In the Mirror of the Past Tomasz Ratajczak, Bogdan Trocha, 2014-09-26 These days we are ever more often confronted by overwhelming events Searching for a way to understand them we turn to mythic archetypes still present in our culture The authors of these essays pose questions about the reliability of the archetypes found in tradition history and scattered mythologemes The essays in this collection deal with the presence of mythic time in modern speculative fiction such as fantasy and alternate histories and discuss major mythologemes and their functions in popular literature and extra literary reality The authors show how mythopoeic fiction becomes a genetically modified mythic mirror in which we hope to see answers to vexing questions or just a reality superior to the ordinary one

The Monomyth Reboot Nadia Salem, 2023-12-12 In this book Nadia Salem examines and questions the enduring relevance of the monomyth or the hero's journey for storytellers and their audiences Created by Joseph Campbell and largely popularized by George Lucas the hero's journey has come to define mythic quests for all However in recent years this genderless paradigm has lost its appeal as a repetitive Bildungsroman and as a result Salem argues for the inclusion of the heroine's journey as a Künstlerroman and a voice of alterity Where the hero's journey reflects a coming of age the heroine's journey reflects a coming of middle age which are arguably equally necessary for the complete fulfillment of character Taking a fresh look at the monomyth Salem analyzes the narratives of Eros and Psyche Jane Eyre and Titanic to argue for an emphasis on the integration of both the hero's and the heroine's journeys Ultimately this book demonstrates how the monomyth as rebooted turns monomythic mythopoesis into fertile ground for the kinds of epiphanies demanded by transmodernism Scholars of film studies communication composition and mythology will find this book of particular interest Birds in Fall Brad

The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions, Volume V Mark P. Hutchinson, 2018-10-18 The five volume Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions series is governed by a motif of migration out of England It first traces organized church traditions that arose in Britain and Ireland as Dissenters distanced themselves from a state church defined by diocesan episcopacy the Book of Common Prayer the Thirty Nine Articles and Royal Supremacy but then follows those traditions as they spread beyond Britain and Ireland and also analyses newer traditions that emerged downstream in other parts of the world from earlier forms of Dissent Secondly it does the same for the doctrines church practices stances toward state and society attitudes toward Scripture and characteristic patterns of organization that also originated in earlier British and Irish dissent but that have often defined a trajectory of influence independent of ecclesiastical organizations The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions Volume V follows the spatial cultural and intellectual changes in dissenting identity and practice in the twentieth century as these once European traditions globalized While in Europe dissent was often against the religious state dissent in a globalizing world could redefine itself against colonialism or other secular and religious monopolies The contributors trace the encounters of dissenting Protestant traditions with modernity and globalization changing imperial politics challenges to biblical denominational and pastoral authority local cultures and languages and some of the century's major themes such as race and gender new technologies and organizational change In so doing they identify a vast array of local and globalizing illustrations which will enliven conversations about the role of religion and in particular Christianity

Stael's Philosophy of the Passions Tili Boon Cuillé, Karyna Szmurlo, 2013 Sensibility or the capacity to feel played a vital role in philosophical reflection about the natural sciences the social sciences and the arts in eighteenth century France Yet scholars have privileged the Marquis de Sade's vindication of physiological sensibility as the logical conclusion of Enlightenment over Germaine de Staël's exploration of moral sensibility's potential for reform and renewal that paved the way for Romanticism This volume of essays showcases Staël's contribution to the affective revolution in Europe investigating the personal and political circumstances that informed her theory of the passions and the social and aesthetic innovations to which it gave rise Contributors move seamlessly between her political philosophical and fictional works attentive to the relationship between emotion and cognition and aware of the coherence of her thought on an individual national and international scale They first examine the significance Stal attributed to pity happiness melancholy and enthusiasm in The Influence of the Passions as she witnessed revolutionary strife and envisioned the new republic They then explore her development of a cosmopolitan aesthetic in such works as On Literature Corinne or Italy On Germany and The Spirit of Translation that transcended traditional generic national and linguistic boundaries Finally they turn to her contributions to the visual and musical arts as she deftly negotiated the transition from a Neoclassical to a Romantic aesthetic Stal's Philosophy of the Passions concludes that rather than founding a republic based on the rights of man Stal's reflection fostered international communities of women artists models and collectors authors performers and spectators enabling them to participate in the re articulation of sociocultural values in the wake of the French Revolution Contributors Tili Boon Cuill Catherine Dubeau Nanette Le Coat Christine Dunn Henderson Karen de Bruin M Ione Crummy Jennifer Law Sullivan Lauren Fortner Ravalico C C Wharram Kari Lokke Susan Tenenbaum Mary D Sheriff Heather Belnap Jensen Fabienne Moore Julia Effertz

A Call to Compassion Aura Glaser, 2005-01-26 Aura Glaser wrote this book to remedy a deficiency she discovered while engaged in psychological research a nearly complete omission of the importance and cultivation of compassion Other books exploring Buddhism and psychology have focused on what the Theravada school of Buddhism which teaches personal liberation through enlightenment can offer psychology A Call to Compassion works with Mahayana Buddhism in which practitioners commit to the liberation of all sentient beings with compassion central to attaining that goal In her fascinating and exceptionally clear and concise review of the work of Freud Jung and others Glaser shows how psychology has been ambivalent about the subject of compassion and therefore has developed no methodology for helping individuals cultivate this essential quality in the service of helping others Glaser introduces as a remedy the Buddhist practice of the lojong expressed in the text of The Seven Points of Mind Training for developing love and compassion With modern day life examples she illustrates the four major points compassion for self compassion for others exchanging self and others and no self and no other affirming that these points are indeed attainable If we make the effort to contemplate understand and truly integrate these four essentials we will have a sound basis for both psychological health and genuine transformation DIV to understand and integrate on a planetary level the core values of their expansive work Both Jung and de Chardin were concerned with science and religion and operated within these paradigms Both of them shook the world by offering up views on one hand of the profound depths of the human psyche and on the other presenting a profound re consideration of evolution as a process leading toward a social unification of the planet One used the concept of individuation the other spoke of evolution Each took these concepts to a creative depth so much so that the world they lived in either deeply admired or detested them Both had conflicts in their chosen fields Jung was a psychologist who used the field of science to explore the religious depths of the human soul by studying mythology world religions folk tales dreams and human behavior Chardin used the ground of religion to work in the field of science via paleontology geology and physics as he explored a deeper and relevant understanding of evolution Though each began from different intellectual platforms they each crisscrossed into the other s territory of inquiry and related their ideas to include the full scope of humanity One went deeply into soul and found matter whereas the other went deeply into matter and found soul In their own ways both spent their careers trying to heal the split between spirit and matter in the weltanschauung of their times reflected in the human psyche and in the general religious views permeating most of Western culture
