Aging With Grace What The Nun Study Teaches Us About Leading Longer Healthier And More Meaningful:

Aging with Grace David Snowdon, 2008-11-19 In 1986 Dr David Snowdon one of the world's leading experts on Alzheimer's disease embarked on a revolutionary scientific study that would forever change the way we view aging and ultimately living. Dubbed the Nun Study because it involves a unique population of 678 Catholic sisters, this remarkable long-term research project has made headlines worldwide with its provocative discoveries. Yet Aging with Grace is more than a groundbreaking health and science book. It is the inspiring human story of these remarkable women ranging in age from 74 to 106 whose dedication to serving others may help all of us live longer and healthier lives. Totally accessible with fascinating portraits of the nuns and the scientists who study them, Aging with Grace also offers a wealth of practical findings: Why building linguistic ability in childhood may protect against Alzheimer's. Which ordinary foods promote longevity and healthy brain function. Why preventing strokes and depression is key to avoiding Alzheimer's. What role heredity plays and why it's never too late to start an exercise program. How attitude, faith, and community can add years to our lives. A prescription for hope. Aging with Grace shows that old age doesn't have to mean an inevitable slide into illness and disability; rather, it can be a time of promise and productivity, intellectual and spiritual vigor, a time of true grace.

Joyspan Dr. Kerry Burnight, 2025-08-05 From America's Gerontologist, a practical guide that offers a radical and optimistic approach to longevity. Dr. Kerry Burnight, known to her many followers as Dr. Kerry, is sparking a revolution to make older better. Fed up with the fear-driven anti-aging hysteria, hundreds of thousands of people turn to Dr. Kerry for her practical, effective, and uplifting approach to navigating longevity, our parents', and our own. In Joyspan, Dr. Kerry shares her popular philosophy and tools in a comprehensive resource that moves readers from fear to peaceful confidence. Dr. Kerry's insights, along with those of her inspiring 95-year-old mother Betty, are based upon a profound truth: the key to good longevity isn't the length of your life; it's the quality of your life. Books that advance lifespan and healthspan don't address the whole picture. Dr. Kerry introduces readers to the critical concept of joyspan, based on the science of well-being, contentment, connection, meaning, growth, choice, and purpose. Part manifesto, part how-to guide, Joyspan proves that internal strength is as critical as external fitness. Filled with both perspective-shifting strategies and troubleshooting for the specific challenges of aging, including caregiving, dementia, unexpected diagnoses, isolation, uncoupling via death or divorce, financial concerns, and more, this book is an essential resource for a generation looking for a better way to grow older and to help our aging parents do the same.

The Alzheimer Conundrum Margaret Lock, 2013-10-27 Why our approaches to Alzheimer's and dementia are problematic and contradictory. Due to rapidly aging populations, the number of people worldwide experiencing dementia is increasing, and the projections are grim. Despite billions of dollars invested in medical research, no effective treatment has been discovered for Alzheimer's disease, the most common form of dementia. The Alzheimer Conundrum exposes the predicaments embedded in current efforts to slow down or halt Alzheimer's disease through early detection of pre-symptomatic biological changes in healthy individuals. Based on a meticulous account of the history of Alzheimer's disease and extensive in depth interviews Margaret Lock highlights the limitations and the dissent associated with biomarker detection Lock argues that basic research must continue but should be complemented by a public health approach to prevention that is economically feasible more humane and much more effective globally than one exclusively focused on an increasingly harried search for a cure

Life Reimagined Barbara Bradley Hagerty, 2017-03-14 Barbara Bradley Hagerty is a wise and engaging guide through the possibilities of middle age Daniel H Pink author of To Sell Is Human and Drive A dynamic and inspiring exploration of the new science that is redrawing the future for people in their forties fifties and sixties for the better and for good There's no such thing as an inevitable midlife crisis Barbara Bradley Hagerty writes in this provocative hopeful book It's a myth an illusion New scientific research explodes the fable that midlife is a time when things start to go downhill for everybody In fact midlife can be a great new adventure when you can embrace fresh possibilities purposes and pleasures In Life Reimagined Hagerty explains that midlife is about renewal It's the time to renegotiate your purpose refocus your relationships and transform the way you think about the world and yourself Drawing from emerging information in neurology psychology biology genetics and sociology as well as her own story of midlife transformation Hagerty redraws the map for people in midlife and plots a new course forward in understanding our health our relationships even our futures

The Aging Individual Susan Krauss Whitbourne, 2002-10-10 Continuing in the tradition of the first edition Whitbourne's identity process model serves to integrate the physiological with a psychological perspective The effects of physical changes on the individual are examined in terms of identity as well as the impact of identity on the interpretation of these changes The preventive and compensatory steps that individuals can take to offset the aging process are explored as well As with the first edition a major strength of this text is the author's illumination of complex biological concepts in a clear and accessible style The Second Edition includes new material focusing on demographic statistics chronic diseases the biopsychosocial perspective and successful aging This edition also features new charts tables and figures to highlight the text This is an excellent text for advanced undergraduate and graduate students in the fields of psychology gerontology and social work

