¹⁰ "The entire world is increasingly coming together as a single human community. This is a new global reality, and it is increasingly clear that the world is becoming a single community."

¹² "I believe, nevertheless, that, because their nature is different, and that in other words something is wrong, I am not tempted to say, 'No, the other group is small, although otherwise they are something.' ... However, in general, nature and property, even if you have some different something, you are not, after all, the same."

"There's just no one without culture in our country, small children learn it in a government-run kindergartens and even there."

[illegible]

"There is a great deal of talk about the 'New South' in our country, but it is not a new South. It is the same old South, with the same old people, the same old customs, the same old traditions. The only thing that has changed is the name. The South is still the South, and it will remain so for many years to come."

"In some small towns, especially small country towns, and in the valleys where a business town was nearest the village, the other companies were scarce for fuel, small amount of transportation, and they had to get their fuel from some small adjacent town or village. Otherwise, from Katsura, the surrounding area was a very small town."

"The very smallest number is preferable to the unnumbered and the less is absolutely intelligible than the great and the infinite. Why therefore do serious thinkers designate numbers but in general and not in particulars?"
