Civic Education Syllabus:

Syllabus of Course Fundamentals of Adult Civic Education Mary Louise Guyton, Massachusetts. Department of Education, 19?? Citizenship Syllabus Committee for Immigrants in America. Research Department, 1916 Civic Education in Syllabus 21 Marc Rüdisüli, 2017 In order to ensure a well functioning democracy it is necessary that citizens are able to participate properly in the political process This is of particular importance in a semi direct democracy with the right of initiative and referendum Both in politics and in a society there is a diversity of opinions and interests In order to find a solution the ability to negotiate is essential Civic education aims to give an introduction to the processes of negotiation and thus empower citizens to engage competently in democratic communities and societies However civic education is neglected in schools The harmonisation of the curricula in German speaking Switzerland has led to Syllabus 21 which also deals with civic education Its implementation in Syllabus 21 is the main topic of this paper The theoretical background allows the reader to understand the term civic education as well as Syllabus 21 With the help of experts the implementation of civic education is analysed problems are identified and a conclusion is drawn This paper aims to provide an overview of civic education in Syllabus 21 Syllabus in Civics, Ninth Grade Or First Year High School ... University of the State of New York, 1923

Civic Education in the Asia-Pacific Region John L. Cogan, Murray Print, 2013-12-02 This book examines the approach to civic education in six societies located on the Pacific Rim Australia Japan Hong Kong Taiwan Thailand and the US In these scrupulously designed studies the contributors investigate the recent re emergence of civic education in this region Developments such as globalization nationalism and sovereignty have profound effects on how schools make good citizens These essays reveal how definitions of citizenship are contested and revised under such influences and interrogate differences in civic education from nation to nation As societies attempt to strike a balance between obedience and critical thinking schools become the primary site of these transformations Analyzing both educational policy and its implementation these contributors offer a groundbreaking comparative study that grounds civic education historically and politically A Guide to Readings in Civic Education ... Olive Thompson Cowell, 1924 A Guide to Readings in Civic Education Olive Thompson, 1922 Civic Education Peter Schineller, 2002 Civic Education Richard G. Niemi, Jane Junn, 2005-05-11 Sound democratic decisions rely on a citizenry with at least a partial mastery of the rules and workings of democratic government American high schools where students learn the basics of citizenship thus ought to play a critical role in the success of democracy Yet studies examining the impact of high school government and civics courses on political knowledge over the past quarter century have generally shown that these courses have little or no effect In this important book Richard G Niemi and Jane Junn take a fresh look at what America s high school seniors know about government and politics and how they learn it The authors argue convincingly that secondary school civics courses do indeed enhance students civic knowledge This book is based on the most extensive assessment to date of civic knowledge among American youth the 1988 National Assessment of Education Progress NAEP Civics Assessment The authors develop and test a theoretical model to explain the cognitive process by which students learn about politics and they conclude by suggesting specific changes in the style and emphasis of civics teaching

Citizenship Curriculum in Asia and the Pacific David L. Grossman, Wing On Lee, Kerry J. Kennedy, 2008-08-31 Based on case studies of 11 societies in the world's most dynamic region this book signals a new direction of study at the intersection of citizenship education and the curriculum Following their successful volume Citizenship Education in Asia and the Pacific: Concepts and Issues published as No 14 in this series the editors widely regarded as leaders in the field in the Asia Pacific region have gone beyond broad citizenship education frameworks to examine the realities tensions and pressures that influence the formation of the citizenship curriculum Chapter authors from different societies have addressed two fundamental questions 1 how is citizenship education featured in the current curriculum reform agenda in terms of both policy contexts and values and 2 to what extent do the reforms in citizenship education reflect current debates within the society From comparative analysis of these 11 case studies the editors have found a complex picture of curriculum reform that indicates deep tensions between global and local agendas On one hand there is substantial evidence of an increasingly common policy rhetoric in the debates about citizenship education On the other it is evident that this discourse does not necessarily extend to citizenship curriculum which in most places continues to be constructed according to distinctive social political and cultural contexts Whether the focus is on Islamic values in Pakistan an emerging discourse about Chinese democracy a nostalgic conservatism in Australia or a continuing nation building project in Malaysia the cases show that distinctive social values and ideologies construct national citizenship curricula in Asian contexts even in this increasingly globalized era This impressive collection of case studies of a diverse group of societies informs and enriches understanding of the complex relationship between citizenship education and the curriculum both regionally and globally

Social Education in Asia David L. Grossman, Joe Tin-Yau Lo, 2007-10-01 This book aims to fill this gap in the scholarship on social education by drawing on the research findings and or experiences from scholars in eight East and Southeast Asian societies In this regard the editors of this book hope that it will be a significant addition to the literature and will shed light on how the social education curricula are constructed and implemented across these societies in response to both internal and external forces At the same time this book is not a comprehensive survey of social education in the region Rather it is a selective set of case studies examining contested and compelling issues in the debates about social education in eight diverse societies in East and Southeast Asia The book will be intellectually stimulating and inspiring not only to the social educators and comparativists who can see more about social science education from non western perspectives but also to curriculum developers policy makers social educators and front line teachers who can enrich their professional experiences through learning from other countries regions