Spring Chicken Bill Gifford, 2024-09-24 An enlightening book and a terrific read this New York Times bestseller explores the anti aging science revealing the truth behind getting old Wall Street Journal Spring Chicken is a high energy ride through the latest research popular mythology and ancient wisdom on mankind's oldest obsession How can we live longer And better In his funny self deprecating voice veteran reporter Bill Gifford takes readers on a fascinating journey through the science of aging from the obvious signs like wrinkles and baldness right down into the innermost workings of cells We visit cutting edge labs where scientists are working to hack the aging process Gifford reveals why some people live past one hundred without even trying what has happened with resveratrol the red wine pill that made headlines a few years ago how your fat tissue is trying to kill you and how it's possible to unlock longevity promoting pathways that are programmed into our very genes Gifford separates the wheat from the chaff as he exposes hoaxes and scams foisted upon an aging society and arms readers with the best possible advice on what to do what not to do and what life changing treatments may be right around the corner A riveting account of the most important change of the last century the doubling of our lifespans and an intimate vision of what it will take to not only keep that trend going but keep ourselves healthy and vibrant as we age Steven Johnson New York Times bestseller of How We Got to Now An entertaining narrative of the perils of getting old Kirkus Reviews

Ageing Nancy A. Pachana, 2016-11-17 Ageing is an activity we are familiar with from an early age In our younger years upcoming birthdays are anticipated with an excitement that somewhat diminishes as the years progress As we grow older we are bombarded with advice on ways to overcome thwart resist and on the rare occasion embrace one s ageing Have all human beings from the various historical epochs and cultures viewed aging with this same ambivalence In this Very Short Introduction Nancy A Pachana discusses the lifelong dynamic changes in biological psychological and social functioning involved in ageing Increased lifespans in the developed and the developing world have created an urgent need to find ways to enhance our functioning and well being in the later decades of life and this need is reflected in policies and action plans addressing our ageing populations from the World Health Organization and the United Nations Looking to the future Pachana considers advancements in the provision for our ageing populations including revolutionary models of nursing home care such as Green House nursing homes in the USA and Small Group Living homes in the Netherlands She shows that understanding the process of ageing is not only important for individuals but also for societies and nations if the full potential of those entering later life is to be realised ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

Dying for a Hamburger Murray Waldman, Marjorie Lamb, 2025-06-25 One in ten people older than sixty five and nearly half of those older than eighty five have Alzheimer s disease It s widely accepted nowadays that memory loss comes with age Alzheimer s currently robs at least 15 million people of their identity worldwide This book makes the controversial claim that eating meat may contribute to the development of the disease In Dying for a Hamburger Dr Murray Waldman and Marjorie Lamb draw upon documentary evidence historical testimony and inspired speculation to suggest that Alzheimer s is a new disease elderly people did not experience symptoms of dementia in such alarming numbers in the past began appearing after modern meat production techniques were introduced has soared in nations where these techniques are used hardly exists in cultures where meat consumption is low has been attributed to many deaths that are actually the human equivalent of mad cow disease They present startling evidence that Alzheimer s may be part of a family of diseases linked to malformed proteins known as prions They hypothesize that the conditions that allow these brain disorders to be triggered are similar They propose that mad cow its human equivalent Creutzfeldt Jakob disease CJD other encephalitic diseases and Alzheimer s may have a common antecedent We know that a form of CJD is transmitted to humans who eat contaminated beef And we are becoming increasingly aware of the need to monitor the meat supply closely to avoid a repetition of the mad cow scare in Great Britain But suppose that Alzheimer s also involves prions the evidence that points in this direction is growing And suppose that Alzheimer s is also associated with tainted meat This conclusion seems far fetched at first In this compelling book the authors come to a frightening conclusion about our seemingly insatiable hunger for hamburgers Destined to provoke heated argument this book on the prevention of Alzheimer s is definitely food for thought

Philosophical Anthropology Kevin M. Cahill, Martin Gustafsson, Thomas Schwarz Wentzer, 2017-05-22 World leading anthropologists and philosophers pursue the perplexing question fundamental to both disciplines What is it to think of ourselves as human A common theme is the open ended and context dependent nature of our notion of the human one upshot of which is that perplexities over that notion can only be dealt with in a piecemeal fashion and in relation to concrete real life circumstances Philosophical anthropology understood as the exploration of such perplexities will thus be both recognizably philosophical in character and inextricably bound up with anthropological fieldwork The volume is put together accordingly Precisely by mixing ostensibly philosophical papers with papers that engage in close anthropological study of concrete issues it is meant to reflect the vital tie between these two aspects of the overall philosophical anthropological enterprise The collection will be of great interest to philosophers and anthropologists alike and essential reading for anyone interested in the interconnections between the two disciplines
