Building Systems Integration for Enhanced Environmental Performance Shahin Vassigh, Jason R. Chandler, 2011 Looks at the issues of sustainability and environmental impact in the field of building design and architecture This book addresses sustainability in building design through development of a series of examples presented as three dimensional models of well integrated building systems

Tall Buildings Mehmet Günel, Hüseyin İlgin, 2014-06-27 The structural challenges of building 800 metres into the sky are substantial and include several factors which do not affect low rise construction This book focusses on these areas specifically to provide the architectural and structural knowledge which must be taken into account in order to design tall buildings successfully In presenting examples of steel reinforced concrete and composite structural systems for such buildings it is shown that wind load has a very important effect on the architectural and structural design The aerodynamic approach to tall buildings is considered in this context as is earthquake induced lateral loading Case studies of some of the world s most iconic buildings illustrated with full colour photographs structural plans and axonometrics will bring to life the design challenges which they presented to architects and structural engineers The Empire State Building the Burj Khalifa Taipei 101 and the HSB Turning Torso are just a few examples of the buildings whose real life specifications are used to explain and illustrate core design principles and their subsequent effect on the finished structure

Architect: The evolving story of a profession Eleanor Jolliffe, Paul Crosby, 2023-06-01 The architect s role is constantly adapting Throughout history it has shifted significantly shaped by social cultural technological and economic forces The very definition of what an architect is and does has evolved over time from lead builder or master mason to principal designer A collaborative and reactive profession it is inextricably linked to the power of the patron whether the client is an influential and affluent individual or a political commercial civic or religious organisation From Ancient Egypt where architects were members of the ruling class tied into the running of the empire to the 21st century when questions are being raised about the future of the profession this book with its engaging narrative explores the constant threads that remain as the profession adapts While architects are no longer deified their ability to imagine a new impending reality in built form implies a visionary dimension to their work By focusing on both the practicalities of the profession and the more intangible motivations behind design humans need to make a mark upon their surroundings this volume provides a critical overview of over 3000 years of practice and education Looking at the key questions of where the architectural profession originated in the Western tradition why it is how it is today and where it might be going next the authors postulate that architects ability to adapt and reinvent themselves in the past will stand them in good stead for the uncertainties of the future

Designing for Zero Waste Steffen Lehmann, Robert Crocker, 2013-07-03 Designing for Zero Waste is a timely topical and necessary publication Materials and resources are being depleted at an accelerating speed and rising consumption trends across the globe have placed material efficiency waste reduction and recycling at the centre of many government policy agendas giving them an unprecedented urgency While there has been a considerable literature addressing consumption and waste reduction from different disciplinary perspectives the complex nature of the problem requires an increasing degree of interdisciplinarity Resource recovery and the optimisation of material flow can only be achieved alongside and through behaviour change to reduce the creation of material waste and wasteful consumption This book aims to develop a more robust understanding of the links between lifestyle consumption technologies and urban development

Restorative Cities Jenny Roe, Layla

McCay, 2021-07-15 Overcrowding noise and air pollution long commutes and lack of daylight can take a huge toll on the mental well being of city dwellers With mental healthcare services under increasing pressure could a better approach to urban design and planning provide a solution The restrictions faced by city residents around the world during the COVID 19 pandemic has brought home just how much urban design can affect our mental health and created an imperative to seize this opportunity Restorative Cities explores a new way of designing cities one which places mental health and wellness at the forefront Establishing a blueprint for urban design for mental health it examines a range of strategies from sensory architecture to place making for creativity and community and brings a genuinely evidence based approach that will appeal to designers and planners health practitioners and researchers alike and provide compelling insights for anyone who cares about how our surroundings affect us Written by a psychiatrist and public health specialist and an environmental psychologist with extensive experience of architectural practice this much needed work will prompt debate and inspire built environment students and professionals to think more about the positive potential of their designs for mental well being

