

The background of the cover is a vibrant, abstract composition. It features several thick, cylindrical tubes in shades of yellow, orange, and blue, which appear to be fiber optic cables. These tubes are arranged diagonally across the frame. From the ends of these tubes, numerous thin, parallel lines of light in various colors (yellow, orange, red, blue, green) radiate outwards, creating a sense of high-speed data transmission. The overall effect is one of dynamic energy and technological sophistication.
