Home Schooling Frederick M. Lawrence, 2007 From left to right on the political spectrum there is at least one note of agreement the nation's school system has not delivered universal quality education Accordingly debate has raged over how to rectify this situation Should the government increase funding encourage privatisation some of both Another option though has emerged and is seemingly gaining popularity home schooling Citing both substandard education and displeasure with school environments and curricula many parents have decided to teach their own children Supporters say it is well within their rights to raise their children as they see fit and that at home learning is superior to the public system Detractors claim that home schooled children are deprived of social interaction and the broad based education provided by the system Neither side wants to cede ground making the issue of home schooling an integral part of a wider national debate on education In this book the specific topic of home schooling is presented from all relevant sides to give a complete picture of the present status of the issue and its potential for future resolution Following this overview is a thorough and carefully selected bibliography of literature about home schooling from all viewpoints Easy access to his important resource is then provided via author title and subject indexes

Serving Homeschooled Teens and Their Parents Maureen T. Lerch, Janet Welch, 2004-05-30 Today more than a million students are being educated at home and that figure increases at a rate of 7 14% annually Homeschooling is a growing trend in our society and public librarians are being called upon with increasing frequency to serve the needs of homeschooled students So just what are the needs of the homeschooled teen and how can you and your library meet those needs A former young adult librarian and a homeschool parent have joined forces to create this insightful guide and answer that question After reviewing the developmental and social needs of teens the authors demonstrate how those needs may be met in the public library setting You ll find a wealth of ideas for adapting every facet of your library service for this growing population from developing a homeschool collection to expanding services and creating special programs You ll also find suggestions on how to market what your library has to offer to homeschoolers You may even discover some new ways to employ the talents and time of these students and their families Extensive resource lists conclude the volume they will help you better serve home educated teens and their parents

Getting Started on Home Learning Rebecca Rupp, 1999

In Getting Started on Home Learning homeschooling expert Rebecca Rupp provides much needed advice and information to all parents who've ever considering teaching their children at home. She dispels myths, helps readers navigate tricky laws and provides guidance on how and where to find the resources necessary to put together a well rounded curriculum. This guide is the indispensable companion volume to the popular The Complete Home Learning Sourcebook. Three Rivers Press 1998 provides all the information needed to make an informed decision. Topics include: Why Homeschool, Homeschooling and the Law, The S Question, What About Socialization, The Bottom Line, How Much Does It All Cost, Homeschooled Teenagers On to College, Tools of the Trade.

Homeschooling: The Early Years Linda Dobson, 1999-08-11 Discover the Rewards of Homeschooling Your Young Child. Young children are full of curiosity, imagination and a sense of wonder. They're willing to try new things and possess a natural joy of discovery. Yet in a traditional school, these natural behavior traits are too often squelched. That's why more and more parents just like you are choosing to teach their children at home during these critical years, the years that lay the foundation for developing learning skills that last a lifetime. Inside, respected homeschooling author Linda Dobson shows you how homeschooling can work for you and your young child. You'll discover how to tailor homeschooling to fit your family's unique needs. Know when your child is ready to learn to read. Teach your child arithmetic without fear, even if you're math challenged. Give your child unlimited learning on a limited budget. And much more. Brings dazzling clarity to the otherwise nerve wracking confusion of early learning and the adventure of becoming fully human. Highly recommended. John Taylor Gatto, former New York State Teacher of the Year and author of Dumbing Us Down. Provides a much needed introduction to living and learning with young children. Open the book to any page and you'll find inspiring anecdotes and approaches to learning that leave the reader thinking, "That just makes so much sense." Highly recommended for anyone who lives, works or plays with young children. Helen Hegener, managing editor of Home Education Magazine. An information packed delight. I only wish it had been around when our three boys were three to eight years old. Rebecca Rupp, author of The Complete Home Learning Sourcebook. This book brings together the experience and wisdom of a great variety of homeschooling families tied together with warm encouragement and wonderful simplification of processes that can seem so mysterious and daunting to the beginner. A very solid resource. Lillian Jones, homeschooling activist, writer and reviewer.
