This study investigates the relationship between executive compensation, audit quality, and accrual and real earnings management in Jordan. While prior literature focuses on examining the impact of audit quality on accrual earnings management in Jordan, this study contributes to the literature by investigating the impact of executive compensation on real earnings management activities in Jordan. Further, this study contributes to the literature by investigating the impact of audit quality on real earnings management. By examining a Jordanian sample of 445 firm-year observations over the period from 2000 to 2011, this study presents new evidence that executive compensation is positively associated with accrual earnings management, suggesting that managers engage in accrual earnings management to increase reported earnings and, therefore, increase their pay-performance compensation. Further, the results show that managers who engaged in a higher level of real earnings management (via sales-based manipulation) received a lower level of compensation, suggesting that managers in Jordan are punished for the use of real activities. In terms of audit quality, the results show no evidence that audit quality is associated with accrual and real earnings management in Jordan. This study uses the corrected model of Jones (1991) as suggested by Dechow et al. (1995) to estimate normal accruals, while the models of Roychowdhury (2006) are used to estimate real earnings management activities.

1. INTRODUCTION

The aim of this paper is to examine the relationship between executive compensation, audit quality, and accrual and real earnings management in Jordan. Recent research has shown increased interest in exploring earnings management practices by Jordanian public firms (e.g. Abed et al., 2012; Hamdan et al., 2013; Abu Jebri and Al-Thuneibat, 2016; Alzoubi, 2016; Alqatamin et al., 2017; Al-Shar and Dongfang, 2017; Ibrahim and Al Awwadeh, 2017). However, to date, there has been very limited research that has examined whether executive compensation and audit quality are associated with earnings management practices. Further, while prior research has mainly focused on accrual earnings management, this study has extended the literature to examine real earnings management activities that undertaken by Jordanian public firms.

Global Comparability of Financial Reporting Under IFRS Francesco De Luca,Ho-Tan-Phat Phan,2022-11-14 The globalization of financial markets worldwide has progressively pushed toward simultaneous globalization of accounting information Thus during the last 50 years categories of preparers users and regulators have devoted their efforts to support the global comparability of financial reporting aiming at favoring the comparison of corporates financial performances at a cross country level In the same vein IASB national standard setters and jurisdictions have participated in and given momentum to this process At the same time academic research has followed this process and tried to build a theoretical framework to address the related issues to assess the impact on preparers users and regulators while defining hindrances and obstacles to the comparability of financial reporting especially in an IFRS environment In this context this book reviews research studies on the comparability of financial reporting at a global level as well as highlights empirical analyses that demonstrate the extent to which global comparability has been achieved and how it enhances value relevance of earnings across countries It also looks at the cross country investors perspectives by shaping the empirical analysis to provide further insights on the role of the Big Four auditing services in enhancing the comparability of earnings The book provides an original contribution to the current debate about the comparability of financial reporting under IFRS and will be useful for researchers in the field

Evidence on the Relation between Audit and Earnings Quality. Do Clients of Higher Quality Auditors Provide Better Financial Reporting? ,2017-06-20 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject Business economics Accounting and Taxes grade 1 3 language English abstract This paper studies the relation between audit and earnings quality It examines whether firms audited by a Big 4 member engage in higher earnings management activities as proxied by the magnitude of discretionary and absolute accruals as well as an income smoothing measure The author predicts that large auditors have higher competencies and incentives to deliver a higher quality audit Therefore their clients are expected to reveal less sophisticated earnings management and thus higher earnings quality The results do not support this relation Since standardsetters have been concerned about managers use of discretion to manage earnings in their financial reports an increasing amount of empirical research was conducted to address this issue additionally to regulation While independent auditors aim to assure that these statements are in accordance with legal compliance the actual audit quality can be grasped as the contingency that the auditor exposes and discloses an anomaly in their clients financial reports Whereas numerous audit scandals threaten the trustworthiness of well known large auditors there is various research revealing that Big N audited firms are supposed to disclose financial reports of higher quality Supplementing misleading accrual accounting practices in this regard this study also addresses another proxy for earnings management income smoothing Burgstahler and Dichev 1997 explain corporate income smoothing with the fact that managers avoid revealing earning decreases and losses to diminish costs arising from transactions with stakeholders Similarly Degeorge Patel and Zeckhauser 1999 show that managers smooth earnings to meet analysts forecasts On the other hand there are various contrary studies DeFond and Jimbalvo 1993 found that auditor client disagreements resulting from earnings management are more present in Big 4 audited firms They explain this with the properties of the common Big 4 clients For the reason of the ambiguous results it is interesting to study the effects and compare them with prior evidence to answer the question whether Big 4 auditors deliver higher quality in terms of a better financial reporting The terms are operationalized using a discretionary accruals and income smoothing measure and analyzed for non Big 4 audited UK firms in the period 2005-2011. Effects of Audit Quality on Real and Accrual Earnings Management and Subsequent Return Performance Mohammad Alhadab, 2016. We find that IPO firms engage in real and accrual earnings management during the IPO and that big N audit firms constrain discretionary expenses based and accrual based manipulations. The restriction of these forms of earnings management leads IPO firms to resort to a higher level of sales based manipulation. Our results show that both sales based and accrual based earnings management predict post IPO return underperformance and that sales based manipulation has the most severe negative consequences for future return performance. In addition, we find IPO firms audited by big N audit firms experience a severe decline in post IPO return performance due to the extensive use of sales based manipulation that takes place during the offer year.

