Psychological Foundations of Education B. Claude Mathis, John W. Cotton, Lee Sechrest, 2013-09-17 Psychological Foundations of Education presents some of the principles of psychology that are relevant to learning and teaching It presents an alternative answer to the problem of the bifurcation of general and educational psychology in the curriculum of teacher preparation While the solution is provisional and has obvious imperfections it is offered in the hope that it may stimulate discussion of the problem and other solutions and or explicit justifications for past practice Key concepts discussed include teachers attitudes and behavior different types of learning technology in education forgetting and extinction child development and intelligence measurements Also covered are the assessment of educational achievement the social psychology of the classroom and education in urban schools This text should have a variety of uses in classes where students are preparing for teaching It was written specifically for those situations in which the prospective teacher is introduced to psychology through a one or two semester integrated sequence Psychological Foundations of Education Morris L. Bigge, Maurice P. Hunt, 1968 Psychological Foundations of Education Morris E. Eson, 1964 This text has been written to serve the first course in educational psychology to demonstrate to the student how the concepts and the ways of thinking of psychology apply to school and classroom practice and how they can contribute to an understanding of the accepted aims of education This book attempts to bring to bear on the consideration of each educational problem that psychological point of view that promises to shed the greatest light This selective application of the points of view of several schools of psychology while perhaps lacking in theoretical consistency promises greater functional effectiveness and less distortion of reality
