Selvon's The Lonely Londoners (1956) is usually grouped with a number of works that help to form a picture of the lives of West Indians and descendants of West Indians in the United Kingdom. Of these, the earliest is Jean Rhys's novel, Voyage in the Dark (1934), our first Negritude novel, the story of a girl from the islands adrift in a mean and savage city ('this is London - hundreds thousands of white people rushing along and the dark houses all alike frowning down one after the other all alike and stuck together - the streets like smooth shut-in ravines and the dark houses frowning down - oh I'm not going to like this place I'm not going to like this place ...'). By the mid-1970s, emphases had changed. Linton Kwesi Johnson's Dread Beat and Blood (1975) gave soulful expression to the longing and violence of a generation born in England of West Indian parents, with little knowledge or experience of the West Indies, and without an

The Lonely Londoners Sam Selvon, 2014-09-25 Both devastating and funny The Lonely Londoners is an unforgettable account of immigrant experience and one of the great twentieth century London novels At Waterloo Station hopeful new arrivals from the West Indies step off the boat train ready to start afresh in 1950s London There homesick Moses Aloetta who has already lived in the city for years meets Henry Sir Galahad Oliver and shows him the ropes In this strange cold and foggy city where the natives can be less than friendly at the sight of a black face has Galahad met his Waterloo But the irrepressible newcomer cannot be cast down He and all the other lonely new Londoners from shiftless Cap to Tolroy whose family has descended on him from Jamaica must try to create a new life for themselves As pessimistic old veteran Moses watches their attempts they gradually learn to survive and come to love the heady excitements of London This Penguin Modern Classics edition includes an introduction by Susheila Nasta His Lonely Londoners has acquired a classics status since it appeared in 1956 as the definitive novel about London's West Indians Financial Times The unforgettable picaresque a vernacular comedy of pathos Guardian

Migration and Mental Health Marjory Harper, 2016-06-17 The relationship between migration and mental health is controversial contested and pertinent In a highly mobile world where voluntary and enforced movements of population are increasing and likely to continue to grow that relationship needs to be better understood yet the terminology is often vague and the issues are wide ranging Getting to grips with them requires tools drawn from different disciplines and professions Such a multidisciplinary approach is central to this book Six historical studies are integrated with chapters by a theologian geographer anthropologist social worker and psychiatrist to produce an evaluation that addresses key concepts and methodologies and reflects practical involvement as well as academic scholarship Ranging from the mid nineteenth century to the present the book explores the causes of mental breakdown among migrants the psychological changes stemming from their struggles with challenging life circumstances and changes in medical political and public attitudes and responses in different eras and locations

The Lonely Londoners Samuel Selvon, 2006 From the brilliant sharp witty pen of Sam Selvon this is a classic award winning novel of immigrant life in London in the 1950s

