Say Something Jennifer Brown, 2014-01-07 In Hate List Jennifer Brown delivered a powerful story about grief friendship and forgiveness in the aftermath of a school shooting Now she explores an evocative new narrative while digging deeper into the themes first touched upon in her debut novel David Judy knows what it's like to be bullied Shy and gentle with a soft voice and a girl's name for a last name he is a prime target Thankfully there's one girl David feels at ease with Valerie the girl who's been dating his neighbor and sometimes friend Nick Valerie is kind to David and pulls him into their circle of outcast friends where he finally feels like he sort of belongs So when David starts to suspect that Nick and his friend Jeremy are planning a revenge plot against their tormentors he wrestles with whether or not to tell someone By the time he finally works up the courage to say something it's too late David tries to put what he knows behind him to forget and move on but that's hard to do as senior year starts and he watches his old friend Valerie struggle in a deep dark place of guilt and confusion It's time to speak up David may not be able to end bullying but by standing up he might just make a difference And that's what matters
