A Guide to In-sessional English for Academic Purposes Neil Adam Tibbetts, Timothy Chapman, 2023-05-02 A hands on guide for practitioners this book prepares instructors to teach in sessional English for Academic Purposes ISEAP higher education courses As university cohorts become more diverse there is demand for in sessional EAP courses not only to support international students but also increasingly as a provision for all students This informative resource explores the varying formats of ISEAP courses and how they are embedded within and alongside students degree programmes in the United Kingdom and beyond In accessible chapters authors Neil Adam Tibbetts and

Timothy Chapman present illuminating findings drawn from interviews conducted with experts in the field and highlight the challenges that students and practitioners face Avoiding prescriptive recommendations Tibbetts and Chapman address different models and contexts of ISEAP courses at the university level and offer guidance and tools for practice Covering key topics such as pedagogies logistical challenges and the wider university context this book not only provides a roadmap to the often ill defined but essential domain of ISEAP but also provokes questions and ideas for further reflection guiding the reader towards a deeper understanding of their role and development in context Engaging and inviting Tibbetts and Chapman s helpful text is a necessary resource for teachers to design and lead successful ISEAP courses

Pronunciation

Instruction in English for Academic Purposes John Hodgetts,2020-09-04 This book examines the pronunciation goals of teachers course leaders and learners on a ten week UK pre sessional access course particularly with regard to suprasegmental instruction and target of instruction on how these goals are reflected in pronunciation assessment and how teacher goals are informed by their attitudes and beliefs A mixed methods approach including direct observation and semi structured interviews is employed to address the area of enquiry Results show a lack of clarity of course goals Although there is a firm emphasis on suprasegmental instruction in semi structured interviews teachers report a lack of clear course goals and guidance Assessment and practice do not always adhere to a goal of intelligibility and support for teachers in terms of the materials and how they might be exploited seems limited The book concludes with tentative recommendations on how suprasegmental instruction might be facilitated on EAP and other courses

Constructing, Reconstructing and

Reclaiming Learner Identities Ellen Preston Motohashi,2025-08-20 This book focuses on the experiences of 1 5 generation Filipinos in Japan charting their life histories and educational experiences in both the Philippines and Japan Against a background of transnational migrations between both countries and varying levels of Japanese as a Second Language and educational support for immigrant non Japanese speaking children in Japanese schools the author uses a narrative life history approach to consider how the participants use their educational histories and learner identities as intangible resources upon which they drew to overcome the structural and cultural differences in the teaching learning environments they encountered in Japanese schools The book ends by recounting the participants regained sense of confidence as learners upon entering university where they reclaim their learner identities as active participants in the classroom with several receiving awards for academic excellence