Pan-Caribbean Integration Patsy Lewis, Terri-Ann Gilbert-Roberts, Jessica Byron, 2017-12-14 A critical part of the history of regionalism in Latin America and the Caribbean is to be found in the widening of the economic and functional relationships among the English speaking Caribbean to embrace other countries in the Greater Caribbean Bringing together a range of international experts to explain the broad thrusts of CARICOM's widening project and the opportunities and challenges it presents the book pays particular attention to CARICOM's relations with the French Caribbean territories Providing a review of the pan Caribbean landscape this volume notes the impact of these new relationships on internal CARICOM affairs inter regional South South cooperation and political and legislative changes in European metropolises of the non independent territories It also contemplates recent developments in the region and globally such as political instability in Brazil and Venezuela Britain's decision to leave the European Union and the policies of the Donald Trump administration This edited collection will be an important resource for students and researchers in Latin American and Caribbean politics economics development history and heritage The British Civil Service Janice Morphet, 2025-05-28 Taking account of its evolution in recent decades this book provides an up to date account of the role of the Civil Service in the UK The book offers a much needed re-examination of the function and role of the Civil Service and considers the ways in which it has changed in response to today's pressures It examines the changing relationships between ministers civil servants and special advisers spADs as well as investigating challenges to the principles of the Civil Service such as service outsourcing COVID 19 responses and Brexit Asking whether the practices of the past are effective for the future this book is a vital resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of UK politics public administration and public sector management V. S. Naipaul of Trinidad Nivedita Misra, 2024-01-09 The book is about V S Naipaul who was born in Trinidad in 1932 At the age of 18 Naipaul left Trinidad on a scholarship to study literature at Oxford He never returned to live in Trinidad His first book was published in 1956 and by the time Trinidad achieved political independence in 1962 he had published four books and was firmly established as a writer in England By the time Trinidad became a republic in 1976 Naipaul had written 13 books and had travelled through much of the postcolonial world This book highlights how Trinidad and Naipaul were bound in a love hate relationship where Naipaul continued to pass Trinidad off as a cynical island where nothing was created while Trinidad had its share by laying back a claim on him and his writing It is generally perceived that Naipaul shunned his place of birth as he called his birth in Trinidad a mistake Trinidad an unimportant uncreative cynical place and the Caribbean as the Third World's Third World His refusal to acknowledge Trinidad in his initial response to receiving the Nobel Prize added insult to injury Yet he was deeply bound to the island of Trinidad and his roots in the Indo-Trinidadian community This book makes Naipaul's connection to Trinidad more than evident and as such adds to the present body of knowledge A Philosophical Inquiry into Subject English and Creative Writing Oli Belas, 2022-11-18 While engaging with the current political educational climate of England this book offers a timely contribution to debates around questions of knowledge in relation to education and school level English by drawing together theories of individual and disciplinary knowledge The book provides a philosophical conception of knowledge as fundamentally embodied at the level of the individual and a matter of cultural form at the level of shared or common knowledge and an analysis of the implications of this for schooled English The research draws from various related fields including literary criticism philosophy of knowledge and of symbolic form and phenomenology The book rethinks general notions of knowledge and lays out the problems that exist within knowledge and language systems in education especially secondary and university levels This highly relevant and informative book offers an insightful resource for academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of education studies educational policy and politics philosophy of education and literature studies Island Geographies Elaine Stratford, 2016-11-03 Islands and their environs aerial terrestrial aquatic may be understood as intensifiers their particular and distinctive geographies enabling concentrated study of many kinds of challenges and opportunities This edited collection brings together several emerging and established academics with expertise in island studies as well as interest in geopolitics governance adaptive capacity justice equity self determination environmental care and protection and land management Individually and together their perspectives provide theoretically useful empirically grounded evidence of the contributions human geographers can make to knowledge and understanding of island places and the place of islands Nine chapters engage with the themes issues and ideas that characterise the borderlands between island studies and human geography and allied fields and are contributed by authors for whom matters of place space environment and scale are key and for whom islands hold an abiding fascination The penultimate chapter is rather more experimental a conversation among these authors and the editor while the last chapter offers timely reflections upon island geographies past and future penned by the first named professor of island geography Stephen Royle Fighting Cane and Canon Rashi Rohatgi,2014-08-20 Fighting Cane and Canon Abhimanyu Unnuth and the Case of World Literature in Mauritius joins the growing field of modern Indian Ocean studies The book interrogates the development and persistence of Hindi poetry in Mauritius with a focus on the early poetry of Abhimanyu Unnuth His second work The Teeth of the Cactus brings together questions about the value of history of relationships forged by labour and of spirituality in a trenchant examination of a postcolonial people choosing to pursue prosperity in an age of globalization It captures a distinct point of view Unnuth s connection to the Hindi language is an unusual reaction to the creolization of the island but also a common experience both of Indian immigrants and of the reevaluation of their experience by Mauritians reaching adulthood as Unnuth did with the Independence of the Mauritian nation in 1968 The book argues that for literary scholars reading Abhimanyu Unnuth s poetry raises important questions about the methodological assumptions made when approaching so called marginal postcolonial works assumptions about translation language and canonicity through the emerging methodologies of World Literature British Fascism After the Holocaust Joe Mulhall,2020-10-21 This book explores the policies and ideologies of a number of individuals and groups who attempted to relaunch fascist antisemitic and racist politics in the wake of World War II and the Holocaust Despite the leading architects of fascism being dead and the newsreel footage of Jewish bodies being pushed into mass graves seared into societal consciousness fascism survived World War II and though changed survives to this day Britain was the country that stood alone against fascism but it was no exception This book treads new historical ground and shines a light onto the most understudied period of British fascism whilst simultaneously adding to our understanding of the evolving ideology of fascism the persistent nature of antisemitism and the blossoming of Britain s anti immigration movement This book will primarily appeal to scholars and students with an interest in the history of fascism antisemitism and the Holocaust racism immigration and postwar Britain Loneliness Keming Yang,2019-01-30 In recent years its medical implications have brought loneliness to the centre of attention of mass media government agents and the general public However as this volume demonstrates loneliness is not merely a psychological individual or health issue In multiple ways it is a serious social problem as well Yang urges fellow researchers and scientists to broaden the existing definition and classification of loneliness to measure loneliness with greater accuracy and to establish more specifically the connection between loneliness and particular illness Drawing on vast sources of data including literary works case studies and large scale sample surveys covering a broad spectrum of countries Europe and beyond the empirical research of this study produces and presents simple but effective evidence for the social nature and variations of loneliness Examining loneliness at higher levels including ethnic groups classes national cultures and societies Loneliness will appeal to students and researchers interested in areas such as sociology psychology and mental health

