Attack Of The Difficult Poems Essays And Inventions:

Attack of the Difficult Poems Charles Bernstein, 2011-04-30 Charles Bernstein is our postmodern jester of American poesy equal part surveyor of democratic vistas and scholar of avant garde sensibilities In a career spanning thirty five years and forty books he has challenged and provoked us with writing that is decidedly unafraid of the tensions between ordinary and poetic language and between everyday life and its adversaries Attack of the Difficult Poems his latest collection of essays gathers some of his most memorably irreverent work while addressing seriously and comprehensively the state of contemporary humanities the teaching of unconventional forms fresh approaches to translation the history of language media and the connections between poetry and visual art Applying an array of essayistic styles Attack of the Difficult Poems ardently engages with the promise of its title Bernstein introduces his key theme of the difficulty of poems and defends often in comedic ways not just difficult poetry but poetry itself Bernstein never loses his ingenious ability to argue or his consummate attention to detail Along the way he offers a wide ranging critique of literature s place in the academy taking on the vexed role of innovation and approaching it from the perspective of both teacher and practitioner From blues artists to Tin Pan Alley song lyricists to Second Wave modernist poets The Attack of the Difficult Poems sounds both a battle cry and a lament for the task of the language maker and the fate of invention The Cambridge Companion to

Twenty-First-Century American Poetry Timothy Yu, 2021-03-11 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to studying the diversity of American poetry in the twenty first century Anthologizing Canadian Literature Robert Lecker, 2015-11-02 The first collection of critical essays devoted to the study of English Canadian literary anthologies brings together the work of thirteen prominent critics to investigate anthology formation in Canada and answer these key questions Why are there so many literary anthologies in Canada and how can we trace their history What role have anthologies played in the formation of Canadian literary taste How have anthologies influenced the training of students from generation to generation What literary values do the editors of various anthologies tend to support and how do these values affect canon formation in Canada How have different genres fared in the creation of literary anthologies How do Canadian anthologies transmit ideas about gender region ideology and nation Specific essays focus on anthologies as national metaphors the controversies surrounding early literary collections representations of First Nations peoples in anthologies and the ways in which various editors have understood exploration narratives In addition the collection examines the representation of women in Canadian anthologies the use of anthologies as teaching tools and the creation of some very odd Canadian anthologies along the way

The Kinds of Poetry I Want Charles Bernstein, 2024-11-28 A celebration of the radical poetics of invention from Charles Bernstein For more than four decades Charles Bernstein has been at the forefront of experimental poetry ever reaching for a radical poetics that defies schools periods and cultural institutions The Kinds of Poetry I Want is a celebration of invention and includes not only poetry but also essays on aesthetics and literary studies interviews with other poets autobiographical sketches and more At once a dialogic novel long poem and grand opera The Kinds of Poetry I Want arrives amid renewed attacks on humanistic expression In his polemical humorous style Bernstein faces these challenges head on and affirms the enduring vitality and attraction of poetry poetics and literary criticism Pitch of Poetry Charles Bernstein,2016-03-21 Bernstein a leading voice in American literary theory writes an irreverent guide to modernist and contemporary poetics

Profile Pieces Sue Joseph,Richard Lance Keeble,2015-10-14 This book examines the history theory and journalistic practice of profile writing Profiles and the practice of writing them are of increasing interest to scholars of journalism because conflicts between the interviewer and the subject exemplify the changing nature of journalism itself While the subject often through the medium of their press representative struggles to retain control of the interview space the journalist seeks to subvert it This interesting and multi layered interaction however has rarely been subject to critical scrutiny partly because profiles have traditionally been regarded as public relations exercises or as soft journalism However chapters in this volume reveal not only that profiling has historically taken many different forms but that the idea of the interview as a contested space has applications beyond the subject of celebrated individuals The volume looks at the profile s historical beginnings at the contemporary manufacture of celebrity versus the ordinary at profiling communities countries and movements at profiling the destitute at sporting personalities and finally at profiling and trauma The Organization of Distance Lucas Klein,2018-07-17 What makes a Chinese poem Chinese Some call modern Chinese poetry insufficiently Chinese saying it is so influenced by foreign texts that it has lost the essence of Chinese culture as known in premodern poetry Yet that argument overlooks how premodern regulated verse was itself created in imitation of foreign poetics Looking at Bian Zhilin and Yang Lian in the twentieth century alongside medieval Chinese poets such as Wang Wei Du Fu and Li Shangyin The Organization of Distance applies the notions of foreignization and nativization to Chinese poetry to argue that the impression of poetic Chineseness has long been a product of translation from forces both abroad and in the past

