interpersonal relationships are the association or interaction between two or more people. Human beings were created by God and need to relate not only with God but also with their fellow beings for they are social creatures with such needs.

Furthermore it is essential that individuals maintain interpersonal relationships with various people whether at work school with neighbors or with those with whom they conduct business These associations may be rooted in business personal interests or feelings such as love which often lead to marriage They form the foundation of how people interact with others in their daily lives Interpersonal relationships develop in diverse settings such as the family marriage religious communities social clubs or the workplace When speaking of interpersonal relationships we refer to the manner of association that exists between two or more individuals grounded in mutual interests Similarly alliances between nations are formed along with ways of coexisting and conducting business This enables the exchange and negotiation of products and goods each country produces Therefore it is vital that nations maintain good interrelations with other countries In any kind of interpersonal relationships conflict always arises sometimes even within the church therefore it is essential that people maintain healthy interpersonal relationships Human beings partake in a fallen nature and throughout biblical history conflicts between individuals are observed from the book of Genesis to the book of Revelation The history of humanity is a history of wars and conflicts Man needs to learn to coexist and love his neighbor but this can only be achieved through the new birth in Christ

Transforming Conflict through Communication in Personal, Family, and Working Relationships Peter M. Kellett, Thomas G. Matyók, 2016-11-15 A transformational approach to conflict argues that conflicts must be viewed as embedded within broader relational patterns and social and discursive structures Central to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary situational and small scale or large scale and systemic The momentary involves shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people Momentary transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inward to more personal levels This book engages this transformative framework by bringing together current scholarship that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in personal family and working relationships and organizational contexts The resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and personal experiences from the field of practice and everyday life The book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches including narrative critical intersectional rhetorical and quantitative It makes a valuable additive contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically The Pearson CSAT Manual 2012 Edgar Thorpe, 2012