In Search of the Afropolitan Eva Rask Knudsen,Ulla Rahbek,2016-07-18 In Search of the Afropolitan explores human encounters and moments that speak to the challenges of being a 21st century African of the world Against the background of an engaging evaluation of the heated debate on Afropolitanism and what constitutes an Afropolitan the authors turn to literature and its intrinsic capacity for unfolding the human figure of the African as inherently complex and multidimensional Through a detailed probing of the Afropolitan in literary narratives the book enters into conversations about self understanding and the signification of Africa in the contexts of global mobility The book conceives of Afropolitanism as a flexible space of inquiry that curbs the inclination to set the definition of the ism in stone Instead it attempts to distil through close up character analyses a multifarious sense of what it means to be Afropolitan in the contemporary moment In that sense the encounters we come across in the literary narratives produce unexpected ontological negotiations on what it means to be African in the world today As a special feature of In Search of the Afropolitan the authors conversations with prominent writers thinkers and critics provide a lively context for the ongoing debate on Afropolitanism and the Afropolitan

Contemporary Fictions of Multiculturalism Michael Perfect,2015-12-04 Contemporary Fictions of Multiculturalism analyses novels of the late 20th and early 21st centuries that explore ethnic and cultural diversity in London It contributes to key ongoing debates in literary and cultural studies and in particular to debates over the status and relevance of multiculturalism today

The Unsettling of Europe Peter Gatrell,2019-08-27 An acclaimed historian examines postwar migration s fundamental role in shaping modern Europe Migration is perhaps the most pressing issue of our time and it has completely decentered European politics in recent years But as we consider the current refugee crisis acclaimed historian Peter Gatrell reminds us that the history of Europe has always been one of people on the move The end of World War II left Europe in a state of confusion with many Europeans virtually stateless Later as former colonial states gained national independence colonists and their supporters migrated to often unwelcoming metropolises The collapse of communism in 1989 marked another fundamental turning point Gatrell places migration at the center of post war European history and the aspirations of migrants themselves at the center of the story of migration This is an urgent history that will reshape our understanding of modern Europe Transnational Jean Rhys Juliana Lopoukhine,Frédéric Regard,Kerry-Jane Wallart,2020-12-10 This volume investigates the frameworks that can be applied to reading Caribbean author Jean Rhys While Wide Sargasso Sea famously displays overt forms of literary influences Jean Rhys s entire oeuvre is so fraught with connections to other texts and textual practices across geographical boundaries that her classification as a cosmopolitan modernist writer is due for reassessment Transnational Jean Rhys argues against the relative isolationism that is sometimes associated with Rhys s writing by demonstrating both how she was influenced by a wide range of foreign especially French authors and how her influence was in turn disseminated in myriad directions Including an interview with Black Atlantic novelist Caryl Phillips this collection charts new territories in the influences on of an author known for her dislike of literary coteries but whose literary communality has been underestimated Unsung Stories of Black Women's Activism in the UK Adele Jones,Diana Watt,2024-09-27 This book is a long overdue contribution to the history of Black feminist activism in the UK It provides unique insights into both historical and contemporary issues that impact Black women their families and their communities including immigration education policing domestic violence and poverty It fills a void in sociological and feminist literature by centring the voices lived experiences and perspectives of women of the African and Caribbean Diaspora in the UK Through the use of research archival materials narrative interviews photographs poems and reflective conversations the authors explore the social issues which inspired these women s action for change In drawing on personal and professional testimonies grounded in over two decades of community activism and scholarly analysis the authors weave together the story of the Abasindi Cooperative a woman s organisation famed for its progressive and far reaching social justice programmes In so doing the authors reveal narratives of political struggle that have their resonance in present day society This book is an acknowledgment and celebration of the sociopolitical activism and achievements of Black women in the UK and represents the hope solidarity and triumph possible when women organise collectively to tackle social and racial injustice Global English Slang Julie Coleman,2014-01-10 Global English Slang brings together nineteen key international experts and provides a timely and essential overview of English slang around the world today The book illustrates the application of a range of different methodologies to the study of slang and demonstrates the interconnection between the different sub fields of linguistics A key argument throughout is that slang is a function played by specific words or phrases rather than a characteristic inherent in the words themselves what is slang in one context is not slang in another The volume also challenges received wisdom on the nature of slang that it is short lived and that slang is restricted to verbal language With an introduction by editor Julie Coleman the topics covered range from Inner City New York slang and Hip Hop Slang to UK student slang and slang in Scotland Authors also explore slang in Jamaica Australia New Zealand India and Hong Kong and the influence of English slang on Norwegian Italian and Japanese A final section looks at slang and new media including online slang usage and the possibilities offered by the internet to document verbal and gestural slang Global English Slang is an essential reference for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers working in the areas of lexicology slang and World Englishes Unexpected Pleasures Lauryl