Imagining the Jewish God Leonard Kaplan,Ken Koltun-Fromm,2016-09-09 Jewish art has always been with us but so has a broader canvas of Jewish imaginings in thought in emotion in text and in ritual practice Imagining the Jewish God was there in the beginning as it were engraved and embedded in the ways Jews lived and responded to their God This book attempts to give voice to these diverse imaginings of the Jewish God and offers these collected essays and poems as a living text meant to provoke a substantive and nourishing dialogue A responsive living covenant lies at the heart of this book a covenantal reciprocity that actively engages the dynamics of Jewish thinking and acting in dialogue with God The contributors to this volume are committed to this form of textual reasoning even as they all move us beyond the text as foundational for the imagined people of the book That people we submit lives and breathes in and beyond the texts of poetry narrative sacred literature film and graphic mediums We imagine the Jewish people and the covenant they respond to as provocative intimations of the divine The essays in this volume seek to draw these vocal intimations out so that we can all hear their resonant call The Lyre Book Matthew Kilbane,2024-02-27 Redefines modern lyric poetry at the intersection of literary and media studies In The Lyre Book Matthew Kilbane urges literary scholars to consider lyric not as a genre or a reading practice but as a media condition the generative tension between writing and sound In addition to clarifying issues central to the study of modern poetry including its proximity to popular song hallowed objecthood and seeming autonomy from historical determination this revisionary theory of lyric presents a new history of modern US poetry as one sonorous practice among many clamorous others Focusing on the mid twentieth century Kilbane traces the impact of new sound technologies on a diverse array of literary and musical works by Lorine Niedecker Harry Partch Louis and Celia Zukofsky Sterling Brown John Wheelwright Langston Hughes Marianne Moore Russell Atkins and Helen Adam Kilbane shows how literary critics can look to media history to illuminate poetry's social life and how media scholars can read poetry for insight into the cultural history of technology In this book the lyric poem emerges as a sensitive barometer of technological change

Literary History and Avant-Garde Poetics in the Antipodes A. J. Carruthers,2024-03-05 Avant garde poetry in the Antipodes causes all sorts of trouble for literary history It is an avant garde that seems to arrive too late and yet right on time In 1897 Christopher Brennan made his own version of Un Coup de Dés the same year Mallarmé published it in Cosmopolis In the 1940s the same period avant gardism was declared dead or fatally injured due to the Ern Malley affair Harry Hooton began writing a significant body of experimental poetry From the 1950s to the 1970s Australian Dada emerged belatedly through figures like Jas H Duke Tristan Tzara had previously sung Aboriginal songs at the Cabaret Voltaire in 1916 First Nations and Migrant poets then began reinventing avant garde poetry in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries This book maintains that such a confounding literary history poses a distinct challenge to the theories of the avant gardes we have become accustomed to and changes our perspective of avant garde time The Academic Avant-Garde Kimberly Quiogue Andrews,2023-01-10 The surprising story of the relationship between experimental poetry and literary studies In The Academic Avant Garde Kimberly Quiogue Andrews makes a provocative case for the radical poetic possibilities of the work of literary scholarship and lays out a foundational theory of literary production in the context of the university In her examination of the cross pollination between the analytic humanities and the craft of poetry writing Andrews tells a bold story about some of today's most innovative literary works This pathbreaking intervention into contemporary American literature and higher education demonstrates that experimental poetry not only reflects nuanced concern about creative writing as a discipline but also uses the critical techniques of scholarship as a cornerstone of poetic practice Structured around the concepts of academic labor such as teaching and methodological work such as theorizing the book traces these practices in the works of authors ranging from Claudia Rankine to John Ashbery providing fresh readings of some of our era's most celebrated and difficult poets The Cambridge History of Asian American Literature Rajini Srikanth,Min Hyung Song,2015-12-01 The Cambridge History of Asian American Literature presents a comprehensive history of the field from its origins in the nineteenth century to the present day It offers an unparalleled examination of all facets of Asian American writing that help readers to understand how authors have sought to make their experiences meaningful Covering subjects from autobiography and Japanese American internment literature to contemporary drama and social protest performance this History traces the development of a literary tradition while remaining grounded in current scholarship It also presents new critical approaches to Asian American literature that will serve the needs of students and specialists alike Written by leading scholars in the field The Cambridge History of Asian American Literature will not only engage readers in contemporary debates but also serve as a definitive reference for years to come

