Aim and purpose

This unit provides awareness in the potential risks and hazards within the Salon environment, knowing how to identify them and the responsibilities and procedures to deal with them.

The information you will learn underpins all other units you will take in this qualification and you will be observed applying health and safety practices within all your practical treatments.

Unit introduction

All work environments present potential risks and hazards to the individuals who use the space. It is the responsibility of all involved in the company to ensure a high standard of health and safety working practices are adhered to.

Employers need to make sure they follow all the areas specified in the Health and safety at work act 1974.

This unit will help you to understand your responsibilities, how to identify potential risks and hazards and how to report them correctly. This unit will also explore how to deal with emergency and evacuation procedures, security protocols and fire fighting requirements.

You will also learn about your responsibilities to ensure high standards of hygiene are applied when carrying out treatments. The following website may support you with your research.