Tucker,2022-01-15 What are the sources and the effects of the pleasurable feeling of power that genre gives us What happens to that power when conventionality tips into parody In this book Lauryl Tucker explores the connection between genre parody and queerness in twentieth century British fiction Teasing out the parodic sensibility of writers including Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Sam Selvon Dorothy Sayers Stella Gibbons and Zadie Smith Unexpected Pleasures offers an innovative reading of works that seem to excessively obey the rules of genre By oversupplying the pleasurable sense of knowledge and the illusion of predictive power that genre confers these works play with readerly expectation in order to expose and queer a broader set of assumptions about desire resolution and futurity Unexpected Pleasures expands on a burgeoning critical interest in genre as an interpretive tool and further diversifies the archive and methodology of queer critique Gathering a surprising group of writers together it reveals new throughlines between middlebrow and highbrow and among modernist mid century and contemporary literature This book will interest scholars of modernist and contemporary British literature as well as readers interested in narrative and queer theory Multiculturalism and Magic Realism in

Zadie Smith's novel White Teeth: Between Fiction and Reality Sylvia Hadjetian,2014-03-01 Since the 1970s there has been increasing concern with the impact of post colonialism on British identities and culture White Teeth by Zadie Smith is the story of three families from three different cultural backgrounds set mostly in multicultural London The first part of this book provides an overview of the former British Empire the Commonwealth and the history of Bangladesh Jamaica and the Jews in England as relevant to White Teeth Following this the role of the former centre of London will be presented

Subsequently definitions and postcolonial theories Bhabha Said etc shall be discussed The focus of this book is on life in multicultural London The main aspects analysed in these chapters deal with identity the location where the novel is set and racism A further aim of the book is a comparison between the fictional world of White Teeth and reality One chapter is devoted to the question of magic realism and the novel s position between two worlds In a summary the writer hopes to convince the readers of the fascination felt when reading the novel and when plunging into the buzzing streets of contemporary multicultural London The Intelligible Metropolis Nora Pleßke,2014-08-15 Writings on the metropolis generally foreground illimitability stressing thereby that the urban ultimately remains both illegible and unintelligible Instead the purpose of this interdisciplinary study is to demonstrate that mentality as a tool offers orientation in the urban realm Nora Pleßke develops a model of urban mentality to be employed for cities worldwide Against the background of the Spatial Turn she identifies dominant urban specific structures of London mentality in contemporary London novels such as Monica Ali s Brick Lane J G Ballard s Millennium People Nick Hornby s A Long Way Down and Ian McEwan s Saturday