Finding Nothing Gregory Betts, 2021-08-13 Finding Nothing explores the eruption of avant garde writing in Vancouver that re-invented the culture of the city in the second half of the twentieth century

Pacifist Invasions Yasser Elhariry, 2017 Pacifist Invasions is about what happens to the contemporary French lyric in the translingual Arabic context Drawing on lyric theory comparative poetics and linguistics it reveals three generic modes of translating Arabic poetics into French in works by Habib Tengour Algeria Edmond Jabès Egypt Salah Stéti Lebanon Abdelwahab Meddeb Tunisia and Ryoko Sekiguchi Japan

Translation Jan Steyn, 2022-09-22 The various dimensions of translation studies too often studied independently are here brought into conversation Translation practice including the various crafts employed by its practitioners the specialized contexts in which translation occurs or against which translation can be considered and the ethico-political consequences of translations or the manner of their making Including exciting new work from leading translation theorists practicing literary translators and prominent thinkers from adjoining disciplines such as psychoanalysis and neuroscience the essays gathered here demonstrate many rich areas of overlap with translation pedagogy the fundamental nature of translation the translator's creativity retranslation canon formation and the geopolitical stakes of literary translation among them

The Philosophy of Poetry John Gibson, 2015 In recent years philosophers have produced important books on nearly all the major arts the novel and painting music and theatre dance and architecture conceptual art and even gardening Poetry is the sole exception This is an astonishing omission one this collection of original essays will correct If contemporary philosophy still regards metaphors such as Juliet is the sun as a serious problem one has an acute sense of how prepared it is to make philosophical and aesthetic sense of poems such as W.B. Yeats's The Second Coming Sylvia Plath's Daddy or Paul Celan's Todesfuge The Philosophy of Poetry brings together philosophers of art language and mind to expose and address the array of problems poetry raises for philosophy In doing so it lays the foundation for a proper philosophy of poetry setting out the various puzzles and paradoxes that future work in the field will have to address Given its breadth of approach the volume is relevant not only to aesthetics but to all areas of philosophy concerned with meaning truth and the communicative and expressive powers of language more generally Poetry is the last unexplored frontier in contemporary analytic aesthetics and this volume offers a powerful demonstration of how central poetry should be to philosophy