Earnings Management. The Influence of Real and Accrual-Based Earnings Management on Earnings Quality, 2024-01-31. Master's Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject Business economics Accounting and Taxes University of Duisburg-Essen. Course Master Thesis language English abstract. This paper delves into various theories and approaches aiming to define and differentiate earnings management from related concepts such as fraud, expectation management, and impression management. It explores the goals and incentives driving earnings management, including maximizing or minimizing earnings, beating targets, and smoothing. At the onset of the new millennium, corporate scandals rocked the business world, eroding trust in management boards of directors and the accounting profession. In response, regulations and policies aimed at enhancing corporate governance and financial reporting were swiftly implemented. The credibility, clarity, and consistency of financial reporting practices play a pivotal role in enabling investors to make informed decisions. Accurate and fair financial performance representations, as opposed to inflated and misleading figures, are essential for market players, including shareholders and creditors. Investors rely on audited financial reports to guide their investment decisions, underscoring the critical importance of accuracy and reliability in publicly available financial disclosures. Auditors, by reducing the risk of material misstatement, ensure the integrity of the information disclosed in a company's financial statements. Management, with the goal of achieving promised targets and ensuring the company's existence, may engage in earnings management as a strategic contribution to corporate policy. Financial reporting serves as a means to distinguish well-performing companies from their counterparts, facilitating efficient resource allocation and empowering stakeholders to make effective decisions. The disclosed earnings results significantly impact a firm's overall business activities and management decisions, particularly in satisfying analysts' expectations, which can influence equity value. While accounting standards play a role, the quality of financial statements is more influenced by company-specific and institutional factors shaping managers' incentives. These factors lead to financial reporting practices being viewed as the outcome of a cost-benefit assessment.

The Effect of Audit Quality on Earnings Management Connie L. Becker, 1997 This study examines the relation between audit quality and earnings management Consistent with prior research we treat audit quality as a dichotomous variable and assume that Big Six auditors are of higher quality than non Big Six auditors Earnings management is captured by discretionary accruals that are estimated using a cross sectional version of the Jones 1991 model Prior literature suggests that auditors are more likely to object to management's accounting choices that increase earnings as opposed to decrease earnings and that auditors are more likely to be sued when they are associated with financial statements that overstate earnings as compared to understate earnings Therefore we hypothesize that clients of non Big Six auditors report discretionary accruals that increase income relatively more than the discretionary accruals reported by clients of Big Six auditors This hypothesis is supported by evidence from a sample of 10 379 Big Six and 2 179 non Big Six firm years Specifically clients of non Big Six auditors report discretionary accruals that are on average 1.5 to 2.1 percent of total assets higher than the discretionary accruals reported by clients of Big Six auditors Also consistent with earnings management we find that the mean and median of the absolute value of discretionary accruals are greater for firms with non Big Six auditors This also indicates that lower audit quality is associated with more "accounting flexibility" Auditing, 2008
