environmental justice thereby leading to mass armed conflict between them and the government security agencies. Sometimes the confrontation could be between them and other rival local resource actors in the informal sector of their country's economy bearing in mind that the resources within their jurisdiction have become the central determinant of national commonwealth. It is at that state of desperado to control access, extraction and sale of natural resources in a State by different armed groups that the process of natural resources extraction qualifies as the most visible cause of conflicts and crises around the African continent that is the centrepiece of the book. This is quite understandable given that mineral resource is a gift of nature and nature is that phenomenon that every human group and nation claim to represent or believe to represent them.