Indian Labour Market and Economic Reforms

Dr. Jagdish Chauhan, 2022-08-25 The global capitalism has entered into a new and distinct phase wherein liberalisation privatisation and globalisation commonly called LPG is a central theme Almost every country particularly the developing countries are on the agenda of international monopolies and international financial capital which are controlled and regulated by the industrially developed nations The vulnerable economies all over the world are being forced to liberalise their economies resulting in unfavourable balance of competitive forces on their side Free trade rules are dismantling the License Raj meant for business and industry under the dictate of global corporations Market forces have been given once again a primacy to make the major economic decisions The free trade systems of small producers and poor consumers are being dismantled and being made illegal in order to create free trade systems for big business and global corporations 1 All these have been the outcome of certain policy initiatives and developments that have taken place at the national and international level especially since the 1980s

Cities and Low Carbon Transitions Harriet Bulkeley, Vanesa

Castán Broto, Mike Hodson, Simon Marvin, 2010-12-14 Cities and Low Carbon Transitions presents a ground breaking analysis of the role of cities in low carbon socio technical transitions Insights from the fields of urban studies and technological transitions are combined to examine how why and with what implications cities bring about low carbon transitions The book outlines the key concepts underpinning theories of socio technical transition and assesses its potential strengths and limits

Islamic charities and Islamic humanism in troubled times Jonathan Benthall,2016-05-01 Islamic charities and Islamic humanism in troubled times is the fruit of twenty years reflection on Islamic charities both in practical terms including allegations of complicity with terrorism and as a key to understanding the crisis in contemporary Islam On one hand Islam is undervalued as a global moral and political force whose admirable qualities are exemplified in its strong tradition of humanitarianism On the other it suffers from a crisis of authority that cannot be blamed entirely on the history of colonialism and stigmatisation to which Muslims have undoubtedly been subjected most recently as a result of the war on terror This study offers an in depth analysis of the current status of Islamic charities from a wide range of approaches theological historical diplomatic legal sociological and ethnographic and makes use of primary data from the United States Britain Israel Palestine Mali and Indonesia The discussion is widened to explore the potential for a twenty first century Islamic humanism devised by Muslims in the light of the human sciences and consolidated in durable institutions throughout the Muslim world With this in mind contentious issues such as religious toleration and the meaning of jihad need to be addressed The readership includes academics and students at all levels professionals concerned with aid and development and all who have an interest in the future of Islam

Handbook on Green Infrastructure Danielle Sinnett,Nick Smith ,Sarah Burgess,2015-11-27 Green infrastructure encompasses many features in the built environment It is widely recognised as a valuable resource in our towns and cities and it is therefore crucial to understand create protect and manage this resource This Handbook sets the context for green infrastructure as a means to make urban environments more resilient sustainable liveable and equitable Including state of the art reviews that summarise the existing knowledge as well as research findings this Handbook provides current evidence for the beneficial impact of green infrastructure on health environmental quality and the economy It discusses the planning and design of green infrastructure as a strategic network down to the individual features in a neighbourhood and looks at the process of green infrastructure implementation emphasising the importance of collaboration across multiple professions and sectors This comprehensive volume operates at multiple spatial scales from strategic networks at the regional level to individual features in neighbourhoods with international case studies used throughout to illustrate key examples of good practice This collection of expert contributions will be invaluable to students and academics in the fields of planning urban studies and geography Practitioners and policy makers will also find the policy discussion and examples enlightening

