Molokwane,Muhiya Tshombe Lukamba,Alex Nduhura,Innocent Nuwagaba,2023-12-06 In the twenty first century governments around the world began to engage the private sector with the objective of achieving public service delivery targets and the African continent has as such been experiencing transformation particularly since the introduction of public private partnerships PPP as a measure of reform and method of procurement Unfortunately there is a mixed bag of successes and challenges through this implementation of PPPs causing a gap in infrastructure leaving more than 640 million Africans without access to energy Muhiya Tshombe Lukamba Thekiso Molokwane Alex Nduhura and Innocent Nuwagaba in Public Private Partnerships in Africa Exploring Africa s Growth Potential explore ways in which the government can collaborate with the private sector in order to close these gaps The chapters analyze the implementation of PPPs and provide case studies on the use of PPPs in different African countries and industry sectors This book unearths new findings on PPPs within Africa and provides solutions that are beneficial to scholars the government and the PPP industry through the theoretical underpinning of various contemporary issues Investing in Reproductive, Maternal, Newborn, Child, and Adolescent Health in Uganda

Elizabeth Asege Ekochu,Julia Mensah,Rogers Ayiko,Stephen Kisembe Kiirya,Brendan Michael Hayes,Collins Chansa,Richard Crabbe,Grace Murindwa,Marc DeFrancis,2024-03-22 In Uganda conditions in reproductive maternal newborn child and adolescent health RMNCAH remain the primary drivers of morbidity and mortality accounting for 60 percent of years of life lost The high burden of these conditions can be attributed to a poor quality of care resulting from inadequate financial human and material resources compounded by weak multisectoral coordination. Moreover, the country's high population growth rate and a young population imply that RMNCAH service delivery will continue to dominate health sector reforms even with the increasing prevalence of noncommunicable and infectious diseases. Over the past two decades, Uganda has focused on improving the quality of RMNCAH service delivery, leading to declines in the maternal, infant, and under-five mortality ratios and the increased use of modern contraception among married women. However, the neonatal mortality and teenage pregnancy rates have stagnated, and the low civil registration of births and deaths remains challenging.

Investing in Reproductive, Maternal, Newborn, Child, and Adolescent Health in Uganda: What Have We Learned and Where Do We Go from Here comprises 12 studies conducted as part of the RMNCAH Operational Research Program, drafted between 2019 and 2021 and finalized and disseminated in October 2022 across 45 districts of Uganda, with funding from Sweden and the World Bank. These studies underscore important lessons learned and offer suggestions for enhancing the delivery of RMNCAH interventions. Each chapter represents one study and discusses service delivery, the health workforce, financing, health information systems, and governance and leadership. Two appendixes summarize key findings and recommendations and explain the roles of key stakeholders in the RMNCAH Operational Research Program.

The Patient Olive Kobusingye, 2019-12-09. The Patient is the story of Ugandan doctors and their patients through the decades. It's the story of mostly young enthusiastic medical students becoming doctors and choosing their paths in a corrupt and impoverished world where their own needs, wellbeing, and sanity compete with the needs of their patients. It is the story of a hospital badly in need of healing, a health care system that is designed to fail, and a country whose continuing existence is proof that resilient and subservient people can survive exploitation and abuse for a long time. It is the story of a society coming unstuck at the seams, of leaders blinded by power and greed, and of health workers sacrificing their lives to help their patients. It is the story of the patient.

Global Patient Safety John Tingle, Clayton Ó Néill, Morgan Shimwell, 2018-08-15. This book explores patient safety themes in developed, developing, and transitioning countries. A foundation premise is the concept of reverse innovation as mutual learning from the chapters challenges traditional assumptions about the construction and location of knowledge. This edited collection can be seen to facilitate global learning. This book will hopefully form a bridge for those countries seeking to enhance their patient safety policies. Contributors to this book challenge many supposed generalisations about human societies, including consideration of how medical care is mediated within those societies and how patient safety is assured or compromised. By introducing major theories from the developing world in the book, readers are encouraged to reflect on their impact on the patient safety and the health quality debate. The development of practical patient safety policies for wider use is also encouraged. The volume presents a ground-breaking perspective by exploring fundamental issues relating to patient safety through different academic disciplines. It develops the possibility of a new patient safety and health quality synthesis and discourse relevant to all concerned with patient safety and health quality in a global context.

Making Diabetes Arlena Siobhan Liggins, 2020-01-06 Diabetes is regarded as one of the most challenging global health issues of the 21st century Especially countries with weak health infrastructure are struggling to deal with the increased demands this chronic disease entails Tracing the effects of a diagnostic device the glucometer this book examines how it contributes to the making of diabetes in contemporary Uganda Arlena S Liggins demonstrates that depending on who uses the glucometer the outcomes may go far beyond diagnosis The book draws a complex picture of hopes and misplaced expectations of trust and mistrust in a technology to which access in the first place is all but a given

Global Health Priority-Setting Ole Frithjof Norheim, Ezekiel J. Emanuel, Joseph Millum, 2020 Global health is at a crossroads The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development has come with ambitious targets for health and health services worldwide To reach these targets many more billions of dollars need to be spent on health However development assistance for health has plateaued and domestic funding on health in most countries is growing at rates too low to close the financing gap National and international decision makers face tough choices about how scarce health care resources should be spent Should additional funds be spent on primary prevention of stroke treating childhood cancer or expanding treatment for HIV AIDS Should health coverage decisions take into account the effects of illness on productivity household finances and children s educational attainment or just focus on health outcomes Does age matter for priority setting or should it be ignored Are health gains far in the future less important than gains in the present Should higher priority be given to people who are sicker or poorer Global Health Priority Setting provides a framework for how to think about evidence based priority setting in health Over 18 chapters ethicists philosophers economists policy makers and clinicians from around the world assess the state of current practice in national and global priority setting describe new tools and methodologies to address establishing global health priorities and tackle the most important ethical questions that decision makers must consider in allocating health resources The State of Uganda Population Report ,2016 Health Sector Development Plan, 2015/16-2019/20 ,2015 Global Accelerated Action for the Health of Adolescents (AA-HA!)