Afterlives of Romantic Intermediality

Leena Eilittä, Catherine Riccio-Berry, 2015-12-24 Afterlives of Romantic Intermediality addresses the manifold even global artistic developments that were initiated by European Romantics In the first section the contributors show how the rising perspective of intermediality was discussed in philosophical terms and adapted itself to Romantic literature and music In the second section the contributors show how post Romantic writers visual artists and composers have engaged with Romantic heritage By exploring primary works that range from European arts to Latin American literature these essays focus on the interdisciplinary developments that have emerged in literature music painting film architecture and video art Overall the contributions in this volume demonstrate that intermedial connections or sometimes the conscious lack of such connections embody intriguing aspects of modernity and postmodernity Audiobooks, Literature, and Sound Studies Matthew Rubery, 2011-05-09 This is the first scholarly work to examine the cultural significance of the talking book since the invention of the phonograph in 1877 the earliest machine to enable the reproduction of the human voice Recent advances in sound technology make this an opportune moment to reflect on the evolution of our reading practices since this remarkable invention Some questions addressed by the collection include How does auditory literature adapt printed texts What skills in close listening are necessary for its reception What are the social consequences of new listening technologies In sum the essays gathered together by this collection explore the extent to which the audiobook enables us not just to hear literature but to hear it in new ways Bringing together a set of reflections on the enrichments and impoverishments of the reading experience brought about by developments in sound technology this collection spans the earliest adaptations of printed texts into sound by Charles Dickens Thomas Hardy and other novelists from the late nineteenth century to recordings by contemporary figures such as Toni Morrison and Barack Obama at the turn of the twenty first century As the voices gathered here suggest it is time to give a hearing to one of the most talked about new media of the past century Poetry, Publishing, and Visual Culture from Late Modernism to the Twenty-first Century Natalie Pollard, 2020-05-27 This is a book about contemporary literary and artistic entanglements word and image media and materiality inscription and illustration It proposes a vulnerable fugitive mode of reading poetry which defies disciplinary categorisations embracing the open endedness and provisionality of forms This manifests itself interactively in the six case studies which have been chosen for their distinctness and diversity across the long twentieth century the book begins with the early twentieth century work of writer and artist Djuna Barnes exploring her re animation of sculptural and dramatic sources It then turns to the late modernist artist and poet David Jones considering his use of the graphic and plastic arts in The Anathemata and next to the underappreciated mid century poet F T Prince whose work uncannily re activates Michelangelo's poetry and sculpture The second half of the book explores the collaborations of the canonical poet Ted Hughes with the publisher and artist Leonard Baskin during the 1970s the innovative late twentieth century poetry of Denise Riley who uses page space and embodied sound as a form of address and finally the contemporary poet Paul Muldoon who has collaborated with photographers and artists as well as ventriloquising nonhuman phenomena The resulting unique study offers contemporary writers and readers a new understanding of literary artistic and nonhuman practices and shows the cultural importance of engaging with their messy co dependencies The book challenges critical methodologies that make a sharp division between the textual work and the extra literary and raises urgent questions about the status and autonomy of art and its social role Kill the Documentary Jill Godmilow, 2022-03-22 Can the documentary be useful Can a film change how its viewers think about the world and their potential role in it In Kill the Documentary the award winning director Jill Godmilow issues an urgent call for a new kind of nonfiction filmmaking She critiques documentary films from Nanook of the North to the recent Ken Burns Lynn Novick series The Vietnam War Tethered to what Godmilow calls the pedigree of the real and the pornography of the real they fail to activate their viewers engagement with historical or present day problems Whether depicting the hardships of poverty or the horrors of war conventional documentaries produce an us watching them mode that ultimately reinforces self satisfaction and self absorption In place of the conventional documentary Godmilow advocates for a postrealist cinema Instead of offering the faux empathy and sentimental spectacle of mainstream documentaries postrealist nonfiction films are acts of resistance They are experimental interventionist performative and transformative Godmilow demonstrates how a film can produce meaningful useful experience by forcefully challenging ways of knowing and how viewers come to understand the world She considers her own career as a filmmaker as well as the formal and political strategies of artists such as Luis Bu uel Georges Franju Harun Farocki Trinh T Minh ha Rithy Panh and other directors Both manifesto and guidebook Kill the Documentary proposes provocative new ways of making and watching films
