Discourse In Content And Language Integrated Learning Clil Classrooms Language Learning Language Teaching:

Discourse in Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Classrooms Christiane Dalton-Puffer, 2007 The label CLIL stands for classrooms where a foreign language English is used as a medium of instruction in content subjects This book provides a first in depth analysis of the kind of communicative abilities which are embodied in such CLIL classrooms It examines teacher and student talk at secondary school level from different discourse analytic angles taking into account the interpersonal pragmatics of classroom discourse and how school subjects are talked into being during lessons The analysis shows how CLIL classroom interaction is strongly shaped by its institutional context which in turn conditions the ways in which students experience use and learn the target language The research presented here suggests that CLIL programmes require more explicit language learning goals in order to fully exploit their potential for furthering the learners appropriation of a foreign language as a medium of learning

Discourse in Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Classroom Christiane Dalton-Puffer, 2007 Language Use and Language Learning in CLIL Classrooms

Christiane Dalton-Puffer, Tarja Nikula, Ute Smit, 2010 This volume explores a highly topical issue in second and foreign language education the spreading practice in mainstream education to teach content subjects through a foreign language CLIL has been enthusiastically embraced as a language enrichment measure in many contexts and finally research can offer principled insights into its dynamics and potentials The editors introductory and concluding chapters offer a synthesis of current CLIL research as well as a critical discussion of unresolved issues relating both to theoretical concerns and research practice The individual contributions by authors from a range of European contexts report on current empirical research in this dynamic field The focus of these chapters ranges from theoretical to empirical from learning outcomes to classroom talk examining both the written and spoken mode across secondary and tertiary educational contexts This volume is a valuable resource not only for researchers and teachers but also for policy makers

Content and Language Integrated Learning Yolanda Ruiz de Zarobe, Rosa María Jiménez Catalán, 2009-05-11 This book contributes to the growth of interest in Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL an approach to second foreign language learning that requires the use of the target language to learn content Within the framework of European strategies to promote multilingualism CLIL has begun to be used extensively in a variety of language learning contexts and at different educational systems and language programmes This book brings together critical analyses on theoretical and implementation issues of Content and Language Integrated Learning and empirical studies on the effectiveness of this type of instruction on learners language competence The basic theoretical assumption behind this book is that through successful use of the language to learn content learners will develop their language proficiency more effectively while they learn the academic content specified in the curricula Content and Language Integrated Learning Yolanda Ruiz de Zarobe, 2017-10-02 This book explores some of the recent research undertaken on Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL It offers an overview of several European contexts describing experiences that could be extrapolated to many other communities worldwide Contributions focus on issues related to language policy moving from high level policymaking to grassroots decisions but all of them encompassing the major changes that can be recognized in education which also evidence the shifts in society and economic life that have taken place in Europe in the last decades These changes in language policy issues are coupled with changes in CLIL practice in the classroom These national initiatives are displayed across a wide range of educational perspectives portraying the diversity that is a distinctive feature of CLIL in the European educational mosaic By providing new insights into pedagogic methodological and language policy issues in CLIL and by covering some areas which have been insufficiently addressed in the literature such as the implementation of CLIL in less successful contexts or learner teacher collaboration in the classroom this book will be of great value to researchers stakeholders and professionals interested in CLIL and language education This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism

Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL): A Methodology of Bilingual Teaching Bernd Klewitz, 2021-05-19 Learning foreign languages is a process of acquiring authentic contents in cultural contexts In this respect bilingual programs provide an effective connection between content based studies and linguistic activities The European umbrella term CLIL Content and Language Integrated Learning not only comprises the aims and objectives of a sustainable format of teaching foreign languages but also the priority of content over language in other words language follows content as in the Bauhaus precept form follows function But in order to effectively integrate content and language a comprehensive pedagogical approach is needed that goes beyond existing curricula and guidebooks Bernd Klewitz aims at establishing the CLIL methodology by linking content requirements of subject areas especially those in the social sciences with linguistic building blocks and tools The integrative methodology of bilingual programs extends to the study of literature traditionally a domain of language tuition but thought to be a seminal part of CLIL as well The building blocks and language tools presented in this volume focus on learning foreign languages in cultural contexts aims and objectives of CLIL parameters of an integrated bilingual teaching strategy dimensions of bilingual learning elements of a CLIL concept Literary CLIL CLIL tools and strategies modules with worked examples challenges and desiderata and a comprehensive glossary Each section is completed with an interactive part of review reflection and practice language integrated learning CLIL The chapters report on the findings from a large scale three year research project undertaken at senior high school level in Sweden The ecological perspective with quantitative and qualitative methods gives voice to both learners and teachers as well as being an excellent critical example of how such longitudinal research might be carried out Through emic and etic approaches the book provides insights into language learning outcomes both with regard to the target language English and the majority language Swedish learner motivation among CLIL and non CLIL students effects of extramural exposure to English issues in relation to assessment in CLIL and much more As a whole the book offers an unprecedented overview of learner outcomes and detailed insights into the comparison of CLIL and non CLIL education While it is embedded in the Swedish context the nature of this study means that it has strong implications on an international basis

Discourse and language learning across L2 instructional settings, 2012-01-01 Studies on discourse and language learning originated in the field of general education and they focused on first language learning environments However since 1980s research on discourse and language learning broadened the scope of investigation to respond to second and foreign language environments Recently the emergence of new language learning contexts such as computer mediated communication multilingual settings or content and language integrated contexts requires further research that focuses on discourse and language learning From this perspective the present volume aims to broaden the scope of investigation in foreign language contexts by exploring discourse patterns in the classroom and examining the impact of factors such as gender explicitness of feedback or L1 use on language learning through discourse With that aim in mind this volume will bring together research that investigates discourse in various instructional settings namely those of primary secondary and university L2 learning environments content and language integrated contexts and other new language learning settings The number and variety of languages involved both as the first language e g English Finnish Basque Spanish Japanese French Italian Catalan as well as the target foreign language e g English French Italian Japanese Spanish makes the volume specially attractive Additionally the different approaches adopted by the researchers participating in this volume such as information processing sociocultural theory or conversation analysis widen the realm of investigation on discourse and language learning Finally the strength of the volume also lies in the range of educational settings primary secondary and tertiary education and the worldwide representation of contributors across seven different countries namely those of Spain France Austria Finland Germany Canada Australia and the United States The uniqueness of the volume is due to its eclectic and comprehensive nature in tackling instructional discourse Worldwide outstanding researchers like Julianne House Carme Muñoz Ute Smit Tarja Nikula or Roy Lyster to quote but a few adopt different perspectives in this joint contribution that will certainly broaden the scope of research on language learners discourse

Assessment and Learning in Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Classrooms Mark deBoer, Dmitri Leontjev, 2020-11-17 This volume builds a conceptual basis for assessment promoting learning in Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL classrooms and proposes practical assessment approaches and activities that CLIL teachers can apply in the classroom CLIL as an educational context is unique as language and content learning happen simultaneously The efficacy of such instruction has been studied extensively but assessment in CLIL classrooms has drawn much less attention The present volume aims to fill this gap Arranged based on different ways that content and language are integrated in CLIL the chapters in this book together build a solid theoretical basis for assessment promoting learning in CLIL classrooms The authors discuss how assessment eliciting this integration yields insights into learners abilities but more importantly how these insights are used to promote learning The contributors to the volume together build the understanding of classroom based assessment as cyclic of teaching learning and assessment as inter related and of content and language in CLIL classrooms as a dialectical unity This volume will spark interest in and discussion of classroom based assessment in CLIL among CLIL educators and researchers enable reflection of classroom assessment practices and foster collaboration between CLIL teachers and researchers The assessment approaches and activities discussed in the volume in turn will help educators understand the scope of applications of assessment and inspire them to adapt these to their own classrooms