Learning Spaces in Africa Ola Uduku,2018-06-14 With a key UN Sustainable Development Goal for 2030 being to make basic education available to all the world s children Learning Spaces in Africa explores the architectural socio political and economic policy factors that have contributed to school design the main spaces for education and learning in Africa It traces the development of school building design focusing on Western and Southern Africa from its emergence in the 19th century to the present day Uduku s analysis draws attention to the past historic links of schools to development processes from their early 19th century missionary origins to their re emergence as development hubs in the 21st century Learning Spaces in Africa uses this research as a basis to suggest fundamental changes to basic education which respond to new technological advances and constituencies in learning Illustrated case studies describe the use of tablets in refugee community schools hole in the wall learning and shared school community learning spaces This book will be beneficial for students academics and those interested in the history of educational architecture and its effect on social development particularly in Africa and with relevance to countries elsewhere in the emerging world Site Planning Gary Hack,2018-04-27 A comprehensive state of the art guide to site planning covering planning processes new technologies and sustainability with extensive treatment of practices in rapidly urbanizing countries Cities are built site by site Site planning the art and science of designing settlements on the land encompasses a range of activities undertaken by architects planners urban designers landscape architects and engineers This book offers a comprehensive up to date guide to site planning that is global in scope It covers planning processes and standards new technologies sustainability and cultural context addressing the roles of all participants and stakeholders and offering extensive treatment of practices in rapidly urbanizing countries Kevin Lynch and Gary Hack wrote the classic text on the subject and this book takes up where the earlier book left off It can be used as a textbook and will be an essential reference for practitioners Site Planning consists of forty self contained modules organized into five parts The Art of Site Planning which presents site planning as a shared enterprise Understanding Sites covering the components of site analysis Planning Sites covering the processes involved Site Infrastructure from transit to waste systems and Site Prototypes including housing recreation and mixed use Each module offers a brief introduction covers standards or approaches provides examples and presents innovative practices in sidebars The book is lavishly illustrated with 1350 photographs diagrams and examples of practice The Fundamentals of Design Management Kathryn Best,2017-11-02 The book explicitly places the principles and processes of design within the context of a business or enterprise explaining how design management can relate to the cultural environmental political and social impact of an enterprise It emphasises the inter disciplinary nature of design management and as such is of relevance to students of a number of disciplines from art and design to business marketing or media The Fundamentals of Design Management is supported throughout by a range of interviews and case studies taken from design practitioners and industry experts Green Building Trends Jerry Yudelson,2012-07-16 The green building revolution is a worldwide movement for energy efficient environmentally aware architecture and design Europe has been in the forefront of green building technology and Green Building Trends Europe provides an indispensable overview of these cutting edge ideas and applications In order to write this book well known U S green building expert Jerry Yudelson interviewed a number of Europe's leading architects and engineers and visited many exemplary projects. With the help of copious photographs and illustrations, Yudelson describes some of the leading contemporary green buildings in Europe, including the new Lufthansa headquarters in Frankfurt, the Norddeutsche Landesbank in Hannover, a new school at University College London, the Beaufort Court Zero Emissions building, the Merck Serono headquarters in Geneva, and a zero net energy all glass house in Stuttgart. In clear, jargon-free prose, Yudelson provides profiles of progress in the journey towards sustainability, describes the current regulatory and business climates, and predicts what the near future may bring. He also provides a primer on new technologies, systems, and regulatory approaches in Western Europe that can be adopted in North America, including building integrated solar technologies, radiant heating and cooling systems, dynamic facades that provide natural ventilation, innovative methods for combining climate control and water features in larger buildings, zero net energy homes built like Thermos bottles, and strict government timetables for achieving zero carbon buildings. Green Building Trends Europe is an essential resource for anyone interested in the latest developments in this rapidly growing field.

Leading the Historical Enterprise Bruce W. Dearstyne, 2014-12-16 Leading the Historical Enterprise: Strategic Creativity, Planning, and Advocacy for the Digital Age presents new ideas and strategies for leading and innovating in museums, historical societies, historic sites, and other state and local history programs. The book blends insights from the best practices of model historical programs and museums with themes from the best recent studies of leadership. This is a practical book with concrete suggestions that can be applied in just about any program setting. It covers demographics, technology, resource constraints, and other forces that are affecting the work of historical programs and museums. Developing mission and goals to keep programs responsive to changing needs, challenges, and opportunities. Effective strategies for leading and innovating to keep programs vibrant. Engaging users and audiences for our programs in new ways. Putting information technology to work and engaging users in new ways. Day to day leadership of historical programs and museums. The book will be of interest to trustees, directors, and staff of museums, historic sites, historical societies, and other state and local history programs; policy makers, e.g., legislative staff with responsibility for policy or budgets of cultural programs; professors and students of public history; libraries and other people interested in state and local history and in innovation in cultural programs.
