

Harvest and Gravel - Script and Song Lyrics

NARRATOR: Once upon a time there was a brother and sister called Harvest and Gravel. They lived with their father and grandmother in a tiny cottage at the edge of a huge forest. Their father was a woodcutter and he was very, very poor.

One day the woodcutter said to his wife,

GRUELTER: We have no money left and I can't afford to buy any more food.

NARRATOR: The woodcutter didn't know what to do. But his wife had an idea.

INTERCUTTER: Take the children into the forest and leave them there. They may not all have been too unhappy, in fact.

NARRATOR: The woodcutter was very unhappy, but his wife insisted and finally he agreed. Harvest and Gravel had been listening to their father and Gravel was very frightened, but Harvest had a plan.

HARVEST: (To Gravel) I know what to do.

NARRATOR: Harvest went out of the house and gathered together lots of little white pebbles which he put in his pocket. He went along the woodcutter's and his wife's little house and Gravel took the stones. He then walked. Harvest dropped the pebbles one by one as he went. After a while they came to a clearing and the woodcutter said the children, my sons.

GRUELTER: We are going to collect some more.

NARRATOR: When they had not return, Harvest and Gravel began to walk. They could see the little white pebbles gleaming in the sunlight and they followed them all the long hour.
