Alas Babylon Pat Frank:

Alas, Babylon Pat Frank, 1976 A story of a group of people who rely on their own courage and ingenuity to survive in a town which escaped nuclear bombing Alas, Babylon Pat Frank, 2025-03-18 An extraordinary real picture of human beings numbed by catastrophe but still driven by the unconquerable determination of living creatures to keep on being alive The New Yorker The classic apocalyptic novel by Pat Frank first published in 1959 at the height of the Cold War with an introduction by award winning science fiction writer and scientist David Brin Alas Babylon With those fateful words the world as we knew it ended When the unthinkable nightmare of nuclear holocaust ravaged the United States it was instant death for tens of millions of people for survivors it was a nightmare of hunger sickness and brutality In an instant a thousand years of civilization were stripped away But for one small Florida town spared against all odds the struggle was just beginning as men and women of all ages and races found the courage to join together and push against the darkness Pat Frank's classic disaster novel first published in 1959 at the height of the Cold War remains prescient in its vision and immediate in its horror

The Spectre of Defeat in Post-War British and US Literature

David Owen,Cristina Pividori,2021-01-22 It is a commonplace belief that history is written by the victorious However less recognised but equally common is the idea that the defeated also write history even if their particular account is rather different This collection looks at these matters from a novel and distinct perspective It essentially presents the idea that victors often perceive themselves as defeated by examining the ways in which the idea of defeat comes to dominate the victors own sense of superiority and achievement thereby undermining the certainties that victory is conventionally thought to create The contributions here discuss fiction mostly UK and US published since the First World War Through the frameworks of experience memory and post memory they examine this subliminal defeat basically as seen in conflict itself in the societies that it affects and in the individual lives of those who it destroys The result is an innovative literary account of the victorious yet somehow defeated
