Seismic Design Methods for Steel Building Structures George A. Papagiannopoulos, George D. Hatzigeorgiou, Dimitri E. Beskos, 2022-01-01. The book, after two introductory chapters on seismic design principles and structural seismic analysis methods, proceeds with the detailed description of seismic design methods for steel building structures. These methods include all the well known methods like force based or displacement based methods plus some other methods developed by the present authors or other authors that have reached a level of maturity and are applicable to a large class of steel building structures. For every method, detailed practical examples and supporting references are provided in order to illustrate the methods and demonstrate their merits. As a unique feature, the present book describes not just one as it is the case with existing books on seismic design of steel structures, but various seismic design methods including application examples worked in detail. The book is a valuable source of information not only for MS and PhD students but also for researchers and practicing engineers engaged with the design of steel building structures.

Proceedings of the 4th International Civil Engineering and Architecture Conference Marco Casini, 2024-11-19. This book collects the scientific proceedings presented during the 2024 The 4th International Civil Engineering and Architecture Conference held in Seoul, South Korea in March 2024 with the aim of showing the latest advancements in theoretical and applied research in the architecture, engineering and construction sector (AEC). The book is organized into four main parts, namely: 1) sustainable urban planning and architecture, 2) architectural and environmental design, 3) built environment materials and construction technology, and 4) civil engineering and construction management. The goal of the book is to provide readers with an overview of the ongoing transformation of the AEC industry, presenting a thorough investigation of the emerging trends in the fields of green building design, construction and operation.
