Performing Indigeneity Laura R. Graham,H. Glenn Penny,2014-12-01 This engaging collection of essays discusses the complexities of being indigenous in public spaces Laura R Graham and H Glenn Penny bring together a set of highly recognized junior and senior scholars including indigenous scholars from a variety of fields to provoke critical thinking about the many ways in which individuals and social groups construct and display unique identities around the world The case studies in Performing Indigeneity underscore the social historical and immediate contextual factors at play when indigenous people make decisions about when how why and who can be indigenous in public spaces Performing Indigeneity invites readers to consider how groups and individuals think about performance and display and focuses attention on the ways that public spheres both indigenous and nonindigenous ones have received these performances The essays demonstrate that performance and display are essential to the creation and persistence of indigeneity while also presenting the conundrum that in many cases indigeneity excludes some of the voices or identities that the category purports to represent

Exploring Multilingual Hawai'i Scott Saft,2019-03-15 Employing an approach informed by language ecology and linguistic ethnography Exploring Multilingual Hawai'i examines situated language usage and underlying ideological beliefs to explore and understand Hawai'i's multilingualism This book begins with a description of the ideologies that developed as a result of contact with the West and then offers analyses that concentrate specifically on the roles of Hawaiian Pidgin Japanese and the languages of Micronesia and also the occurrence of language mixing in Hawaiian society Scott Saft's discussion and analysis underscore how continued exploration of language usage in Hawai'i can contribute to our general understanding of multilingualism as a dynamic phenomenon

Decolonizing Social Work Mel Gray,John Coates,Michael Yellow Bird,Tiani Hetherington,2016-05-13 Riding on the success of Indigenous Social Work Around the World this book provides case studies to further scholarship on decolonization a major analytical and activist paradigm among many of the world's Indigenous Peoples including educators tribal leaders activists scholars politicians and citizens at the grassroots level Decolonization seeks to weaken the effects of colonialism and create opportunities to promote traditional practices in contemporary settings Establishing language and cultural programs honouring land claims teaching Indigenous history science and ways of knowing self esteem programs celebrating ceremonies restoring traditional parenting approaches tribal rites of passage traditional foods and helping and healing using tribal approaches are central to decolonization These insights are brought to the arena of international social work still dominated by western based approaches Decolonization draws attention to the effects of globalization and the universalization of education methods of practice and international development that fail to embrace and recognize local knowledges and methods In this volume Indigenous and non Indigenous social work scholars examine local cultures beliefs values and practices as central to decolonization Supported by a growing interest in spirituality and ecological awareness in international social work they interrogate trends issues and debates in Indigenous social work theory practice methods and education models including a section on Indigenous research approaches The diversity of perspectives decolonizing methodologies and the shared struggle to provide effective professional social work interventions is reflected in the international nature of the subject matter and in the mix of contributors who write from their contexts in different countries and cultures including Australia Canada Cuba Japan Jordan Mexico New Zealand South Africa and the USA

The Canoe Maker's Son Cecilia Johansen, 2016-06-08 About the Book The Canoe Maker's Son takes you on a glorious adventure from the tropics of Hawai'i to the open sea to rugged coasts and dark forests and to the Indians of the Pacific Northwest A story of shanghai survival and surprising ancestry My great great great grandfather Eleu was born in 1773 the old man paused watching his grandson's face light up with excitement He grew up to be a canoe maker just like his father before him Both were in service to Kalani pu'u the great chief of Hawai'i Island Not only were they canoe makers to the king but Eleu went to the Pacific Northwest Coast on a great tall ship What Papa I can't believe it It's true boy Now let me tell the story of the canoe maker's son

Hawaii Magazine, 2007 How Chiefs Became Kings Patrick Vinton Kirch, 2010-12-02 With unparalleled knowledge of Polynesia's history ecology languages and archaeology Patrick V Kirch shows us how when and why Hawaiian society crossed the gulf from chiefdom to state Elegantly crafted and eloquently stated this compelling case study offers a model for understanding state emergence and the origins of divine kings Joyce Marcus University of Michigan This volume masterfully synthesizes diverse sources of evidence to richly document a key episode of political change in the Pacific Historical archaeological linguistic and a wealth of other data are effectively woven together to argue that an archaic state was founded prior to European contact on the island of Hawaii Professor Kirch deftly and systematically integrates these empirical resources to elucidate how multiple causal factors operating over the short and long term prompted this political shift The richness of the materials under study enables the author to enhance our perspective on this long discussed episode of cultural change and how it can be understood at multiple spatial and temporal scales The book is destined to become a key resource for both scholars interested in the deep history of Pacific peoples as well as researchers investigating preindustrial chiefdoms and states Gary M Feinman The Field Museum
