New Worlds of Work Ulrich Jürgens, Martin Krzywdzinski, 2016-04-15 New industrial centres are emerging in the so called BRIC countries Brazil Russia India and China where large numbers of plants have been constructed in recent years creating many manufacturing jobs But what does industrial work look like in these locations Up until now much of the interest in developing country industrialization has concentrated on the poor working conditions that characterize some export oriented sectors in emerging economies most notoriously in the garment industry In contrast the concern of this book is with the modern facilities of multinational or local manufacturers that reflect aspirations for a process of industrial upgrading that might foreshadow the future for these countries The book provides an analysis of work its context and the situation of employees in plants in the BRICs focussing on three main questions What differences and common features can be ascertained in a comparison both of countries and firms in terms of workplace HR management and production systems What evidence is there for either a high road or low road developmental path in the BRICs How are corporate standards implemented in these local contexts The book addresses an academic audience as well as managers and trade unionists For the former it offers a systematic comparison of the four countries and the companies under study For the latter it offers a vivid account of challenges the companies face in the BRIC countries as well as the solutions adopted by the companies

Greatrix,2018-11-30 Farewell to the Good Old Days is a lively and intimate tale by David Greatrix a man who has lived a dynamic professional life first as an aerospace engineer and then as a professor of the subject The book leaning heavily on the actual life experiences of Greatrix and a number of his academic colleagues close and far away is divided into two discrete parts the book s narrator for both parts is nominally a fictional consolidated representation of Greatrix drawing from various sources in addition to the author Part One covers the narrator s childhood and early adulthood followed by his moving into his years of growth as a professional breaking into the challenging field of aerospace engineering Part Two tracks the narrator's subsequent twenty five year academic career as a professor of aerospace engineering at a university in a major urban centre. Prominent in this story are the many challenges the narrator encounters in his navigation of academe in a high profile setting for engineering education. In an emotional narrative that never strays far from various shades of humour the narrator shares the details of his teaching and research experience at his institution frequently bumping up against the pointy bits of an evolving cosmopolitan academic culture. In colourful detail the narrator reveals the small successes, notable failures, unexpected events and crushing disappointments that describe his tenure at his university. The narrator is especially candid in his revelations about episodes of betrayal. He takes aim at big targets including the Canadian government, university administrators and the academic superstructure as a whole. The result is an enlightening view into an individual's complicated experience in a demanding world that serves as a microcosm of society at large.
