

COGNITIVE ABILITY — TIPS AND HINTS

SAMPLE OF COGNITIVE ABILITY TEST QUESTIONS

This section provides a sample of some verbal, numerical and abstract reasoning questions that may assist you in preparing for the QPS Cognitive Ability Test. After familiarising yourself with the format, structure, and types of questions that may be asked, you can self-assess your verbal, numerical and abstract reasoning abilities by completing three "sample" tests below.

We don't do boring!

Verbal Reasoning:

Verbal reasoning tests your ability to think, reason and solve problems in different ways using the use of language. It aims to examine your ability to think constructively, rather than at simple fluency or vocabulary recognition. Questions range from defining words, providing synonyms and recognising antonyms, through to identifying the underlying meanings of common words, phrases and sentences.

Example Questions:

1. The girl sings in a choir. All singers in the choir play a musical instrument. The girl plays a musical instrument. Assuming the first 2 statements are true, is the final statement:
a) True b) False c) Not certain?
2. Minutes is to time as centimetres is to ...
a) Measure
b) Long
c) Length
d) Second
e) Metre
3. PRESENT RESERVE – Do these words:
a) Have similar meanings
b) Have contradictory meanings
c) Mean neither the same nor opposite?

Numerical Reasoning:

Numerical reasoning tests your ability to perform reasoning tasks involving the use of numbers and other mathematical concepts, such as algebra and geometry. Questions range from simple operations in addition, subtraction, multiplication or division to more specialised questions about number sequences and applied mathematical questions mirroring real-world situations. Information is provided that requires you to interpret it and then apply the appropriate logic to answer the questions. Sometimes the questions are designed to approximate the type of reasoning required in the workplace.

Example Questions:

1. Chocolates sell for 13 cents each. What will four chocolates cost?
2. An athlete can run 80 metres in 8 seconds. At this same speed, how many metres will she travel in 24 seconds?
3. When hay is selling at $15.00 per bundle, how many bundles can you buy for $75.00?
4. 4, 8, 12, 16 ... what number comes next?
5. Travelling constantly at 80 km/hour, how long will it take to travel 200km?

Counter-Terrorism Community Engagement Jason Hartley, 2021-04-20 This book offers insights into the building of trust in Muslim communities through community engagement in a climate of counter terrorism Police engagement with Muslim communities is complex with a history of distrust This book first attempts to understand the role and implications of uncertainty on community engagement in Muslim communities and then explores the cultural nuances associated with the demonstration of trustworthiness and decisions to bestow trust It further highlights the complexities and implications for Muslim leaders when trying to simultaneously engage police and appease their own communities the book exposes community perceptions of an over reaction by authorities that has moved suspicion from a handful of terrorists to the entire Muslim community resulting in problematic community perceptions that Muslim communities are being targeted by police The findings suggest that the intentionality of police is a highly significant consideration in trust negotiations and reveals a number of cultural preferences considered critical to trust negotiations The book further highlights opportunities to enhance the development of trust and avoid pitfalls that can be problematic to community engagement The lessons learned seek to enhance the existing body of literature regarding strategies and resources to improve counter terrorism community engagement with Muslim communities This book will be of much interest to students of counter terrorism preventing violent extremism deradicalization and security studies

Neuroscience perspectives on Security: Technology, Detection, and Decision Making Elena Rusconi, Kenneth C. Scott-Brown, Andrea Szymkowiak, 2015-08-03 In security science efficient operation depends typically on the interaction between technology human and machine detection and human and machine decision making A perfect example of this interplay is gatekeeping which is aimed to prevent the passage of people and objects that represent known threats from one end to the other end of an access point Gatekeeping is most often achieved via visual inspections mass screening random sample probing and or more targeted controls on attempted passages at points of entry Points of entry may be physical e g national borders or virtual e g connection log ons Who and what are defined as security threats and the resources available to gatekeepers determine the type of checks and technologies that are put in place to ensure appropriate access control More often than not the net performance of technology aided screening and authentication systems ultimately depends on the characteristics of human operators Assessing cognitive affective behavioural perceptual and brain processes that may affect gatekeepers while undertaking this task is fundamental On the other hand assessing the same processes in those individuals who try to breach access to secure systems e g hackers and try to cheat controls e g smugglers is equally fundamental and challenging From a security standpoint it is vital to be able to anticipate focus on and correctly interpret the signals connected with such attempts to breach access and or elude controls in order to be proactive and to enact appropriate responses Knowing cognitive behavioral social and neural constraints that may affect the security enterprise will undoubtedly result in a more effective deployment of existing human and technological resources Studying how inter observer variability human factors and biology may affect the security agenda and the usability of existing security technologies is of great economic and policy interest In addition brain sciences may suggest the possibility of novel methods of surveillance and intelligence gathering This is just one example of a typical security issue that may be fruitfully tackled from a neuroscientific and interdisciplinary perspective The objective of our Research Topic was to document across relevant disciplines some of the most recent developments ideas methods and empirical findings that have the potential to expand our knowledge of the human factors involved in the security process To this end we welcomed empirical contributions using different methodologies such as those applied in human cognitive neuroscience biometrics and ethology We also accepted original theoretical contributions in the form of review articles perspectives or opinion papers on this topic The submissions brought together researchers from different backgrounds to discuss topics which have scientific applicative and social relevance
